'GESTAPO' BILL HELD PERIL TO CONSTITUTION

Must Be Defeated, Wheeler Warns.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] blasted the administration's "Gestapo" bill again today, charging it is an attempt to "by-pass the Constitution."

In an interview the senator, who is a member of the senate judiciary committee before which the measure is pending, attacked the legislation as passed last week by the house. In a previous interview Feb. 18 with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Wheeler branded the bill "the most dangerous piece of legislation that has been presented for passage in the history of this country."

His public views on the legislation, coupled with opposition by Senators Kenneth S. Wherry [R., Neb.] and William Langer [R., N. D.], were sufficient to cause the judiciary committee to reverse its prior 4 to 2 approval of the bill Feb. 22 and to agree unanimously to bury the measure in subcommittee until the house acted.

Guards Held Insufficient.

Wheeler said today that the action of the house in tempering some provisions of the bill still are not sufficient safeguards and that the entire legislation should be defeated. The bill provides punishment up to death for what are considered "hostile acts" against the United States or her allies and up to 10 years' imprisonment, or $10,000 fine, or both, for failure to inform on persons suspected of "hostile acts."

This has been denounced as a "snooping" provision which might create a nationwide Gestapo of spies among citizens, neighbors, friends, and relatives as a result of fear of prosecution.

As adopted by the house the bill contains an amendment providing that nothing in the bill shall prevent open criticism of the administration or the federal government by citizens or newspapers and other publications.

Section Held Meaningless.

But Wheeler, considered an authority on the Constitution and the federal laws, said this would be meaningless in the application of the bill's provision against acquiring, compiling, obtaining access to, or transmitting data calculated to inform the enemy. Critics contend this might be used against newspapers because most newspapers come into possession of unprintable, confidential data during war time.

ARMY REMOVES HUGE BLOCKS OF CONCRETE IN CHICAGO RIVER

The United States engineer's office, a branch of the army engineer corps, began removing yesterday huge concrete blocks and rotting piles from beneath bridges along the Chicago river in an effort to insure safe passage of deep draft boats thru the river this summer. The obstructions, all beneath water level, were discovered when the entire length of the river was swept with a wire net a few weeks ago.

A spokesman for the army said no one had been able to explain how the blocks got in the river, but they appeared to have been under water for some time. At present, he said, the obstructions do not constitute a serious hazard, but if the river level dropped any appreciable extent deep draft boats would be in danger.

The work will force some bridges to remain open for several hours at a time, the spokesman said, but all possible inconvenience to automobile and pedestrian traffic will be avoided. The project will be paid for out of the civil works appropriation of the war department. The workers are civilians employed by the war department.

JAP PLANES SINK FOUR SHIPS OFF GUADALCANAL

Destroyer Lost by Allies in Fight.

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Four allied vessels, including a destroyer, were sunk as a result of the heavy Japanese air attack on shipping off Guadalcanal Island Wednesday, the navy announced today.

The vessels were not identified either as to name or nationality, but since most of the ships operating in the southeastern Solomons are American it was presumed that most of those lost were American.

Text of Communique.

The navy communique said:

"1. Further reports of the Japanese air attack on allied shipping in the vicinity of Guadalcanal Island on April 7 [as reported in an earlier communique] reveal that the following damage was suffered:

"[A] One destroyer damaged by bombs and later sunk while being towed.

"[B] One tanker sunk as a result of damage by bombs.

"[C] One corvette sunk as a result of damage by bombs.

"[D] One small fuel oil boat sunk.

"2. Next of kin of all casualties will be notified by telegram as soon as possible."

12 Ships Sunk, Japs Say.

Japanese imperial headquarters in Tokio had claimed the sinking of an American cruiser, destroyer, and 10 transports in the attack, and said Japanese losses were six planes which crash-dived into enemy objectives.

American plane losses in the clash, previously announced, amounted to seven. The number of enemy planes shot down was set by the navy yesterday at 37, but a communique today reduced the number to 34, basing the correction on receipt of later reports from the battle zone.

The navy disclosed that army Flying Fortresses and its own Avenger light bombers had attacked Japanese positions at Kahili in the Shortland Island area of the northwestern Solomons but that due to bad weather "observation of results was not reported."

TWO U-BOATS SUNK

LONDON, April 9 (AP).—U-boats attacking an Atlantic convoy last month sank Britain's famous hero class destroyer Harvester, the admiralty disclosed today, but the loss was avenged by the Fighting French corvette Aconit which sank two of the submarines.

Twice during the 12 hour battle with the enemy U-boats the Aconit left her position in the convoy to come to the Harvester's rescue. When the destroyer sighted the first submarine and rammed it about midnight, the French corvette turned on the raider, also rammed it and sank it immediately.

Rams, Sinks Second Sub.

Answering the Harvester's call for help the following morning, the Aconit was on the way to the scene when the torpedoes struck. Busily engaged in picking up survivors of the sinking destroyer, the Aconit sighted another U-boat which she rammed and sank.

The 1,340 ton Harvester was laid down in 1939, to be built for the Brazilian government. When war was declared, however, she was purchased by the British for service in the royal navy.

At Dunkirk Evacuation.

The Harvester went straight from commissioning to the evacuation of Dunkirk, during which she made two or three trips a day, bringing back up to 1,100 men at a time. In four days she brought out 12,000 men in addition to destroying enemy aircraft and an E-boat.

Later the Harvester went on Atlantic convoy duty and during the first two years the longest break she had in port was seven days. Twice she escorted Prime Minister Winston Churchill across the Atlantic. The admiralty communique said the Harvester was commanded by A. A. Tait.

Soldier's Masterpiece to Be Another's Work.

Donald Mackey was a little boy in Jackson school in Waukegan when he began to dream of being a great artist. Donald had little more than talent to back up his dreams.

Donald Mackey.

When he was 8 years old, his mother left the family. The boy and his father lived in poverty in attic rooms. The father forgot his woes in taverns. Donald did all the housework after school.

He was a stolid, stocky lad of Finnish ancestry. He wasn't a good student. He couldn't write a review of "Treasure Island" like his classmates.

Draws Book Review.

Fiercely independent, he turned to the medium he knew. Couldn't he draw some pictures of that story?

It was then that Miss Mina Folliard, Jackson school principal, discovered that Donald had more than average ability in art. He was encouraged to draw.

In high school Donald excelled in art and was given a membership in the Lake County Art league.

After Donald's graduation from high school misfortune struck. His father was evicted from the attic and disappeared for a time. Donald lost his home.

Friends tried to help him get work and an art school scholarship, but their efforts failed. Donald joined the National Guard in January, 1941.

Donald is 23 years old now. He is a soldier and he has little time for dreams. But the dreams of youth are a precious heritage and his stubborn spirit will not let them die.

Last week Miss Harriett B. Conolly, supervisor of art in Waukegan schools, received a letter from Donald:

"I'm enclosing a $300 money order. I would like Miss Harriet B. Conolly, 509 Julian street, Waukegan, Ill., to choose in her own way a student [girl or boy] who is interested in continuing art after graduating from school."

Roosevelt Goal of 125,000 Planes in '43 Cut to 90,000

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—America's plane production program is being revised radically downward for the second time this year, it was authoritatively learned today.

The original goal set by President Roosevelt was production at the rate of 125,000 planes a year by the end of 1943. It was found that this goal could not be met so it was reduced by 18,000 units to 107,000 planes.

At the time it was said that reduction was being made because stress was being shifted from quantity to quality. Faster and more powerful planes would be secured as a result of lowering the goals, the President said.

Goal Cut to 90,000.

Now it has been found that the 107,000 plane goal was too high and it has been reduced to 90,000 planes. Competent air experts estimate that actual production will fall short of even the new goal and a further revision to 85,000 planes may be necessary.

Production probably reached a new high in March at 6,000 planes, but it must be pushed further to meet the 90,000 plane goal or the 85,000 expectancy. December output was 5,500. This dropped 500 planes in January, but went back to 5,500 in February.

The chief reasons for the downward revision of the schedule are scarcity of basic materials, principally aluminum. There is a shortage of aluminum bars and aluminum extrusions, the heavy aluminum parts formed by machine under tremendous pressure.

Short of Instruments.

There is also a shortage of various aeronautical instruments and various plane parts. This shortage is made more acute by irregular flow of plane components due to complexity of scheduling problems of manufacture.

Another difficulty is that the army and navy order more planes than are needed or think they can get in order to spur on manufacturers, it was said. They place orders for 10,000 planes when there is only material for 8,000.

The contract usually is split between two or more manufacturers, one manufacturer to make 5,000 of the planes and getting all the materials he needs. The second gets only enough material to make 3,000 planes.

Production Delayed.

It is true the services get the 8,000 planes wanted, but the scramble delays future production of the second manufacturer.

The airplane industry is also suffering from priority difficulties altho these were supposed to have been cleaned up a year ago. At that time airplanes were getting fifth priority rank behind battleships and tanks.

As a result of complaints raised by the industry, planes were moved theoretically into first priority rank. Actually, according to men in the industry, planes are getting second place or worse in many instances.

The air production program has been retarded also, to some extent, by squabbles between the army and navy for planes. The army moved in ahead of the navy and secured production rights to most planes, particularly bombers, and has been loath to surrender any of them.

Navy Seeks More.

The navy is now agitating for the release of many of these, it was reported at the war and navy departments, and is about to secure another block of badly needed bombing planes.

The combined chiefs of staff of the army and navy and the joint chiefs of staff of Britain and the United States are working out revised schedules of requirements for the services as well as revised production totals. It is expected that lend-lease shipments of planes will be curtailed as well as deliveries to the army and navy.

Shortages at Front

New York, April 9 [Special].—Lack of spare parts has kept a "tremendous number" of planes on the ground at the war fronts, N. L. Kearney, service manager of the Curtiss-Wright corporation airplane division declared before the Society of Automotive Engineers here today.

"It is difficult to forecast the spare parts that may be needed," Kearney said, "and in actual practice on far flying fields the main supply is obtained by stripping wrecked planes."

Pointing out that "both maintenance and repair in war are usually done in nature's hangars, under all sorts of adverse conditions," Kearney continued:

"The original list of spares may have been excellent, but it did not anticipate that a supply ship might be lost and that crates of spares would be purposely buried in Libyan sands to protect them from enemy aircraft and then the crates could not be found."

The situation is being relieved, however, thru aid furnished by aircraft service representatives, Kearney indicated.

Clerks' Union Boss and Aid Facing Prison

Miami, Fla., April 9 [Special].—Max Caldwell, former racketeer boss of the Clerks union in Chicago, and his stooge and protegé, Michael Savachka, were speedily convicted by a federal court jury today of violating the selective service act by trying to hide Savachka from draft officials.

Max Caldwell [top] and Michael Savachka.

The jury deliberated only 20 minutes before returning its verdict of guilty in the case which had begun only yesterday morning.

Judge John W. Holland said he would impose sentence tomorrow morning. The convicted men face maximum sentences of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fines, or both, on the conspiracy charge and two year terms and $10,000 fines, or both, on second counts in which Savachka was charged with false registration and Caldwell with aiding and abetting him.

Denied New Trial.

After a motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment were denied, Defense Attorney Bart A. Riley declared he would appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans, La.

Caldwell, however, conceded, "I guess I got a fair trial." Neither he nor Savachka took the stand. Savachka, now a private in the army and furloughed from his Texas army post for the trial, had nothing to say.

During a recess yesterday, Caldwell denied to interviewers that he had known about Savachka's registration for the draft in Miami at a time he was being sought for evading his Chicago draft board.

"I was in Chicago," Caldwell said, "and didn't know nuthin' until it all came out in the papers."

Pleased at Publicity.

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's been after me for a long time," he added, and rather proudly recalled that "they give me and Mike almost a whole page a few days ago, pictures and everything and only one ad on the page."

The government charged that the draft fraud came about thru Caldwell's efforts to get Savachka away from Chicago, where he was wanted for questioning about the alleged $910,000 looting of the Clerk's union treasury. Savachka was then secretary-treasurer of the union and acted only on orders of Caldwell who had muscled into the union.

Savachka disappeared from Chicago on June 5, 1941, shortly after a suit for accounting of the missing funds was filed against Caldwell by rank and file members.

Hides Out 16 Months.

The treasurer was missing for 16 months, while a nation-wide search was conducted for him, until he was seized by police and FBI agents here last October.

A government witness, Dominic Messina, formerly a waiter in Caldwell's night club here, testified that Caldwell paid Savachka's room rent and gave him money on which to live, and that when Savachka's Chicago draft board began hunting him for failing to fill out a questionnaire, Caldwell said, "We're gonna register Mike at the Miami Beach draft board," which Savachka did.

$5 WEEKLY PAY BOOST GRANTED TRUCK DRIVERS

A general pay increase of $5 a week was won by 14,000 union truck drivers under a decision of the national war labor board received by union officials in Chicago yesterday.

The increase is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1943, and this accumulated increase is expected to cost the trucking industry at least $1,500,000.

The union drivers, members of local 705 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, AFL, and local 705 of the Chicago Teamsters union, independent, also won time and a half for overtime in place of the average time and one-third previously paid for overtime, and in addition, received the right to a week's vacation.

HOUSE PASSES ANTI-GANGSTER BILL, 270-107

Acts to End Crime in Commerce.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—The house today overwhelmingly approved legislation outlawing labor racketeering and extortion in interstate commerce—a law designed to clean union ranks of gangsters and other criminal elements. The bill now goes to the senate.

The vote on final passage was 270 to 107 following a series of stirring denunciations of labor violence and other abuses of the rights conferred on unions by congress. Republicans and Democrats who joined in supporting the measure emphasized repeatedly that there is nothing in the legislation that would interfere with legitimate operations of labor groups or deprive unions of their recognized rights.

Other Reforms Predicted.

It was the first battle over labor legislation in the 78th congress and the outcome was regarded as a harbinger of speedy house action of other labor reform legislation pending before various committees.

The measure defines robbery and extortion and makes these offenses punishable by a maximum of 20 years in prison and a $10,000 fine when they are practiced as an interference with interstate commerce. It imposes the same punishment for interference thru force or intimidation or threats with interstate transportation in war time of persons or property, including troops, munitions, war supplies, or mail.

Law Held Ineffective.

Need for the legislation grew out of Supreme court decision of March 2, 1942, setting aside convictions obtained in New York under the 1934 ainti-racketeering act against AFL union members who were accused of forcibly taking over the driving of out of state trucks and of using violence to collect tribute from the incoming truckers. The court held that while the government proved there was violence and threats these activities were not illegal in view of exemptions in the 1934 act accorded employés attempting to obtain "payment of wages."

This ruling was on a 6 to 1 decision with Justice James F. Byrnes, now the administration's economic stabilizer, writing the majority view. Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone was the lone dissenter, holding that the AFL truckers were in clear violation of the law on the evidence that payments were made to purchase immunity from violence.

Today the house heard a leading Democrat, Rep. Francis E. Walter [Pa.] describe the opinion as "the most unfortunate that ever came from the pen of a justice," and a leading Republican, Rep. Joseph C. Baldwin [N. Y.] describe it as a "political' opinion.

Act Now Is a Crime.

Under the house approved bill, the taking over of the trucks would constitute robbery, it was explained, while the collection of tribute would be covered by the extortion definition. Other forms of violence and exacting of money as an interference with interstate commerce would also come under the statute.

Robbery is defined as:

". . . The unlawful taking or obtaining of personal property, from the person or in the presence of another, against his will, by means of actual or threatened force, or violence, or fear of injury, immediate or future, to his person or property, or property in his custody or possession, or the person or property of a relative or member of his family or of any one in his company at the time of the taking or obtaining."

Extortion is defined as:

". . . The obtaining of property from another, with his consent, induced by wrongful use of actual or threatened force, violence, or fear, or under color of official right."

Present Laws Safeguarded.

The chamber accepted on a voice vote an amendment which provides that the measure shall not be construed as repealing or modifying any of the labor legislation already on the books, such as the railway mediation act, the Clayton act, the

OFFICIALS ACT TO PEG PRICES OF RETAIL FOOD

Include Other Cost of Living Items.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Government officials moved today to tighten their controls over prices, wages and job shifting by workers following the issuance last night of President Roosevelt's new anti-inflation order.

The President and Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes announced at a press conference that plans are being drafted to place specific dollars and cents ceilings at retail on all food and many other items affecting the cost of living. The new maximums, similar to those already announced for meat, will replace ceilings based on individual sellers' prices charged last March, and are designed to facilitate enforcement of price controls.

[Reports persist that ceilings will be placed on live hogs today. Details on page 25.]

OPA Prepares Orders.

Meanwhile, Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown disclosed that the OPA is preparing price control orders covering fresh fish, apples, and other fresh fruits—consumer items which have previously been exempt from price regulations. This will extend retail price ceilings to more than 98 per cent of the nation's food bill.

Brown, Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and their aids held a conference today to discuss methods for carrying out the President's directive.

Brown, testifying before a house committee, also said that ceilings will soon be clamped on prices paid farmers for wheat, cotton, certain oil bearing seeds, and milk for manufacturing uses. The purpose of this move, it was explained, will be to prevent rising prices for these farm products from forcing a break-thru in retail food price ceilings.

Extend Job Stabilization.

A spokesman for the war man power commission said that WMC Chairman McNutt, in keeping with the President's order, will impose job stabilization programs in virtually every industrial area thruout the country, along the lines of the program now in force in nearly 50 cities. This plan will require employers to clear all hirings thru the WMC's United States employment service.

The President's "hold the line" order directed that no further price increases, except those required by law, be granted if they would raise the lost of living; froze wages at the "Little Steel formula" level except where boosts are required to correct substandard conditions, and ordered the prohibition of job shifting solely to obtain higher wages.

Acting on the wage provision of the order, the war labor board last night telegraphed its regional boards to withhold, pending further instructions, all wage increase approvals except those clearly within the Little Steel yardstick, which permits increases up to 15 per cent above wage rates in force on Jan. 1, 1941.

Plan Ceiling Details Today.

Byrnes said the plan for new dollars and cents price ceilings on foods and many other items probably will be presented tomorrow. He said an effort will be made by OPA to reduce prices in a number of cases, in accordance with the President's order to cut prices that are excessive, unfair, or inequitable.

OPA officials said such price reductions will probably be applied to several items that are not now under price control. For example, they added, the new maximums on fresh fish and fresh fruits will probably "roll" back prices from current levels.

One such group of items known to be under scrutiny is meals served in restaurants and other institutions.

OPA officials, in explaining the plan for specific dollars and cents price ceilings at retail, said such ceilings will be applied to virtually all staple items that are more or less standardized. They said such controls would be impractical for such items as clothing, however, where there are a large number of different varieties and brands.

In the latter case, officials said, specific prices will be fixed at which the manufacturer may sell his product, and wholesalers and retailers will be permitted fixed markups over these prices. This type of control is already in effect for some products.

Brown said that no ceilings will be ordered on farm commodities until they reach parity, in accordance with the emergency price control act of last Oct. 2. The act provided that ceilings could not be imposed on farm crops at less than parity or the highest price reached between Jan. 1, and Sept. 15, 1942, whichever was higher.

Hits "Cost" Increases.

OPA officials said the new executive order will put a "brake" on the granting of price increases to businesses to compensate them for increases in labor and material costs involved in their products. Many such increases have been granted since last May when general price controls were first imposed.

Byrnes said at today's press conference he thought the principal increase in his authority, under the executive order, was the power to determine what he described as borderline or hardship cases arising in the OPA or the war labor board.

Such questionable cases, Byrnes said, will be presented to him instead of to the President. He also said his power to issue directives, as specified by the executive order, was not greater than his original authority to determine national economic policy.

President Wants More Taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt described the anti-inflation program as a four legged stool. The legs, he added, are control of wages, control of food prices, rationing, and decrease of purchasing power thru taxation and savings.

The President said that because so many people had more cash in their pockets than ever before, there was too much luxury buying. The answer to this problem, he added, is greater taxation and savings. Under questioning, he said the administration's goal for the next fiscal year is still 16 billion dollars in additional taxes.

Byrnes disclosed that he has asked Davis to review the farm labor situation, particularly the status of farm wage controls now exercised by Davis' office. The present program exempts wage controls for farm workers receiving less than $2,400 a year.

The President's order received a mixed reaction today from members of congress and farm and labor groups. Several members of congress praised the anti-inflation aspect of the move, while others said the order did not seem to add anything to controls already in force.

"I can't see that the order means anything," said Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.]. "It was my understanding that the government agencies already had full authority to control prices, wages, and hiring."

President Edward O'Neal of the Farm Bureau federation said the President's order is "hitting at agriculture again."

"I am dumbfounded," O'Neal said, "agricultural prices are not responsible for inflation."

Labor circles praised the order as it applies to price controls but showed no enthusiasm for the limitation on wage increases. A spokesman for the CIO said the new restriction on the war labor board's powers to grant pay raises came as an unpleasant surprise to labor in general.

PROSPECTS IMPROVE FOR VEGETABLE CROP, U. S. REPORTS SHOW

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—The agriculture department had good news today for housewives who have been experiencing difficulty getting fresh vegetables.

It said vegetable crops, after undergoing heavy losses from severe freezes in Florida and other southern producing areas late in February, are improving rapidly.

Acreages replanted after the February freezes should come into production about the middle of April and should provide heavy supplies about May 1, the department said.

CANAL ZONE HAS RAID TEST.

PANAMA CITY, Panama, April 8 (AP).—The entire Canal Zone from coast to coast engaged in a surprise air raid test for half an hour last night.

SEE REDUCTION SOON IN SAUSAGE POINT VALUES

Relief may be forthcoming soon for sausage makers and butchers who have complained that the ration point value on sausage is too high to permit the marketing of large supplies now threatened with spoilage.

Raymond S. McKeough, regional administrator of the office of price administration, said yesterday he had transmitted to the OPA in Washington the meat industry's protest with the recommendation of Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago area OPA director, that point values be reduced.

Mulcahy had reported April 6 that a committee of sausage makers representing 90 per cent of the Chicago industry had submitted proof that large stocks of sausage were in danger of deterioration because sales had stopped.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO PASS UP NEW EASTER OUTFIT

There will be no Easter finery for the President's wife this season.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, arriving at Chicago airport yesterday morning, en route from San Francisco, Cal., to Washington, D. C., announced her intention of foregoing a new outfit for the Easter parade. Asked whether she thought other women should follow her example, the President's wife replied, "I think that other women should get new clothes if they need them."

F.D.R. PEGS WAGE CURB, COMMENTS CHICAGO LABOR

Holds President Backs 'Little Steel' Rule.

President Roosevelt's indorsement of the "Little Steel" wage formula in his latest anti-inflation order was interpreted yesterday by Chicago labor spokesmen as his reply to organized workers' recent appeal that the formula be scrapped.

Farm leaders withheld their comment on the order until after the office of price administration and the food distribution administration acted to control farm prices, as directed by the President. Industrialists asserted that the President had implemented his earlier position on fighting inflation with a more vigorous determination that loopholes be narrowed or plugged.

Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, said he was awaiting the OPA's first move to execute the President's order to clamp ceiling prices on farm products and all other commodities affecting the cost of living.

Federal Agencies Await Orders.

Federal agencies affected by the order marked time, awaiting specific instructions from top executives in Washington on procedures and rulings that will be formulated in executing the President's program.

Reflecting the consensus of the reaction from business, labor, and industry, Daniel D. Carmell, Chicago attorney for the American Federation of Labor, asserted that President Roosevelt's directive was substantially a reaffirmation of his earlier orders and of regulations already in effect.

"I interpret the President's order as an answer to the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations, which recently appealed to him to abandon the 'Little Steel' formula as unrealistic and unfair to labor," Carmell said. "It is also a veiled reply to John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, who is asking for a $2 a day wage increase that the formula would bar.

Sees Formula Upheld.

"The President has taken the firm stand that the war labor board must not deviate from the formula, which places a ceiling on wage increases of 15 per cent over Jan. 1, 1941, levels. However, the avenue is still open to labor to obtain wage increases to erase substandard wages."

Carmell declared that the order did not prevent payment by employers of wage increases based on promotions, reclassifications, merit, seniority, or other established procedures for recognizing individual improvement or advancement.

The President's directive to "hold the line" against further price increases or boosts in general wage and salary rates brought scores of inquiries to the Chicago regional office of the war labor board. Employers and workers asked for information regarding the status of voluntary agreements on wage increases pending before the board for approval.

Robert K. Burns, regional WLB director, asserted that the board had halted approval of all wage increases not clearly within the "Little Steel" ceiling. He said the national WLB had instructed him to withhold action on petitions undecided up to 6:30 p. m. [Chicago time] Thursday, unless the increase did not exceed the "Little Steel" formula.

Operations to Continue.

Preparation and hearing of matters before the board will continue, Burns said, but no decisions will be made until directions are received in the next few days.

WLB officials asserted that the President's order apparently permitted employers to grant wage increases to workers on individual merit and promotion in conformity with established wage increase policies without getting the board's approval.

OPA BEGINS ACTION TO REOPEN POULTRY CEILING PRICE SUIT

The office of price administration acted yesterday to reopen an injunction suit against the Peter Fox Sons company, wholesale poultry dealers, by asking Federal Judge William H. Holly to vacate his order dismissing the suit against the company.

The OPA had charged the company with paying farmers more than the ceiling price for poultry. Company attorneys contended they had not been notified that there was a ceiling price until Jan. 14, when they stopped their practice.

In their motion yesterday, OPA attorneys accused the company of continuing to pay more than the ceiling price and submitted affidavits from 19 poultry dealers of Bentonville, Ark., stating the company had agreed to purchase poultry from them at 1 to 2 cents above the ceiling price since Jan. 14.

The company was given until April 19 to file an answer.

AURORA CAFES BEGIN MEATLESS FRIDAY PROGRAM

Restaurants in Aurora yesterday instituted their first meatless Friday to conserve rations. Proprietors reported "business as usual," but said they anticipate a slight decline in business on following Fridays.

Each eating place offered its patrons at least six entrees. One cafeteria listed egg omelette, mushroom omelette, halibut, perch, spaghetti, macaroni and cheese, and tomato rarebit. One of Aurora's largest restaurants listed fish, eggs, spaghetti, baked beans, and macaroni—each item served in several different ways.

Some restaurants listed chicken and turkey, but most restaurateurs reported difficulty in obtaining poultry. They attempted to remedy the poultry shortage with a greater variety of fish dishes, they revealed.

10,000 A MONTH TRY TO GET OUT OF DRAFT IN N. Y.

'Brooklyn Dodgers' Tag Pinned on Them.

24,026 Appeals Here

Since the inception of the selective service law in October, 1940, 24,026 Cook county registrants have appealed their draft classifications by local boards, Lt. Col. Victor Kleber, deputy state draft director, announced yesterday. Total registration in the county is 980,075. A registrant may appeal the classification by his local board on three grounds—conscientious objection, dependency, and employment in essential industry. Classifications based on mental or physical disabilities cannot be appealed.

BY ROY GIBBONS.

Col A. V. McDermott.

New York, April 9.—Appeals taken by New York draft registrants total 10,000 a month, according to Col. Arthur V. McDermott, director of selective service here.

So numerous have the appeals against induction become that work involved in handling them was one of the reasons why on April 1, according to McDermott, New York City became a 49th state, so to speak, with authority to direct its own induction affairs as an independent draft unit.

Other reasons for the change, McDermott said, were to speed operations and lessen the amount of correspondence which formerly had to be sent to Albany, draft headquarters for the rest of the state.

Rate Called Highest in U. S.

New York City's rate of appeal is said to be the highest in the country. It is so high in fact that McDermott said it was commented upon by other state draft directors who attended a national conference in Washington, D. C.

"Why we have it, we don't know," McDermott said, adding facetiously that he had heard some of New York's wealthier residents along Park avenue are planting mint farms atop their swanky penthouse apartments. They are growing the mint, McDermott inferred jokingly, so they can escape the draft as agricultural workers. "Of course, there's nothing to it," he said.

Mention of the mint farmers came up in connection with McDermott's revelation that some of this month's 10,000 draft appeals are coming from registrants who have bought farms to give them a 3C [agricultural deferment] status.

200 Pleas to F. D. R. Daily.

About 200 appeals are made direct to the President each day for final review, according to Walter D. Shackleton, public relations director for New York draft headquarters. Farm appeals are so numerous that those who make them have become known as "Brooklyn dodgers."

Since inception of the draft law in October, 1940, Shackleton stated New York City has had a total of 127,000 appeals.

Making New York City an autonomous draft unit, both McDermott and Shackleton say, has saved as much as two weeks' time in speeding each appeal to final decision. Prior to April 1, Shackleton said, all Presidential appeals had to be sent to Albany for review, and New York headquarters acted merely as a transfer office to see that the papers were in order.

Hire More Lawyers.

Up to April 1 New York headquarters got along with one full time lawyer and two volunteers who took care of whatever appeal work was necessary here. Today, however, under New York's independent status, Presidential appeals will be handled here by a board of five full time members and two volunteers.

Credit for streamlining the draft setup here, according to Shackleton, belongs largely to McDermott, who is a lawyer and former judge advocate of the New York National Guard, a first deputy controler for New York City, and the man generally said to have made New York's M-day a workable reality.

Mrs. Phyllis Bartley holding knife.

Mrs. Phyllis Bartley, 25 years old, 5651 South Christiana avenue, a stenographer, produced a long sailor's knife in the Superior court of Judge Joseph A. Graber yesterday to support her claims for a divorce on the ground of cruelty from Jerome J. Bartley, 29, of 705 West Garfield boulevard, a tug man. Mrs. Bartley said her husband threatened her with the knife. She asked custody of a son, Philip, 17 months old, $7.50 a week support money and a permanent injunction restraining Bartley from molesting her. She waived alimony. Judge Graber granted the decree, suggesting that Mrs. Bartley donate the knife to a collection being made for the navy.

MONTREAL, Que., April 9 [Special].—A black market which had brought about the illegal distribution of 750,000 gallons of gasoline since last September was believed to have been smashed tonight when royal Canadian mounted police seized about 40,000 genuine ration coupons stolen from the printers and arrested three men. More than 50 raids were made by the police on gasoline stations, garages, taxicab stands, and private homes.

AIR FIELD JOBS PROVIDE DRAFT HAVEN FOR 3,583

Army Civilians at Dayton Face Inquiry.

Rep. Forest Harness.

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Rep. Forest Harness [R., Ind.] reported tonight that the war department is coöperating in an inquiry to determine why 3,583 unmarried men of draft age have been able to remain out of the service as civilian employés of the army's Patterson aviation field at Dayton, O.

The investigation is part of a probe begun by a house military affairs subcommittee into complaints that draft dodgers are finding refuge as civilian employés of government agencies, including the army and the navy.

Army Asks Inquiry.

Army authorities have denied they have asked any considerable number of deferments. Harness said that as a result the army and the subcommittee are interested in finding out whether draft boards voluntarily are deferring civilians merely because of employment by the army or whether the civilians have used their jobs as grounds for obtaining deferment.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. John M. Costello [D., Cal.], asked the army for data regarding Patterson field after Harness had received several letters telling of the large number of draft age civilians there.

The army then reported the 3,583 unmarried men and 1,867 more of draft age who are married but have no children. The army said, however, it had asked deferment for only 156 of the personnel and that it wishes to know whether many deferments are being made.

Many Women Employed.

Civilian employés at the field number 29,655, of which 12,298 are women.

Harness said the war department report indicates there is a similar situation at the army's Philadelphia quartermaster depot, where 1,167 of the 15,330 civilian employés are unmarried men of draft age. He said there are 817 draft age married men without children at the depot, where 7,189 employés are women. The army said it has not asked for any deferments at the depot.

Harness, whose efforts brought the creation of the investigating subcommittee of which he is a member, said the draft classification of each civilian employé at the two army establishments will be studied.

This upset the report that Miss Russell would marry the U. C. L. A. football star "within the next 10 days." Miss Russell is vacationing before going on tour with her film, "The Outlaw." Waterfield is a reserve in the army R. O. T. C. and expects to be called to the colors in June.

SHERIFF STARTS 3 ACRE GARDEN AT COUNTY JAIL

Sheriff Peter B. Carey yesterday turned the first spadeful of soil in the county jail yard to start the jail's own war garden. The garden, occupying about three acres within high walls, is expected to supply most of the jail's fresh vegetables in season.

About 50 young prisoners, serving jail terms, were put to work on the garden. Warden Frank G. Sain said they will be regularly assigned to the job, and it will not only keep them occupied and outdoors, but help solve the food problem.

All types of vegetables except corn will be grown. Corn grows too high, explained Sain to the sheriff, and might afford a good hiding place for prisoners or for contraband intended for them.

BELIEVE POTATO CRISIS AVERTED BY PRICE CHANGE

A threatened shortage of potatoes in the Chicago market, resulting from a price ceiling differential between seed and table potatoes, appeared yesterday to have been averted by an office of price administration order removing the differential. Dealers said that altho supplies are below normal, there should be sufficient potatoes for table use as the result of the OPA move to meet consumer needs until new supplies begin arriving in volume in about three or four weeks.

Meanwhile, some confusion existed regarding the order, issued late Thursday from Washington, D. C. Notice of the action was wired to the Chicago office of the food distribution administration and the potato trade was informed immediately. The local OPA office, however, said it was instructed a short time later to "hold" the order because of the issuance of the President's sweeping order affecting prices.

Order Not Rescinded.

An OPA representative said this did not mean the potato order had been rescinded, but that apparently it is being delayed pending clarification of the President's price order. The FDA said it had not received any instructions to delay the OPA order. Potato dealers asserted they would continue to do business according to the new order until told otherwise. They added that since the OPA order reduces the seed ceiling 75 cents per 100 pounds to the table potato price level, the President's anti-inflation measure apparently would not affect it.

The Chicago potato market came to a near standstill a week ago when most jobbers refused to sign affidavits saying that any seed potatoes they purchased would be used only for planting and not for eating. Receivers were required to obtain these affidavits before selling to jobbers under OPA regulations.

Label All Shipments Seed.

The jobbers protested that since seed ceilings were higher than table maximums, growers were tagging virtually all of their shipments as seed in order to obtain the extra 75 cents per 100 pounds.

Some jobbers, while approving the order removing the differential, expressed fears that growers would stop shipping in protest against the price reduction.

Other dealers said potato growers would be obliged to ship or risk spoilage because of warm weather. Both government and trade spokesmen appealed to consumers to buy potatoes only according to needs.

ROMMEL SPEEDS RETREAT; ALLIES TAKE 12,000 MEN

Axis Gives Up Mahares, 22 Miles from Sfax.

Evacuate Officers

LONDON, April 10 [Saturday]—(AP).—Marshal Erwin Rommel has started evacuating some of his key officers and technicians from Tunisia to Messina, Sicily, the Daily Express said today, quoting London sources. The newspaper said that during the last few days ferry transport planes have been operating between Messina and the Tunis-Bizerte defense ring on a nonstop shuttle schedule. In addition to Junkers 52s, the Germans were reported using obsolete Junkers 90s and some of their new four engined transports.

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 9 (AP).—Marshal Erwin Rommel's axis forces hastened their retreat today, abandoning Mahares, 50 miles north of Gabes, and leaving nearly 12,000 troops as prisoners of the British and American forces since the 8th army's breakthru at the Wadi el Akarit last Tuesday.

Under the steady hammering of the British at their rear, the Americans, French, and British on their inland flank, and the great allied aerial fleet overhead, Rommel's beaten men were fleeing toward the port of Sfax, 22 miles on to the north, and were retreating northeastward from the inland rail point of Mezzouna, it was disclosed here.

Yanks Capture Hill.

United States troops continued to plug eastward and were reported to have captured the Djebel Mazaila, a height north of Maknassy.

The allied communique revealed that the 8th army alone had stripped 9,500 prisoners from Rommel's forces in the last five days and that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr.'s 2d American army corps had taken 1,300 more in mopping up the El Guetar sector.

[American forces pushing along the road from Maknassy to the coast were said by a British radio broadcast to be "little more than 20 miles from Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's spearhead," promising an imminent second junction between United States troops and the British 8th army.]

It was disclosed that since the opening of the air offensive on the Mareth line March 20, allied air forces operating in North Africa have shot down 302 enemy planes compared to a loss of 110 allied planes.

Destroy 130 Axis Vehicles.

There was a strong possibility that the retreating axis divisions were running short of motor transport under the destructive assaults of relays of allied bombers. It was announced that 130 enemy vehicles had been destroyed and another 200 damaged in the last two days.

[A Berlin radio broadcast of a Transocean (German) news agency dispatch said "the great superiority of the enemy in men and material is showing its effect," adding that "the detaching movement toward the north . . . to all appearances is being continued."]

The British 1st army was reported maintaining its offensive in the Mejez-El-Bab sector of northern Tunisia and to have captured 400 prisoners since the attack was opened along a 12 mile front last Wednesday. Two axis tanks were knocked out by long range artillery and the British were reported to have occupied some tactically important points. Rain and mud were hampering offensive activities.

British Bomb Sfax.

An allied communique said that British Wellington bombers attacked communication centers of Sfax and enemy transport columns.

Indication that the axis still was moving supplies across the Sicilian straits in an effort to bolster its armies for a forthcoming last-ditch stand in the Tunis-Bizerte sector was seen in an announcement that British naval motor craft had sunk one supply ship and scored torpedo hits on another in a night attack on a strongly escorted enemy convoy near Bizerte.

The British 8th army, its supply line shortened by nearly 10,000 miles since its junction with other allied forces in Tunisia, now is in position to maintain a far more stern pursuit of Rommel's forces than it has during the long chase across Libya, when even its drinking water often was hauled hundreds of miles.

Ordered Held to Jury on Threats to President

Louis Sprenzel, 55 years old, a janitor at Avondale Elementary school, was ordered held to the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of sending threatening letters to the President. His bond was set at $2,500. Sprenzel, who waived examination, lives at 2727 Belmont avenue. He has denied the charge.

YANK INFANTRY SHOWS FOE HOW TO STORM HILLS

Faces Best of Nazis in Tunisia and Wins.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN TUNISIA, April 8 [Delayed].—When the bouquets are passed around for the American successes on the djebels [peaks] and in the valleys east of El Guetar, there should be a special accolade for Johnny Doughboy, the anonymous infantryman who held the line and kept extending it slowly over some of the worst fighting land in the world.

Now that Marshal Erwin Rommel has retreated north again before standing on his final bridgehead, these American infantrymen are going to get a short rest before the next phase of the battle opens. That means a chance to catch up on sleep.

Views Captured Height.

We looked over Djebel Krekoua, which is known to some of the doughboys as Djebel Ginsberg, after the attack was finished. In many little mountain pockets straight up and down the hills we saw ample reason for any delay in taking the enemy's formidable and well manned works.

The enemy's troops were among his best, but the Yanks who stormed Djebel Ginsberg yesterday morning were pretty angry by that time.

North of this djebel in the Gum Tree valley we found some old friends today among the regiment which once held the line at Mejez El Bab. And they had also found old "friends" there, encountering the panzer [armored] grenadiers they had fought at and before Mejez El Bab.

This time the enemy yielded 32 prisoners, while getting shoved off the horseshoe shaped djebel. Early today when the Yanks arrived in Gum Tree valley after a 16 mile hike over the mountains they caught three more men from this unit which was retreating swiftly.

"Our colonel caught one himself," said the executive officer of the regiment, Lt. Col. John Williamson of Flushing, N. Y. "He was up with our reconnaissance about 3 a. m. when he spotted a motor cyclist and overhauled him in his jeep.

Downed Plane Thrills Men.

"But the biggest thrill this regiment had came last Friday when Spitfires shot down a Junkers 88 right in our front yard. We had been taking an air pasting and even the colonel danced like a kid."

Altho the final count of prisoners taken has not yet been completed, stories about prisoners have become almost legendary. Today we saw a truckload of laughing Italians driving by with their fingers raised in the "V" salute. There is the story of the tired tank trooper who was sleeping in a slit trench and was awakened by an Italian who was kicking dirt in his face. The Italian wanted to surrender. The soldier was too tired and told the Italian to go away. The Italian did, but returned with his brother and both of them, with their hands unraised, followed the American around all day until the latter finally could get them started back to the rear.

SHELLED THREE DAYS, YANKS HOLD HILL, THEN WHIP ITALIANS

WITH U. S. FORCES IN TUNISIA, April 8 [Delayed]—(AP).—A United States infantry battalion which clung to a hill position under heavy artillery and mortar fire for three days with little food and water and emerged from the ordeal with undisputed possession of a mountain and 200 Italian prisoners is back now for a 10 day rest.

Sergt. B. E. Casey.

"We moved in on the Italian flank and got between their lines and it took us three days to find out who was in the hole—them or us," said Sergt. Bradley E. Casey, 33 years old, of 442 Wellington avenue, Chicago.

Lt. Cedric Lafley, 24, of Enosburg Falls, Vt., said that on the third day "we attacked the Italians, who were unnerved by the ordeal, and we bagged 200 prisoners. By pushing them off the mountain top we got good observation points, which enabled our artillery to pave the way for our complete breakthru down the Gabes road."

AVOID POST-WAR BARGAINS NOW—LANDON WARNS

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican Presidential nominee, urged the administration tonight to proceed cautiously in adopting post-war collaboration policies at this time lest the nation find itself foreclosed to any international bargaining when the war actually ends.

The former Kansas governor arrived here this morning for three days of conferences with party leaders. He will pay a courtesy call on President Roosevelt tomorrow and leave Monday for New York for more conferences and a call on Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican Presidential standard bearer.

"We shouldn't sign any bond," he asserted, "before knowing, for example, whether we are going to underwrite the French and Dutch empires, a greater British democracy, and the partitioning of Poland and the Baltic republics. If one makes a deal now he can't go back and bargain after he has signed up."

Landon said he leaned toward the proposal of former President Herbert Hoover, under which he said there would be a temporary statement of principles and peace machinery set up now to be followed later by solution of major problems after war hates had cooled.

SURGEON RIDES BOMBER — FINDS HE'S NAZI TARGET

Flak and Axis Fighters Riddle His Plane.

AT AN ADVANCED U. S. FIGHTER BASE IN TUNISIA, April 1 [Delayed]—(AP).—Maj. John A. Woodworth is a flight surgeon and not a flyer but he went along on a bombing mission "just for the ride" and wound it up in a fashion that left even the toughest pilots shivering.

Woodworth was en route back to this advanced base where he doctors P-40 [Curtiss Warhawk] pilots, when he stopped in to visit friends at a bomber base and found them ready to start on a mission.

Chicagoan His Gunner.

"Come on and take a ride with us," said Capt. Douglas W. Spawn of Tacoma, Wash., a B-25 [Mitchell] bomber pilot. "Your outfit is going to escort us and we'll drop you off at your field on the way back." Staff Sergt. Harvey Hendon of Chicago, was the gunner of Spawn's bomber.

Not suspecting just how he might be dropped at his home field, Woodworth accepted and in his own words "more things happened to that plane than they should by any law of averages."

From the time the bomber passed a mountain range and headed with others for German airdromes it seemed to be a special target for flak. Shells ripped holes in the wings, rudder and fuselage.

Spatters Glass on Pilot.

"Flak hit the window and spattered glass all over the pilot, and me, too, because I was sitting on the floor right behind him," Woodworth related, and the B-25 crew nodded, grinning indorsement, for they enjoyed seeing any one from a fighter outfit get a real taste of what bombers have to go thru to get to their targets. "Next we were jumped by four Messerschmitt 109's, but our fighters shooed them off after they made a few passes at us.

"Then one of our bombs stuck in the rack and failed to let go, and a minute later the left motor was hit and quit on us. Finally the crew managed to kick the bomb loose but about then we got a lot more flak and our right motor began to pour oil.

"Just to make things really tough the intercommunications phones got shot up and failed to work and the hydraulics also were shot up, so while wheels could be lowered they would not lock in place."

Landing Gear Fails.

Spawn managed to bring the damaged plane back as far as the P-40 escorts' base, but it barely had touched ground when a portion of the landing gear collapsed and the plane, still traveling at high speed, swerved drunkenly in a semi-circle. One wheel snapped off and the bomber lurched toward a parked P-40, missed it by inches, and finally came to halt in a cloud of dust.

"Naturally we were afraid of fire and tried to scramble out in a hurry," said Woodworth. "But I had to take off my parachute before I could get out. I felt sorry for a crew member who had to wait for me before he too could get away."

In addition to Spawn and Hendon, the crew of the B-25 in which Woodworth rode included Lt. Roderick J. Smith, Flint, Mich., copilot; Lt. Regis J. Harrington, Rankin, Pa., navigator, and Sergt. Anthony Martin of the Royal Canadian air force, Vancouver, B. C., bombardier.

YANKS' 200 AIR ATTACKS IN DAY RIP FLEEING AXIS

CAIRO, Egypt, April 9 (AP).—In a heavy attack that lasted from dawn to dusk, planes of a single fighter group of the 9th United States air force made nearly 200 sorties yesterday.

The flyers poured their fire into everything on the move thru the forward area of the Tunisian battlefront, strafing enemy transport, personnel, and tanks.

It was announced that they definitely destroyed one tank and damaged two others, destroyed 12 heavy enemy vehicles and damaged seven others and inflicted high casualties on the enemy retreating toward the port of Sfax.

BRITISH GENERAL HAILS YANKS FOR EL GUETAR FIGHT

Alexander Praises Aid to 8th Army.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 9 [passed by censor].—Gen. Harold Alexander, allied commander of ground forces and deputy commander in chief in North Africa, today highly praised American troops for their battle at El Guetar, which kept the bulk of enemy armored forces engaged while the British 8th army was cracking Marshal Erwin Rommel's line at Wadi el Akarit.

"The Americans did a brilliant job in the El Guetar area," he said at a press conference. "Their task was to draw off as many of Rommel's reserves as possible in order to enable the 8th army to break thru at Wadi Akarit. They did it—diverting the equivalent of two panzer [armored] divisions."

Shortens Supply Lines.

It is increasingly evident now that the American action at El Guetar was more than solely a combat success, for it will permit some supplies to be brought to the 8th army from the west instead of over the long haul from Tripoli.

The El Guetar campaign could also be described as a "kick in the pants" technique, as Rommel believed the main threat was from the British to the east of him. The allied idea is to kick him in the pants and then, when he turns around, to kick him again from the other side.

"The initiative is everything in warfare," Alexander said. "Now we've got it. But we must not underrate the Germans. They are great fighters; I have respect for them. The Italians, too, are good fighters when they have a good position to hold. But, when they are flanked, the Italians have a tendency to pack up."

Also Praises French.

Alexander also singled out the French troops for praise. He said they had always been very good soldiers. Now that they are receiving the equipment they needed, they are becoming more and more an important factor.

Alexander promised newspaper men every assistance in getting more complete details of the fighting and more frequently, too. He said he regarded the press as the fourth arm in war and as important, because of its service to the public, as the other three arms—the army, the navy, and the air force. After these compliments he "mooched" two cigarets from the correspondent with a grin.

STEAL SCHOOL EQUIPMENT.

Mrs. Mary E. Sheridan, principal of Mount Vernon school at 10540 Morgan street, yesterday reported the theft from the school of three rolls of film, a motion picture screen, and a radio, all valued at $250.

NAZIS ON GUARD TO FIGHT ALLIED BLOW IN NORWAY

But It Can Be Invaded, Says Col. Lanza.

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

Three years ago, on April 9, 1940, Germany invaded Norway and within a few days occupied almost the whole nation. Within the month an invasion force of British and French troops landed at two places in southwest Norway and at Narvik, in the north, in an effort to oust the Germans.

The German attack had succeeded because it was a trick surprise. At Bergen, Trondheim, and Narvik, troops arrived in commercial ships, concealed below the decks. An agreement had been made beforehand to send the ships to load fish and the Norwegians suspected nothing when the vessels came. At Oslo, there was no fish to be delivered, and the Germans attacked it at night by sea and air and took it within a few hours.

Invasions Fail Quickly.

The allied invasions in the southwest failed within a fortnight, due to bombing of their debarkation points. The allies captured Narvik, but gave it up when their troubles started in France.

The population of Norway is about 3,000,000—too small and too scattered to seriously resist the Nazis. The country produces zinc, copper, aluminum, and the rare and valuable minerals of chromium, titanium and molybdenum. Wood, paper, fish, and agricultural products are available. Manufacturing exists and, altho it may be unwilling, the Nazis derive benefit from it.

Norwegian harbors and air fields afford bases for submarines and planes to operate in the Atlantic and attack convoys bound for north Russia. Without Norway, the axis could hardly interfere with these convoys.

Reserves Sweden for Axis.

Norway cuts Sweden off from communication with the outside world, except for the few ships permitted by the axis. It assures that the bulk of Swedish exports, including the extensive ore trade, shall go to Germany, whereas if Norway were held by the allies this probably would be stopped.

We have so widely advertised our intention of invading Europe and for so long that the axis has long been preparing to thwart our plans. It maintains a large force in Norway against a possible invasion. Divisions stationed there change places, from time to time, with others on active fronts, mainly in Russia. Divisions coming from the front recuperate in Norway. As long as Norway remains a tranquil sector, the troops might as well rest there as elsewhere. Norway does not reduce the axis fighting strength in Russia.

Invasion Harder Now.

Seizure of ports on the west coast of Norway by an invasion force will meet the same difficulties as in 1940, excessive bombing of the few and restricted landing areas. But this time the fjords are defended, and it no longer is possible to just sail in on a dark night and debark. Opposition from the time of arrival must be expected.

In 1940, roads and railroads did not extend farther north than the vicinity of Trondheim. Since then a road and railroad have been in construction to Narvik, about 400 miles away. Due to the mountains, this is a first class engineering job. At the beginning of the winter, about 100 miles more of construction remained to be completed. The Nazis hope to accomplish this by autumn, 1943. The axis will then have good communications overland to all of the west coast.

The most effective method of invading Norway would be to seize the south coast. This would, if successful, at once cut the German line of communications, isolate all Norway to the north, and open close communication with Sweden. Operations in this area would, however, be difficult, as they would be exposed to air attack from bases to the north, east, and south, while the nearest allied bases would average 500 miles away in Britain, until the expeditionary force could capture Norwegian air bases.

Other Blows Would Help.

Yet this problem must be solved if an invasion is to occur. If Norway is not invaded this year, the German hold on the country will be considerably strengthened and Norway will be more intensively connected into the axis economic sphere.

Invasions of other parts of Europe would indirectly help an invasion of Norway, provided such invasions were on a scale to force the axis to withdraw troops from Norway. If this happens, the probability of an invasion of Norway succeeding will be greatly increased.

HERO BEGS HELP TO RECOVER TWO MEDALS HE LOST

A New Zealand air hero, who spent two years helping to knock the Nazis out of the skies over Europe, appealed yesterday to a Chicagoan—name unknown—for help.

The hero, Squadron Leader A. H. Ashworth, while in Chicago on March 7, lost his small, brown crocodile Gladstone bag, containing many personal articles, and bearing only his name. He doesn't care much about the personal articles, but he does care about two medals won by him for bravery in combat. One is the DSO gold medal in the shape of a Maltese cross, dated 1942, the other a DFC silver medal, in the form of a cross, dated 1941.

Ashworth risked his life many times in winning those decorations. It is virtually impossible to replace them. Because his bag bore no address, it naturally has been impossible for the finder to return it. Here's his—or her—chance to do a patriotic and kindly act by returning the medals, at least. They can be sent to the city editor of THE TRIBUNE or sent directly in care of Group Capt. T. W. White, New Zealand air mission, Lisgar building, Ottawa, Canada.

DREAM IS OVER; LA GUARDIA BACK WHERE HE WAS

Refusal of Generalship Comes as a Jolt.

New York, April 9 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia today went about his tasks at city hall undistracted for the first time in months by visions of becoming a brigadier general in the army.

Political circles however still buzzed with discussion of the blow that had been dealt the mayor's high ambition by President Roosevelt's statement that he had no plans for nominating La Guardia for a commission. Then came Secretary of War Henry Stimson's pronouncement that there would be no commission. Only last week Presidential Secretary Stephen Early announced that the mayor soon would be in khaki.

Rumors Flying Since War.

Ever since Pearl Harbor there have been recurrent reports that the mayor was about to don a uniform. In March this year, however, speculation on the future of the mayor became rampant with the revelation that a bill had been passed by the legislature and signed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey which would enable La Guardia to maintain control of the city government in the event he went into military service.

Opponents threatened a court test of the measure's constitutionality. They claimed it violated the home rule provisions of the state constitution.

Most of the reports of La Guardia's imminent military designation emanated from Washington. One report said an order appointing him a brigadier general was awaiting official clearance.

Doubt His Confirmation.

Opposition to any such commission developed in the senate and in army circles. Sen. Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the military affairs committee, expressed doubt that La Guardia would be confirmed if nominated.

High ranking army officers were reported to have advised against the confirmation on the ground it would be detrimental to military morale.

Thru all the speculation and rumors, La Guardia remained coy, dropping several hints that he expected to leave the city soon. Frustration of his hopes are believed to have given him a severe jolt. One comment today was that La Guardia had been the victim of a "shoddy trick" by the New Deal, which had used him as a trial balloon.

Another comment was: "La Guardia appears to have been let down by the Roosevelt administration—La Guardia, who has served the New Deal so well."

La Guardia himself gave a hint of his pique today when in a speech he said: ". . . of course, I haven't anything to say outside New York City; that's been made clear."

NORSE, DANES MOURN 3 YEARS UNDER NAZI RULE

LONDON, April 9 (AP).—Norwegians and Danes in Britain today mourned the third anniversary of the Nazi invasion of their countries and proclaimed "no neutrality" after the war.

King Haakon VII. said that Norwegian forces impatiently await the day of liberation and "may it not be far off." Norwegian Premier Johan Nygaardsvold declared the Norwegian army is preparing to take a leading rôle in the reconquest of its country. King Haakon said "elements of the Norwegian army already had been in action against the enemy several times.

The Berlin radio, commenting on tomorrow's third anniversary of the overthrow of the Low Countries, boasted of Germany's defenses. "Germany stands ready to repel an invasion from behind a wall stretching from Narvik [Norway] to the Pyrenees [France]," a commentator said.

YANKS IN AFRICA WARNED TO TAKE MALARIA PILLS

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, April 9 [Passed by censor].—Beginning April 22 every American soldier in North Africa will be given four atabrine pills each week to prevent malaria. The local edition of the Stars and Stripes, United States army newspaper, in an editorial stressed the need for all to take the tablets which are a synthetic substitute for quinine.

"Every soldier should be aware that in becoming a malaria casualty thru neglect of this precaution, he will be fully endangering his healthy neighbor because of his own infection and also aiding the enemy," the editorial said. "Remember your foe is also subject to the same malarial handicap. The side which combats the disease most effectively has the best chance of winning this campaign."

The editorial warned against a repetition of the epidemic at Salonika, Greece, in 1916, when an entire allied army was immobilized by malaria.

ALLIED AIRMEN BLAST JAP BASES IN NEW GUINEA

Buildings Set on Fire; Ships Strafed.

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, April 10 [Saturday]—(AP).—Six Japanese planes have been destroyed in an allied air raid on Madang, New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today. Madang is on the north coast of New Guinea, 350 miles northwest of the allied base at Port Moresby.

"In a successful coördinated surprise attack just after dawn, our escorted medium units and long range fighters bombed and strafed the airdrome, town, and dock area from low level," the communique said.

"This was followed by heavy bomber attacks.

Bombs Start Big Fires.

"Six aircraft, two bombers and four fighters, and field installations were destroyed on the ground, anti-aircraft positions were silenced and huge fires with heavy explosions were started in the wharf area. They were still burning fiercely when our aircraft departed.

"Photographs taken later in the day revealed smoke and flames rising 3,000 feet in the air. Sweeping on up the coast, our fighters strafed buildings and surface craft, inflicting heavy damage.

"Buildings were set afire at Alexishafen [just north of Madang on Astrolabe bay] a launch and five loaded barges were strafed, one barge bursting into flames, with two others left sinking.

"In addition, the powerhouse, sawmill area, and enemy headquarters building were left burning. In these attacks, 63,000 rounds of cannon and gunfire were expended in strafing. Heavy anti-aircraft fire was met but there was no attempted interception. All our planes returned."

Strafe Beach Area.

Southeast of Madang at Finschhafen on Huon peninsula, heavy bombers came in low to strafe the beach area. Fifteen miles south of Salamaua at Mubo, toward which allied ground troops have been pushing, allied planes made seven bombing runs at 18 strafing passes over Japanese positions.

For the second straight night, allied bombers returned to the area of Kavieng, New Ireland, where a dozen Japanese ships recently were sunk or probably sunk, and loosed their bombs on the airdrome.

To the northwest of Australia, medium allied bombers fired beach supply dumps at Keaukwa, Dutch New Guinea.

Dobo, on the Aroe Islands north of Australia, was bombed by a single medium bomber. One allied plane also bombed Saumlaki on the Tanimbar Islands, also north of Australia, striking at the harbor area.

GEN. MacARTHUR SAYS: LET'S GET ON WITH THE WAR

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, April 9. — Dispatches announcing the war department order forbidding officers in active service to engage in political activity and concerning the army regulation which retires officers at 64 has caused amazement thruout Australia.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, questioned about the no politics order, said: "Let's get on with the war."

The dispatches telling of the war department's orders were widely printed in Australia, thus bringing up issues which Australians, who supposed MacArthur to be commander in chief in the southwest Pacific until the war is won, did not dream existed.

When MacArthur on Oct. 29 disavowed any political ambitions—"I started as a soldier, I shall finish as one"—his statement received wide circulation here.

The possibility that the general would be forced to retire next Jan. 26 on reaching the age of 64 had never occurred to any one here. The Australians now view that possibility with some apprehension.

CRACK CHINESE TROOPS RETAKE STRATEGIC HILLS

CHUNGKING, China, April 9 (AP).—Crack Chinese troops recaptured a strategically important hill which had been lost in hand-to-hand fighting with several thousand Japanese troops supported by planes and tanks, Chinese dispatches said today in reporting engagements which had been raging for more than 10 days west of the Tungpu railway in southwest Shansi province.

Another eminence which the Japanese tried to take with more than 1,000 troops changed hands seven times in one day, but finally the Chinese flag crowned the summit, the dispatches added. Three to four hundred Japanese were reported killed or wounded in the battle.

WAR? WELL, YES, SIR; HIS 4 SHIPS ALL WERE SUNK!

Illinois Boy Home to Take Up Farming.

Pleasant Plains, Ill., April 9 (AP).—A 19 year old veteran of the war, honorably discharged because of injuries after four ships had been blown from under him, plans a farming career at his home near here, but he isn't sure he'll find it exciting enough.

Richard Witt, gunner's mate third class, told of his experiences reluctantly at a Sangamon county war bond rally.

"How'd you happen to become separated from your first ship, son?" asked John L. Taylor of Springfield, co-chairman of the rally.

"Well, sir, that was the carrier Lexington," Witt replied. "It was blown up."

That's all. No details.

One Down; Three to Go.

"And then what?" asked Taylor.

"Well, sir, later I was aboard the Yorktown, another carrier, when it was sunk."

"And then?"

"Next was the carrier Wasp," said Witt. "I was on it only three days before it went down."

"Then?" pressed Taylor.

"Well, next it was a destroyer that picked us up—I can't mention its name. It was bombed and sunk and I swam about 45 minutes to the coast of Guadalcanal. An air raid was in progress, and I hardly got ashore before some concussions picked me up, squeezed my insides, and tossed me to the ground unconscious. A fine way for a sailor to get hurt!"

And So to a Hospital.

"I think so, too," said Taylor. "What happened next?"

"Not much, sir. They took me to a first aid station on Guadalcanal and then to a hospital at Pearl Harbor."

That's all any one could pry from Witt.

2,500 HAWAIIAN JAPS IN U. S. TO TRAIN FOR ARMY

San Francisco, Cal., April 9 (AP).—The arrival of 2,500 Japanese-American soldiers from Hawaii on their way to Mississippi to join the army's recently organized Japanese-American combat team was announced tonight by the war department.

The contingent immediately boarded special trains. For many of them it was their first view of the mainland as well as their first trip on a train. The group is composed of volunteers carefully selected out of more than 10,000 applicants.

In Mississippi, the Hawaiian contingent will join the same number of United States mainland Japanese-Americans to form a new combat team. This fighting unit will contain the usual components of infantry, field artillery, engineer, and medical personnel.

In addition to the enlisted personnel, many of the officers will be Japanese-Americans.

Short, But Strong, Quake Rocks Lima, Peru, at Noon

LIMA, Peru, April 9 (AP).—A strong earthquake of short duration rocked Lima in midafternoon today.

2 Others Rescued

Five small children were removed safely from their parents' apartments last night when fire broke out in a three apartment building at 3548 North Halsted street.

The three children of John L. Grutter—Martin, 5 years old; Karl, 2, and Gladys, 3 months—were taken from a second floor apartment by their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Hutton of Theresa, N. Y. Grutter was at work in a war plant and his wife, Gladys, is in Belmont hospital. Mrs. Harold Schober, at home in her first floor apartment, led her children, Herbert, 6, and Clifford, 3, to safety.

Firemen said the fire started in the Grutter apartment from a defective flue above a gas burner in a fireplace. The damage was estimated at $250.

TELLS HOW 11 PT BOATS WHIPPED 20 DESTROYERS

San Francisco, Cal., April 9 (AP).—Eleven PT [fast motor torpedo] boats waded into a flotilla of 20 Japanese destroyers off the Solomons one night two months ago and won.

Today three young heroes of the battle were here to tell the tale. Their story was summed up by Charles Tufts, 31 years old, chief boatswain's mate:

"Eleven of our PT boats met 20 destroyers. There were no other combat ships in the immediate area. Three destroyers were left burning and exploding. The Japanese went away. We didn't leave until then."

Tufts, of Batesville, Ind., was accompanied at a naval press conference by two squadron mates—John D. Legg, 29, chief quartermaster, and Arthur Stuffert, 30, chief machinist's mate. They participated in at least 18 engagements in the Solomons. Their squadron is credited with sinking six destroyers, a cruiser, and submarine. All three are recovering from malaria.

ADMITS STEALING $8,000 IN CHECKS FROM MAILBOXES

Clarke Vincent Harrison, 30 years old, was arrested by Rogers Park police in his apartment at 1052 Sheridan road last night as an alleged mail box thief. He is married and father of two small boys.

Detectives William Owens, William Ford, and Morgan Gardner quoted Harrison as saying that in recent months he had rifled 200 apartment mail boxes and stolen checks amounting to $8,000, which he cashed.

Police said that Harrison was released from the Bridewell on June 2, 1942, after he had served six months on a confidence charge.

FIRES ON ROBBER PAIR; SUSPECT FOUND WOUNDED

A few minutes after Traffic Policeman Francis R. Maher had fired several shots last night at two Negroes who attempted to strong arm him at the rear of his home at 3012 Warren boulevard, William Isom Lockhart, 25 years old, Negro, 2031 Maypole avenue, was found shot in both legs in front of 3015 Washington boulevard.

Policeman Maher said he believed Lockhart was one of the men who tried to rob him. The wounded Negro was taken to the Bridewell hospital.

LUCKY SOLDIER OR SAILOR WILL RECEIVE WATCH

Kate Smith will present a watch to the 5,000,000th soldier or sailor to visit the Auditorium Service Man's center at 11 o'clock this morning. Mayor Kelly and Mrs. Kelly will join Miss Smith in the ceremony.

Miss Smith and her radio company arrived yesterday morning from New York. They were met by representatives of the army. She presented her news broadcast at 11 a. m. from WBBM studios and her variety program last night at Fort Sheridan. The evening show was presented for two soldier audiences—the first at 7 p. m., with a repeat broadcast for the west coast at 11 p. m.

Miss Smith will leave over the week-end for Hollywood, where she is to appear in the movie version of Irving Berlin's all-soldier show, "This Is the Army."

$15,000 IN LOOT OF BURGLARS SEIZED IN FLAT

Three patrol wagons were used last night to remove $15,000 worth of loot from burglaries which police found in an apartment at 4615 St. Lawrence avenue. They made the discovery after arresting a Negro youth as a burglary suspect and said they believed the articles were stolen in a series of 35 burglaries in the south shore district.

Included were 11 fur coats, dozens of radios, suits, dresses, overcoats, cameras, guns, and household furnishings. All were taken to a vault in the Wabash avenue station pending identification by the owners. Police declined to disclose the name of the youth seized, because they said it might interfere with the arrest of his accomplices.

PROTEST STATE CLASSIFICATION IN MAN POWER

Directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' association issued a statement yesterday declaring unwarranted the recent action of the war manpower commission in placing certain Illinois areas in groups I. and II. on the premise that there was or would be in the immediate future a man power shortage in those areas. The statement charged the commission's action restricted the awarding of government war production orders in the areas with consequent loss in opportunities for employment for Illinois workers, and recommended that the commission submit plans for any similar future action in Illinois to the area man power labor-management advisory committee for its consideration and action.

1,200 NAZIS DIE IN HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT IN RUSSIA

LONDON, April 10 [Saturday]—(AP).—Russian troops charging out of their defenses near Balakleya, 35 miles southeast of Kharkov, killed 1,200 Germans yesterday in hand to hand fighting, Moscow announced early today.

One Red army unit operating south of Izyum, 27 miles southeast of Balakleya, also "pressed the enemy back somewhat and improved its positions," said the midnight communique recorded by the soviet monitor. The Germans left 120 dead on the battlefield in this action, as well as three destroyed tanks, two mobile artillery pieces, and a six barreled mortar.

Germans Retreat.

The Russian thrust south of Balakleya occurred after the Germans hurled three infantry battalions and 20 tanks against the Russian Donetz river line.

The Russians said they pinned down the enemy troops in front of their lines, then counter-attacked to inflict heavy losses and force a Nazi retreat.

A noon bulletin yesterday said the Germans had lost more than 450 troops in these two sectors in operations extending thru Thursday night.

Reds Improve Positions.

The midnight communique said soviet troops again had improved their positions on the central front. There sporadic artillery duels and scouting operations were carried out in an area 32 to 50 miles east of the German base of Smolensk, which is 230 miles west of Moscow.

In the delta of the swollen Kuban river in the western Caucasus, the Russians said that they consolidated recent gains but that in most sectors heavy rains made operations difficult.

[The Germans said only local fighting was reported from Russia. Long range guns were said to have shelled Leningrad, and the communique claimed two Russian battalions of about 1,600 men were annihilated in mopping up operations on the central Donetz.]

BLAME BRITISH WORK POLICY AS 9 FIRMS CLOSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 9.—The government's action in transferring labor and virtually closing up several small and medium sized manufacturing firms has drawn a protest by the Engineering Industries association, it was disclosed today. Nine such firms recently closed down in Luton following cancellation of a contract for munitions of which an ample supply now exists, it was said.

In a letter to the production ministry, the association said "widespread anxiety" was felt by engineering firms, as a result of which they are tending to seek contracts only for work which is not likely to become superfluous.

In reply, the production ministry said changes in the munitions program affect only a small percentage of engineering firms of the country and stressed there "is no question of a general reduction in production.

BRITISH RAIDERS BATTER COLOGNE FACTORY AREA

Night Bombers Back Over Nazi Targets.

LONDON, April 10 [Saturday]—(AP).—Royal air force bombers returned to Germany last night to keep up a new 'round-the-clock blasting of the reich after twilight raids by swift Mosquito bombers on the Cologne area and daylight attacks on supply trains in France, it was announced today.

The targets for last night's attack were not announced immediately. Thursday night the bombers raided the Ruhr industries, 21 bombers failing to return from the mission.

No planes were lost yesterday in the sweeps, which lasted from morning to dusk and ranged from Le Havre, France, to the Rhine river.

Locomotives Attacked.

"During the day aircraft of the fighter and army coöperation command damaged several locomotives and other targets in northern France," the air ministry said. "This evening Typhoons and Spitfires on offensive patrol over the Strait of Dover destroyed four enemy fighters. At dusk Mosquitos of the bomber command attacked industrial objectives near Cologne."

The R. A. F.'s big raiders fought their way thru high winds and icy clouds to unload two-ton bombs and thousands of incendiaries on Germany's industrial Ruhr valley yesterday.

London Has Raid Alarm.

Air raid warnings sounded in London shortly before noon yesterday, but only one enemy plane appeared. There were no reports of bombs being dropped. The capital had its last daylight raid March 12.

Four Focke-Wulf 190s bombed and machine gunned a southeast coast town at dusk, causing several casualties.

INDIANS' FEARS OF U. S. STIRRED BY F. D. R. ENVOY

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW DELHI, India, April 9.—The approaching departure for Washington, D. C., of President Roosevelt's personal representative, William Phillips, inspired the Moslem league organ, Dawn, today to reiterate Indian suspicions of American designs on this part of the world.

Dawn was mildly sarcastic about Phillips acting as a messenger boy, coming into India Jan. 8, and now going back home to report. The newspaper said "American interest in India has been particularly marked lately, but early beliefs in American professions of freedom and democracy are slowly giving way to fears in India of a triumphant American imperialism in the post-war era."

Indian disillusion with the United States, according to Dawn, is less on account of America's inability to give India independence than because "of the prospects of economic servitude inspired by uncertainties of the lend-lease agreement between United States and London."

Goods received under the agreement, Dawn said, are "tentatively and, it is feared, permanently debited in the Indian taxpayer."

BELGIUM BUYS WHEAT FOR DAY OF LIBERATION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., April 9.—Purchase by the Belgian government of 7,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was announced in the house of commons today by J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce.

The Belgian government will ask delivery "as soon as part or whole of Belgium is liberated," he said. The first shipment of 50,000 tons will be made available within 10 days after demand, and the remainder shipped within two or three months.

"At the present time the purchase would cover the consumption in bread for 2¼ months for the whole of Belgium," MacKinnon continued. The sale price was 90 cents a bushel at Fort William, with Belgium to pay four-fifths cent a month per bushel carrying charges until the grain is required in Belgium.

Reds Climb 18,471 Foot Peak; Seize Nazi Banner

MOSCOW, Russia, April 9 (AP).—A soviet expedition headed by Alexander, Gusev, well known Alpinist, has torn down the Nazi banner hoisted by German troops last August over Mount Elborus, 18,471 foot high peak in the Caucasus, and replaced it with the Red flag, it was announced today.

AGREE ON PLANS TO SAVE PRIVATE FLYING SCHOOLS

Will Release Planes to Civilian Students.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Civilian flying students will be permitted to continue their studies and many private aviation training schools will be saved from extinction, Sen. Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] announced tonight, under an agreement which he has arranged with the civil aeronautics administration and the war production board.

The Nevadad senator said the two agencies have agreed to release some of the private training planse which were recently frozen by the army and the navy at the suggestion of the CAA.

Private Schools Periled.

The freeze order originally emsome of the private training planes in the United States. When the army and navy selected 250 colleges for training flyers, it was decided that all the planes would be required.

This meant that many private flying schools would have to go out of business unless they were situated near enough to the colleges that they might get government contracts for training flyers. It also meant the end of training for civilian students, many of whom were unable to meet army standards but hoped to apply their aviation training to some war use.

Protests began to arrive by the basketful at the headquarters of the senate appropriations subcommittee which is in charge of senate appropriations for civil aviation.

Sen. McCarran and his subcommittee members took the matter up with the WPB and CAA. Sen. McCarran said an agreement was reached today for the release of a substantial number of training planes.

Must Show Aptitude.

The services reserved the right to ban students from civilian training unless they show an aptitude which will make them available for duty with the army and the navy, the senator said.

Sen. McCarran also reported that he is instituting a movement intended to provide flying training for women. Experience has shown, he said, that women make excellent flying instructors, and they could be useful to both the army and navy as instructors and as noncombatant flyers.

He disclosed in addition that his committee plans to come to the rescue of more than 6,000 civilian flying students who he said have been studying aviation at their own expense on the promise of civilian jobs with the army.

Let Down by Army.

Many of these students were not qualified for active duty. But Sen. McCarran said they were encouraged by the army and the CAA to study aviation with the prospect that they would be given jobs at army pay in the aviation field.

Some of the students gave up jobs or businesses, Sen. McCarran said, to take the training. But the army failed to keep its agreement about putting them to work. The Nevadad senator said the navy had a similar agreement, but that it gave the jobs it had promised.

At a hearing today, he explained, the subcommittee decided to introduce legislation to employ these students in the army and make their pay retroactive to last Dec. 15.

YANKS LIVE IN RUSSIA FOR 7 MONTHS ON YAK, SOUP, CAVIAR

A PORT IN SCOTLAND, April 9 (AP).—A group of American seamen, stranded in Murmansk and Archangel, Russia, for seven months while their ship was repaired, lived on a diet made up mostly of yak meat, soup, and pressed caviar. The sailors now are here.

"The Russians like Americans altho they don't know much about us," said H. D. Fouche of Columbus, Ga., one of the men. "Soviet soldiers would come up to us and ask, 'Amerikanski?' And we'd answer, 'da da' [yes] and the Russians would smile and say, 'tanks? bombers?'"

Another member of the group was L. D. Hall of St. Louis, Mo. The Americans said they helped to fight fires caused by German air raids on Murmansk.

BLACK MARKETS BLAMED ON OPA AT MEAT INQUIRY

Assailed for Failure to Solve Problem.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on page 10.)

Washington, D. C., April 9.—The black market in meat is a baby that belongs on the doorstep of the office of price administration, Rep. Walter C. Ploeser [R., Mo.] told the Patman small business committee of the house today.

Rep. Ploeser made his accusation during a public hearing by the committee, in which the star witnesses were Chester C. Davis, new food administrator, and Prentiss M. Brown, OPA chief.

Chairman Wright Patman [D., Tex.] and other members of the committee pressed the two agency heads for an answer to the question of why there had been eight months of delay in solving the meat packing and distribution problems.

Administrators "Hopeful."

The congressmen received no direct explanation, but Davis and Brown both gave this statement by way of assurance:

Their agencies are coöperating, and they are hopeful that rationing will end many of the evils.

Thomas I. Emerson, associate general counsel for the OPA, tried to convince the members that the black market is being brought under control. But Wilbur La Roe Jr., general counsel for the National Meat Packers' association, read the committee a grave warning from an office of war information publication of Wednesday regarding the growth and terrorism of the black market in meat.

The publication was Victory, a news pamphlet giving information about the OPA and OWI, which is not to be confused with the OWI overseas magazine of the same name. One instance cited was the shooting of cattle by cattle rustlers who butcher them on the spot.

Blamed on Ceiling Policy.

Rep. Ploeser termed the black market the OPA's baby during questioning of Emerson.

"Did the price squeeze cause the black market?" the Missouri congressman asked.

"It contributed," Emerson replied. "The black market was caused by price ceilings, perhaps."

"The OPA mothered it," Rep. Ploeser commented. "That brings the child to the doorstep of OPA."

Chairman Patman opened the meeting with the charge that the evils of the black market were due to failure to place a ceiling on live meat animals and provide dealers a price ceiling that would give them a reasonable profit. He warned that several hundred packers and meat processers would be forced out of business unless the situation is remedied.

Davis promised to put a ceiling on live animal prices if necessary, but told the committee:

"God knows I don't want to do that."

Davis asserted that rationing will solve many meat problems when given time for a fair trial, and urged the impatient congressmen:

"Just be patient."

"Have you in mind any personnel changes?" asked Patman.

Brown answered that he is having a survey made.

"Our people," Chairman Patman said, "have discovered that a few of your personnel are responsible for the rules and regulations that have caused so much trouble.

"I think that those who won't correct their mistakes should be removed. There are about four people in the meat packing division who have caused all the trouble."

YOUTH VANISHES FROM TUGBOAT NEAR OTTAWA

Theodore Maass, 18 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Maass, 9411 South Laflin street, was reported missing and presumably drowned in the Illinois river between Ottawa and Marseilles yesterday. He was cook's helper on the tug North Shore operated by the John I. Hay barge lines, 332 South Michigan avenue, and was last seen standing on the tug's galley as the boat went thru the Marseilles lock. He was missing when it reached Buffalo Rock, three miles west of Ottawa. Capt. Henry Thomas Huler of Beardstown, is skipper of the tug.

years without the necessity of a bill of this kind, which is bound to have its effect in intimidating newspapers and preventing free expressions by newspapers," Wheeler said.

"This bill is an attempt to by-pass the Constitution of the United States. No complaint has been made or could be made that during the last war we were unable to get at saboteurs, seditionists, and those guilty of treason.

Demands to Know Reason.

"Why all these demands now by the attorney general for this most stringent law, fixing a death penalty in cases where a working man might accidentally break or destroy some machine? If they could find one witness willing to testify falsely against him or on some remarks he had made he'd not only be tried for sabotage but in times of hysteria could be tried by a jury and sentenced to be hanged.

"I'm for preventing saboteurs and seditionists, but no legislation of this kind is needed. We have plenty of laws on the statute books at the present time to deal with this subject. The requirement that you have to prove intent to commit a hostile act doesn't mean very much because intent can be proved from a lot of circumstantial evidence, making it a question of fact for the jury."

Wheeler then referred to the government's assertion that the public must trust the attorney general and the prosecutors not to abuse these extraordinary powers.

"Those of us here in Washington know how the laws upon the statute books dealing with attempts to break down the morale of the army have been misinterpreted and abused by William Power Maloney, who was the special assistant to the attorney general in handling the grand jury and trial of cases," he said.

"He was criticized severely by the Supreme court of the United States in the Viereck case. If that were a case tried outside of Washington perhaps it could be said that the attorney general knew nothing about his assistant's abuse of his temporary power, but these abuses happened right under the nose of the attorney general of the United States.

Charges Lack of Confidence.

"This has created a lack of confidence in the handling of some of these prosecutions by the department of justice. I repeat, there's no need for this legislation and it should be defeated."

Sen. Frederick Van Nuys [D., Ind.], chairman of the judiciary committee, said the house bill as approved will be referred to the subcommittee studying the senate bill and that the committee probably will decide next week whether to hold hearings on the legislation.

He said the attorney general and the solicitor general had appeared before the committee in executive session. Van Nuys said he doubted whether there would be further hearings and that he expected to bring the legislation to the senate floor soon.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR REPORTS ON RATIONED FOODS

Retailers, wholesalers, and processors of processed foods, and industrial users of rationed foods, must complete their inventory registrations with local ration boards by tonight, Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago metropolitan director of the office of price administration, noted yesterday.

The users must report the ration point value of sales during March, and the point value of stocks on hand, and on these reports the OPA will base allotments of new supplies. The usual period of allotments is two months, but it is longer in some instances.

The fuel oil coupon for period No. 4, valid for 11 gallons, expires Monday, April 12, Mulcahy pointed out.

Refugee Parley Expected to Open Within a Week

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today indicated that the conference at Bermuda between the United States and Great Britain on the refugee problem probably will begin within a week. He said he expected to be able to announce the names of the American delegation within the next day or two.

HOUSE PASSES BILL OUTLAWING LABOR RACKETS

Votes 270-107 to Curb Extortion, Robbery.

Norris-La Guardia act, and the national labor relations act.

But, first, it rejected a somewhat similar amendment offered by Rep. Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.], an opponent of the bill, after charges that it represented an attempt to "emasculate" the bill on a pretext of changing it only slightly. Rep. H. Streett Baldwin [D., Md.] asserted that the CIO was in favor of the Celler amendment admittedly because the bill would be meaningless if it was adopted.

"The CIO must have had some good legal advice before taking that stand," he observed.

Loophole Explained.

The Celler amendment provided that all labor activities recognized as legal in existing law would be legal under the bill. Members asserted that this would include the very abuses which they were seeking to outlaw as well as legitimate activities.

"This is a trick," asserted Rep. Hobbs. "Almost any crime is perpetrated by some one engaged in an otherwise lawful activity. If a striker commits rape, or a collective bargainer commits murder, or a peaceful picket commits robbery should he not be punished for his crimes? The answer to that is the answer to this amendment."

"The author of the amendment is opposed to the bill," said Rep. William M. Whittington [D., Miss.]. "He cannot defeat it, so he would nullify it. We might as well say nothing in the bill shall interfere with rights of robbers and gangsters."

The Celler amendment was defeated on a teller vote, 167 to 126.

House members were frank in assertions that the bill would stamp out violence and other disorders practiced by some labor groups. And they were bitter in criticism of labor leaders generally for opposing the bill on the ground that it would disrupt legitimate union activities.

NEVADA COURT GRANTS DIVORCE TO MRS. BROOKS

Reno, Nev., April 9.—Mrs. Gertrude Ackerly Brooks, wife of United States Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], was granted a divorce today on charges of cruelty. Details of the charge were not outlined in the complaint filed earlier in the day. Mrs. Brooks came here six weeks ago.

She said public service demands on the senator's time made it impossible to continue the marriage. They were married in St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 26, 1920.

The court approved an agreement providing for the support and maintenance of Mrs. Brooks and the couple's son, Russell, 19. Hearing of the case was private.

COOLIDGE BUST IN CAPITOL SHY HALF OF AN EAR

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—The capitol's bust of Calvin Coolidge is minus half an ear, and Rep. James M. Curley [D., Mass.] thinks something should be done about it at once.

Curley wrote to David Lynn, architect of the capitol, asserting that:

"I noted that some ear bender succeeded in either talking or knocking off half of the left ear of the bust. . . . .

"Either the ear should be restored at once or in the event that your department lacks the necessary funds, it would be wise to proceed in conformity with the Coolidge economy policy and knock off the other half of the right ear, but in any event it should be done at once, since it is an injustice to the memory of a truly great American to have him appear with but one and a half ears."

Curley, like Coolidge, once was governor of Massachusetts.

CALLS FAHRNEY DIVORCE HERE POSSIBLE FRAUD

Judge to Probe Heiress' Story of Beatings.

The madcap adventures of Merry Fahrney, patent medicine heiress, took a more serious turn last night when it was disclosed that she had obtained a quick action divorce here from her fifth husband, a Swedish born New York steak house waiter, and that Judge Rudolph F. Desort of the Superior court will investigate the divorce for possibility of fraud.

Questions that remained to be answered as Merry sulked in her luxurious new home in the Palermo residential district of Buenos Aires, Argentina, were:

1. Was Merry's marriage on Nov. 14, 1941, to Nils Kurt Holm, the Swedish waiter, really a marriage in view of the fact that Holm declares he received $1,500 for going thru the ceremony, never lived with his wife, and was told she wanted to marry him only to travel south on his Swedish visa when she couldn't get a passport?

2. Was the divorce a fraudulent one inasmuch as Merry gave the fictitious name of Mary Holm, testified to beatings by the husband who said he never saw her after the ceremony, and may have fibbed about her residence?

3. Was the $1,500 marriage deal, the traveling expenses to Cheraw, S. C., where she and Holm were married, and the subsequent divorce here Nov. 25, 1941, so much wasted money and effort for Merry, inasmuch as attorneys agree that she couldn't change her citizenship by marrying a Swede, and obtaining a passport on his citizenship probably would constitute a violation of law?

If Holm's story is accepted as true, Merry at least achieved her objective. Her American passport was picked up and she was refused another one, but after marrying Holm she was able to make her way to Mexico, Brazil, and later to Argentina where she wanted to be.

Calls Self Mary Holm.

Merry fraternized with Nazis in the United States before the war but yesterday she denied rumors that she had gone to Buenos Aires to be near Herbert von Strempel, ex-attaché to the German embassy in Washington.

Court records here disclosed yesterday that Merry gave the name of Mary Holm, 117 West Van Buren street, which is the Fort Dearborn hotel, when she came before Judge Desort for an uncontested divorce.

She testified that she had lived in Chicago all her life. She was a resident of Oak Park, where the wealthy Fahrney family lived for many years, but in the divorce from her fourth husband, Count Oleg Cassini, she testified that she was a New York resident with an apartment on 5th avenue and a suite in a fashionable hotel.

Woman Verifies Story.

She told Judge Desort that her husband beat her on two occasions, Nov. 14 and 15, 1941, and a witness, Maria Rush, whose address was given only as 220 Bradners, New York, testified she saw Holm strike his wife in the Woodmere hotel, New York.

Holm, however, said that on the return trip from Cheraw, Nov. 15, Merry stayed alone in her compartment on the train, that he left her and her "manager" at the railroad station and never saw her again.

In view of these statements Judge Desort said that he would investigate the divorce and that if he finds a fraud has been perpetrated on his court in any phase of the case he promised to take "appropriate action."

He said that according to published accounts it would appear that the marriage was not contracted "in the spirit of marriage" or in good faith.

Ruling Awaited

JUNE KNIGHT.

Little Rock, Ark., April 9 (AP).—Arthur Arden Cameron, 42 years old, wealthy oil man, will learn next week whether he can continue with his Arkansas divorce suit against former Movie Actress June Knight.

Chancellor Frank H. Dodge announced after a hearing yesterday he would not rule before next Tuesday on Miss Knight's motion to quash the suit and on Cameron's demurrer to her motion. Neither principal was present at the hearing.

Cameron charged that his 30 year old wife "absented herself in the company of other men for unexplained purposes and upon her return would be in an intoxicated condition and her attire disheveled." He charged her with rudeness, unmerited reproach, contempt, and studied neglect. Cameron and Miss Knight were married April 24, 1938, at Beverly Hills, Cal. Her attorneys said it was her second marriage and Cameron's third.

F.D.R. APPROVES PAY INCREASE IN POSTAL SERVICE

$300 a Year Boost Is Provided.

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—President Roosevelt today signed a bill providing for pay increases for postal employés, effective until June 30, 1945.

An average increase of $25 per month or $300 per year is provided for postal employés in the field service with a provision that those paid on an hourly, fee, part time, or per diem basis, together with 4th class postmasters and special delivery messengers, shall get an increase of 15 per cent, or not over $300 a year extra.

Applies to 3d Class Also.

The percentage increase for the 4th class postmasters and special delivery messengers also applies to clerks in 3d class postoffices, charmen and charwomen, substitute and temporary employés clerical-mechanical employés, skilled tradesmen in the mail equipment shops and rural delivery carriers serving one triweekly routes.

Rural delivery carriers serving two triweekly routes are on a full time basis and come under the provisions of the bill providing for an average increase of $25 per month.

1½ Million More Get Raises.

The senate passed and sent to the house today legislation extending to 1½ million government workers pay increases totaling about 300 million dollars.

Asked by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] during the debate whether the bill collides with President Roosevelt's order forbidding wage increases above the "Little Steel" formula, Sen. James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], sponsor of the measure, declared:

"This in no way violates the President's new order. There is nothing in it at variance with his message."

Negro Leader Calls Lucas Biased on Union Bill Vote

Washington, D. C., April 9.—Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro council and president of the United Government Employés, today accused Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] of biased action in ruling against a proposed anti-discrimination amendment to the government pay raise bill passed today by the senate.

The bill as it came before the senate contained a committee amendment by Senators Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] and William Langer [R., N. D.] that pay increases under the bill should not go to a federal government employé who belongs to a local union which "discriminates against, or denies membership to, any person because of race, color or creed."

On the floor, Langer proposed an amendment to broaden this provision so that it would extend to thousands of wage-board workers in the navy yards and arsenals who are paid under other laws. Senators Brooks and James M. Mead [D., N. Y.], in charge of the bill, supported Langer's amendment, while Senators Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.] and Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] opposed it.

"Defeat" Is Doubted.

"All the amendment would do would be to say that a union cannot exist on government money in government property, making munitions for this country, if it continues to discriminate against any citizen of the country," Brooks explained.

On a voice vote, Lucas, who is acting president of the senate in the absence of Vice President Henry Wallace, declared that the Langer amendment was defeated, altho this was open to question.

"It is regrettable that the southern senators were joined in defeating full justice in this matter due to the arbitrary and obviously biased ruling of Sen. Lucas, who was presiding," Brown declared in a statement.

He said Lucas "conspicuously ruled against the best interests and morale of 13 million Negro Americans" in his interpretation of the senate voice vote.

Membership Refused.

"Sen. Brooks spoke on the floor and before the civil service committee to stop the AFL metal trades and machinists unions discrimation in navy yards against 20,000 patriotic and loyal colored civil service workers in the skilled positions, thru the denial of membership in these organizations," said Brown.

"Sen. Brooks, Sen. Langer, and Sen. Mead proved themselves today to be the most vocal friends in leading the fight and speaking for the equality and constitutional rights of the 13 million Negro Americans and the 450,000 Negro soldiers fighting, bleeding, and dying for democracy abroad.

"We also regret," Brown continued, "that Senators Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.] and Harold H. Burton [R., O.], who are so eminent in international affairs, voted against one-tenth of the American population on the home front on this matter of anti-discrimination in the United States navy yards."

The anti-discrimination amendment, as it pertains only to those employés coming under the pay raise bill, was retained in the senate bill, however.

HUGHES OF AUSTRALIA AND THE WAR.

William M. Hughes, former Australian prime minister, in an interview in Sydney, says that a Tribune editorial, "Looking Back at Folly," made the absolutely untrue statement that he was responsible for the Japanese retention of the German islands north of the equator and that the editorial was a string of inaccuracies. THE TRIBUNE had said that if any one man was responsible for the present situation in the Pacific war it was Mr. Hughes of Australia who not only insisted on the treaty dividing the islands but gave deadly offense to the Japanese by unyielding objection to any recognition of national equality in the league.

Mr. Wilson went to Paris believing, with cause, that his plans for handling colonies had been accepted before the armistice. However in 1917 it had been decided in the imperial war cabinet that the Union of South Africa should annex German Southwest Africa, Australia should annex New Guinea, New Zealand should have Samoa, and that France and Great Britain should divide Togoland and the Cameroons. Japan, included in these agreements, was promised annexations north of the equator. The islands had been occupied by the countries to which they had been promised. Mr. Wilson understood that the captured territory was to be administered for the good of the native populations by the league of nations.

Mr. Hughes' first concern in Paris was the ratification of the 1917 agreements. Lloyd George and Clemenceau abandoned claim to Togoland and the Cameroons but the British prime minister said he could not oppose the dominions, as indeed he couldn't. Wilson said no to Hughes, the sharp tongued spokesman for the dominions. Mr. Hughes now says that Japan, which had entered the war merely for the kill, threatened Great Britain that if it were denied its new possessions it would join Germany. He did not know it at the time. Lloyd George said nothing about it, if true, altho he did reveal that Japan had the empire's promise.

The Britisher said he couldn't deny the dominions the equivalent of what had been promised Japan. Wilson put it the other way. He couldn't grant the British demand and then deal with Japan. He said he "was by no means prepared to accept the Japanese treaty and was doubtful whether Japan could be admitted there even in the capacity of a mandatory power." He was distrustful of the Japanese.

We do not think of Mr. Wilson as much concerned in the interest or welfare of his own country. He wasn't. He was prepared to make any sacrifices to get his league of nations. But in this matter of the Japanese islands he was a wise man and Mr. Hughes was a hot headed, foolish one. Wilson would have kept the Japs out of the bases they have used of late to conquer the white empires and the Philippines as well. Mr. Hughes says he opposed Japan at every turn. Possibly, but not at the right time or in the right way. He wanted New Guinea for security. In Sydney he has had recent opportunity to estimate how much security he found for his country.

The Japanese to keep their bases were not required to be even insistent, much less be truculent. It was enough to follow at Hughes' coattails and submit their claim as a part of the program covered by prior agreements entered in good faith. Hughes made their position unquestionable. It is a curious distortion of the truth for him to say that Wilson could have kept the Japanese out if he had not wilted before their demands. Wilson was stopped by Hughes, Lloyd George, and Clemenceau. They made it impossible to challenge the Japanese claim in 1919 and they, therefore, made it easy for Japan in 1942.

Hughes hated Wilson and Clemenceau loved Hughes for it. Wilson in his single minded obsession of establishing the league, confessed that he was embarrassed and humiliated by the concessions he made the Japanese in Shantung. But he didn't give away the islands to them. Mr. Hughes' recollections or defensive statements on this point are wholly erroneous. We repeat that so far as any one man could put the Japanese in New Guinea he did, and he was a professed realist who declared that failure of the British to keep their agreement with the dominions would disrupt the empire.

The people of Japan are now displaying their resentment of white opinion which classifies them as inferiors. Much of their brutality is the production of infuriation. Wilson tried to placate them at Paris. Hughes says California prevented it. That is what he told the Japanese at Paris, when he was refusing to accept any form of compromise. The Americans wondered at the time why the Japanese press was accusing them of making the trouble. They traced the story to Hughes.

A formula was finally worked out that omitted reference to racial equality but asked that the preamble to the covenant recognize the "principle of the equality of nations and the just treatment of their nationals." That was not adopted. Mr. Hughes said he would make a speech against any formula and raise race prejudice in the United States and in the dominions to the boiling point. No one in Paris dared face the issue. California, of course, was with Australia but it had been agreed that the league should have no authority to intervene in domestic affairs. That was intended to protect immigration laws, among others.

In short, Mr. Hughes could not be persuaded to accept the most meaningless face saving concession to the Japanese. His attempt to make the United States responsible for the failure would indicate that he realized the gravity of the refusal. He not only was responsible for the Japanese retention of the islands from which Japan made its attack on the whites in the Pacific but gave them additional reason for biding their time for the settlement of accounts. And that is astonishing statesmanship.

UNREGENERATE RUSSIA.

The death at the hands of soviet executioners of two Polish Socialist international labor leaders and patriots has made a great stir in the countries in which people are still free to express their opinions.

By one of the hypocrisies bred by war we have raised to the level of what we call civilization, culture, justice, and humanity a state founded on the denial of these qualities and have made it an ally not only in war, which is explainable by circumstances, but also in the restoration of good faith and a peace based on it.

Mr. Roosevelt has had a softness for this merciless state from the beginning of his administration. It reveals the admiration of a vain and soft man for a hard, unscrupulous, and contemptuous ruffian who gained supreme authority by murdering every one standing in his way. Mr. Roosevelt said recently that he still hopes to meet the Russian dictator. His curiosity cancels every moral concept.

There has been a thought that the Russian revolution, following the track of others before it, might have exhausted its ferocity, have satisfied its desire for victims, and be mellowing out of its cold fanaticism. The murder of Erlich and Alter dismisses such ideas as to the government. None of the labor leaders and Socialists in this country or in Europe who knew the two victims could believe that they were Hitler's agents. As Poles and as labor men they would detest the Nazi.

The execution of Erlich and Alter proves that Russia has not reformed. It is the Russia of the infamous state trials, of judicial assassinations and mass liquidations, of brutal secret police and of a government contemptuous of the principles supposed to prevail in the United States and Great Britain. The government even concealed the execution of the men and allowed their friends to intercede for them after they were dead.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill are doing business and making post-war plans with a man whose record in international dealings thruout this war has been one of complete bad faith. The assumption that he will change his nature is a violent abuse of common sense. First he cleared the way for Japan to make its attack against Great Britain, the United States, and the Netherlands by signing an agreement with the Japanese, and then he cleared the way for the Hitler attack on western Europe by joining the Nazis in the attack on Poland.

When Great Britain alone was fighting for its life, Stalin was consolidating his new territorial gains at the expense of Poland and the independent Baltic states. His attack on Finland was regarded as the particular atrocity of the first part of the war. When he made the Japanese agreement with Foreign Minister Matsuoka he toasted the Japanese army and navy and politely expressed his conviction that they would be superior to the American armed forces in any conflict which might result. He has recently renewed the fishing treaty which gives the Japanese special advantages against the United States in the Aleutian area.

The war with Germany has brought invaluable Russian assistance to the allied nations, but it was with no intent to help them that Russia appeared on the battlefield. That war was the result of the dealings of two treacherous men, neither of whom could be trusted to honor his word. When we read that Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden are relying upon the coöperation of Russia for the reconstruction of Europe we should be startled. Neither they nor Mr. Roosevelt can rely upon one word issued from the Kremlin. If they hypnotize themselves into beliefs refuted by every fact in the history of the soviet union, they may expose themselves to consequences to which they are closing their minds. They may expose themselves at the conclusion of the war to a defiant ally which has taken defeated Germany under its protection, intending to use the still existing Communist cells and to sovietize a country willing to escape from its western enemies by accepting a fraternity of interests with the U. S. S. R.

If that happens, the western powers will have their backs against the sea again. The present arrangements with Russia make an alliance of duplicity and credulity.

THIS ENGLISH.

An item tucked away in a corner of the paper says that Premier Stalin has employed two tutors to teach him the English language. Why two? Maybe it's because this pupil learns so rapidly that he must have relays of teachers to keep up with him. Maybe it's because he learns so slowly that one teacher is not nearly enough. Maybe he's a suspicious oriental who wants to be sure that he's not being poisoned linguistically. Maybe one teacher is preparing him to converse with Mr. Churchill and another is instructing him in the American idiom.

More probably, Mr. Stalin has learned the great truth that there are two English languages, one of them French and the other Germanic, which together form what is commonly called the English language. Everybody knows that we have a duplicate vocabulary, a fact which explains why an unabridged English dictionary is about twice as fat as the foreign lexicons. In English we can say or proclaim that truth or verity is the beginning or commencement and the end or termination. Mr. Stalin may be planning to use Instructor A. [or should we say Avitch?] to teach him the Romance half of the vocabulary and Instructor B. [for Beesky?] to teach the Germanic half.

For Mr. Stalin's sake we hope he doesn't think that English has two vocabularies but only one syntax, because if that's his idea, he's headed for trouble. There are also two syntaxes, one of them simple, direct, and logical and in these respects resembling French; and the other subtle and idiomatic to a degree which must be maddening to the foreigner.

Thus a housewife may instruct her cook in the following terms: "It is your responsibility to can tomatoes and place them on the shelf. I shall not be annoyed if the quantity is large but may discharge you if it isn't."

Another housewife may give substantially identical instructions in the following terms: "It is up to you to put up tomatoes and put them up on the shelf. I shall not be put out if the output is large but may put you out if it isn't."

If Mr. Stalin seriously intends to learn the second of these languages, he's got his work cut out. He can learn the first language by correspondence, but for the second two teachers are none too many.

MR. PEPYS' SPRING SONG.

10th April—Questioned my friend Bob Becker, the naturalist, the other day about the incoming of spring, and he said it was a week late according to all signs and portents, including the skunk cabbage, so if any one asks about spring you can say, "Wait till next week." Have noted the poets who contribute to my column agree with the skunk cabbage, for their pipings about the vernal season have been few and far between, altho in other years they began to tune their lyres on ground-hog day.

My own spring song will be a long and sad farewell to the beauties of the landscape. No more the fields of bouncing Bet, a wild flower that deserves a better name, will please my eye thru the summer with their white and lavender blossoms; no more the plant quaintly called butter-and-eggs will lift its yellow spires in August; no more the wild aster, goldenrod, and Queen Anne's lace will brighten the September scene. Nor will the meadow larks sing sweetly among the sunflowers, nor the giant ragweed threaten hay fever sufferers with its wind-blown pollen. Not around where I live, anyway. For a two-horse plow has been lacerating the vacant lots, and every empty acre, including sand ridges, slag fillings, and gravel pits has been converted into farm land for war gardeners.

The spirit of justice and democracy which hovers over the neighborhood assigned a garden patch to myself, without asking if I knew the difference between a pumpkin seed and a caraway seed. So I found a neighbor who had been overlooked, altho he is the best agriculturist in the ward, and gave him my lot. Expect to spend my Sunday afternoons watching as he pulls weeds and kills bugs, and am betting my proxy garden will yield more to the square inch than any of its rivals.

KING OF AN ACRE.

A king of bluest blood am I,
Tho gold and purple pass me by;
By right divine I wield the rod
Above this realm of sod and clod.

My palace home is small and plain—
A simple cottage by the lane;
Beneath its roof what hours are spent
Of kingly thought and proud content!

My queen, what royal garb has she!
The robes of worth and purity;
A rod of love her fair hands hold—
A scepter mightier than of gold.

No hunting grounds my kingdom knows:
I find fair sport in fat bean rows,
And in the maze of bush and vine,
And tangled wealth of eglantine.

What need have I of golden crown,
Or jeweled throne, or fair renown?
I look at none with jealous eye,
For who has more of sun and sky?

O, who would not a monarch be
Of cot and hearth, of bush and tree!
He shall not ask a beggar's dole
Who has an acre—and his soul.

Hollering Down a Rain Barrel.

When I was a little boy I loved to "holler down the rain barrel," half filled with limpid June rain.

I'd say "Boo," and the sound would go around and around the barrel, come out a perfect pear-shaped tone, and rush up to the sky, where it wrinkled the clouds as they floated by. Of course the clouds were wrinkled! Couldn't I see the wrinkles in their reflections?

There were little tadpoles in the barrel, a few leaves, and perhaps a dragon fly resting on the surface of the water. But what is this? Three dark clouds go swiftly past, one behind the other, and three little drops of rain fall into the barrel and concentric circles ripple toward the sides.

The longer I looked into the rain barrel the deeper it seemed, and if I looked long enough I thought I was looking up instead of down. Sometimes a face would appear beside mine, smile at me, and be gone. It was an older face, a woman with blue eyes and graying hair. She called me "my boy," and pulled the lobe of my ear.

The little boy was blue-eyed, blond-haired, his face smooth and unlined, youthful, eager, but he had seen three black clouds in the rain barrel, and at night he dreamed that she had passed, and when he awoke rain was falling on the roof and in the morning the rain barrel was full nearly to the top.

He looked again and he was a tousled lad, but older than he used to be, and the three dark clouds and their pattering raindrops had made paler his eyes and had filled the empty rain barrel many times.

"Boo!" Can't you see? There were three, and they vanished like clouds and rain.

yet I'm as proud as I can be tho no one ever looks at me
ho hum, I'm happy anyhow

CHEMICAL WARFARE AGAINST BACTERIA.

WITHIN the next few years we may expect the discovery of many new chemical antiseptics. Our laboratories are hard at work developing figurative tanks and anti-aircraft guns which may be used against the deadly enemies of health—bacteria. One of the most recent preparations, propamidine, has now been employed extensively by British army medical authorities. The emergencies of combat call for an agent that can be applied immediately to raw foul wounds and thus stop the spread of infection. So favorable has been the response that the demand for the drug has increased tremendously, especially in first aid stations.

Enough trials have been made to warrant the conclusion that the remedy will succeed where well recognized measures have failed. In sizable burns, for example—where skin grafting would ordinarily be necessary—the procedure was not needed because healing was so prompt.

This drug seems to possess the power of destroying staphylococci, streptococci, and certain other organisms. In addition, it appears to stimulate and speed up the growth of healthy tissue.

One plan incorporates the chemical in a neutral jelly or ointment. The salve can be spread evenly over angry surfaces or introduced deeply into crevices. It must be adequately diluted, otherwise it may cause irritation. Furthermore, its full benefit is obtained in about 10 days. Beyond that time it may actually destroy newborn cells because its stimulating effect is so great. Thereafter, if recovery is incomplete, milder substances may be resorted to.

In one case, where a large area of epidermis was involved, with some muscle damage, convalescence was delayed because the site was loaded with strep microbes. Salt water baths, the sulfonamides, and every known method was utilized without avail. On the 24th day, propamidine jelly was tried and, by the sixth day, fever disappeared, the region was sterile, and repair progressed swiftly. After the 10th day, dry dressings finished the task.

In this medicine we may have an almost ideal first aid treatment. A soft, creamy mixture may contain a small amount of local anesthetic, which will serve to allay pain without interfering with the germ-killing properties of the compound. There is the further advantage that injuries do not require constant attention. In fact, a day or two may be allowed to elapse before the bandages are changed.

In old ulcerations which have persisted for months, even years, the parts are unable to throw out enough healthy tissue to accomplish repair. Here the chemical is particularly beneficial.

Propamidine bears the long technical name—diamidino-diphenoxypropane. First designed to attack animal parasites, it proved to be equally helpful against bacteria. Thus far no general toxic effects have been recorded, altho it becomes poisonous when administered by mouth or by injection into a vein. Until we know more about the material the label "external use only" must be adhered to strictly.

WAVY TEMPERATURE.

S. R. writes: What is Malta fever?

REPLY.

Malta, or undulant fever, is caused by an organism, brucella melitensis. Another form of the germ is responsible for contagious abortion in live stock. It is known as Bang's disease and is conveyed to humans via unpasteurized milk or by meat from infected animals. An attack may persist for weeks with an up and down temperature.

TOOTH DISCOMFORT.

Mrs. Y. writes: Since becoming pregnant, my teeth are sensitive to heat and cold. Is this a normal reaction?

REPLY.

Not unusual. Avoid extremes of temperature within the mouth. Your physician may wish to add calcium, phosphorous, and vitamin D to your diet.

WHO WILL PAY THE BILL?

New York, April 1.—The new American Beveridge plan for all-inclusive social security is so crowded with the promises of a bright future that to many it will appear like a pot of gold. But a few, it is to be hoped, might want to know where all the gold is coming from. Because it has no money of its own, the government should be most careful to ascertain the cost of social security. For the opposite reason, the business community, which owns and administers more money than anybody else, should be vitally interested in social security. But it says little about it. Not so the government, which not only talks more than anybody else about social security but knows exactly what it wants.

The cost alone should be of extreme interest to the business man. At present we are spending about 4 billion dollars a year on all kinds of social service, from aid for the veteran to help for the farmer, and from administering to the ill to feeding the children. Should the new American Beveridge plan go into effect, it would cost us about 10 billion dollars a year. Once fully operative, the cost would be 15 billion.

Let the business man be faced with a new project involving, say, a $50,000 investment, and he will sit up nights trying to figure out what he stands to gain and, more important, what he stands to lose. Why, then, the apparent resignation on his part and the lack of concerted action when faced with an annual burden 100,000 times $50,000?

This stoic attitude is the more surprising because the government must obtain social security funds where funds are most plentiful. There is no richer field for the government to crop than that of private enterprise, private savings, and private investment activity. If anybody will feel the pocketbook pressure, the business man will.

The government knows what benefits it can reap from an all-inclusive, cradle to the grave social security program. But does the business man know what harm it may cause him? Is he willing to give it a fraction of the time that he gives to his investment portfolio, his production schedule, or his inventory? Is he prepared to make known his own ideas on social security?

G. Hirschfeld.

BENEFIT TO AMERICA?

Wausau, Wis., April 4.—I quote from a letter recently received from OPA Director Prentiss Brown: "We agree with your constituents that the military should be considered first from our national food supply, but the minimum needs of our fighting allies must receive a fair share, if we are to continue to receive the benefit of their armed forces."

Just what does he mean—" continue to receive the benefit of their armed forces." Who, I would like to know, is getting the benefit of everything the United States has? Certainly not our own fighting forces in the Pacific.

I. A. H.

CATS, IT SEEMS, ARE DOGS.

Chicago, April 6.—We note that Tuffey Backman, a fellow cat down in Rolling Prairie, Ind., complains about short commons under rationing. We are helping the war effort by eating [and liking] what is set before us—which, at the present time, happens to be dog food in meal form.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuzzie Cat and Two Little Fuzzies.

THE NEW BABYLON.

East St. Louis, Ill., April 4.—The recent speech of Gov. Stassen of Minnesota was very important. He emphasized that in the post-war world the rights of national minorities will have to be safeguarded. The non-English people here in the United States sincerely hope that this sound principle will be applied here, too.

In Switzerland, all four national groups enjoy equal rights, all laws are issued in four languages; schools, courts, railways, have to use them equally. How is this here in America? Everything goes in English—we have only English schools here. Our entire administration uses exclusively the English language.

Recently you published a letter to the editor, complaining that not 2 per cent of the Chicago public employés are Polish. America is far from being democratic. It would not be difficult to transform the United States into a truly democratic state. We have merely to apply the sound Swiss principles. Equality of education as proposed by our President is incompatible with this English predominance.

The Polish, Czech, Dutch, Scandinavian, German, and other European languages are not "foreign" languages. They are spoken by millions of good American citizens who, deplorably, don't have a single school here in this country. Surely, we need protection of the national minorities. Surely, we must become democratic.

Carel Smetana.

ISOLATIONISM.

Chicago, April 2.—A true meaning of the word isolationist is one who minds his own business and is prepared for trouble if it comes.

I think one of the blackest pages in American history was the neglect of the New Deal to guard the Phillippine and Hawaiian Islands. Many American boys lost their lives there who would be alive today if the New Deal had sent sufficient equipment and men to our own instead of foreign lands.

That is why the so-called isolationists were reëlected last November and the New Dealers were changed to lame ducks.

HONESTY.

Chicago, April 3.—On March 31 an elderly scrubwoman lost a billfold containing $73, her last cent. This money she had saved for a year. A sympathetic friend placed an ad in the lost and found section of THE TRIBUNE. It appeared in the late issue of April 1.

A Mercy High school student, Therese Gill, of 8347 South Wood street, found the wallet on the sidewalk. She searched the newspapers and finally located the rightful owner. She refused a reward. Her honesty has restored this woman's faith.

NO RATIONS FOR THE SOLDIER.

Chicago, April 1.—Time and again we read that food allotments are granted to soldiers home on furlough. My brother was home for 12 days and immediately reported to the local board in Hull House for his ration coupons. He was told he could have none, but his family would have to skimp on their allotments in order to feed him.

Are our boys given furloughs in order that they may enjoy themselves with their families or are they to feel themselves a burden to them while they are home?

Wondering.

BUT IT DOESN'T.

Oak Park, Ill., April 7.—A regulation to forbid soldiers from seeking office might be a good regulation if it applies to a commander in chief as well as to a general.

HOW THE COST MOUNTS UP.

Mount Pulaski, Ill., April 2.—Henry Morgenthau has informed us the 250 million dollars collected thru income tax above treasury expectations will last about one day. Just to give the people an idea how many pennies, nickels, dimes, and dollars the operation of the government is costing them, let us compare the 250 million to Illinois sales tax collections. Illinois is about the third state in retail sales in the United States. The sales tax has been in effect since July 1, 1933, or almost 10 years. The money collected to date is less than 750 million dollars, or enough to run the federal government three days.

Before we give another 20 billion dollars away, let us give it serious consideration.

A Thrifty Farmer.

ABSENTEEISM IN CONGRESS.

Chicago, April 3.—Congress has 435 members. When one reads that the now famous "gestapo" bill failed by a vote of 133 to 93 to be returned to committee, one wonders where the other 209 members were when a bill of such great importance to the American public was up for passage. Why some members did not ask for a roll call is another mystery. No bill of such importance should be passed by a voice vote. By so doing, congressmen are able to hide their voting record. People should keep a watchful eye on their congressmen so as to know which ones to eliminate in 1944.

AWAITING THEIR CALL.

Chicago, April 3. — "Curious," who wrote about "Youthful Idlers" yesterday, may be interested to know that the teen age boys, 18 years and up, whom he sees about the loop, are merely passing time until they are inducted into service. At that age, they are graduated from high school, are not truants, and no defense plant will hire them for so short a time.

Chairmen and personnel of 21 city council committees, as recommended by the committee on committees and rules, was approved by the city council last night with only one dissenting vote.

The dissenter was Ald. John J. Duffy [19th], who later said enigmatically that he was "fighting for a principle, and when they throw principles out the window, I'll oppose them." The Inquiring Camera Girl
BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Sylvia Gerber, 2344 East 71st street.]

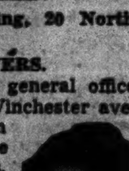
THE QUESTION.

Did you ever turn a disadvantage into an asset?

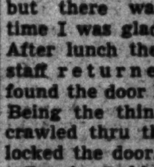
WHERE ASKED.

Civic Opera building, 20 North Wacker drive.

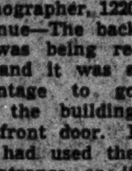
THE ANSWERS.



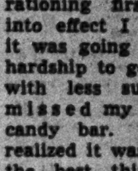
Catherine Michael, general office worker, 4417 North Winchester avenue — Being thin didn't seem to have many compensations, but there was one time I was glad of it. After lunch the office staff returned and found the door locked. Being the thinnest, I crawled thru the transom and unlocked the door.



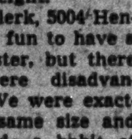
Bernice Lubin, stenographer, 1220 South St. Louis avenue—The back porch was being repaired and it was a disadvantage to go around the building to the front door. I always had used the back entrance as it was a short cut. But because of the repairs I got acquainted with my neighbors.



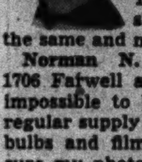
Margaret Breen, personnel worker, 7543 South May street—When rationing first went into effect I thought it was going to be a hardship to get along with less sugar. I missed my favorite candy bar. Then I realized it was one of the best things for me. I was feeling better and could stand to lose some weight.



Sally Sikora, mail clerk, 5004 Henderson street—It was fun to have a twin sister, but there also were disadvantages. We were exactly the same size and she made a habit of wearing my clothes, preferring my styles. Then I suggested we should start dressing the same and my worries were over.



Norman N. Pilner, draftsman, 1706 Farwell avenue—When it was impossible to buy my regular supply of flash bulbs and film I was sure my photographic hobby was doomed. But I was more diligent than ever and turned out beautiful work. I also developed a new indoor lighting technique.



Elaine Humps, receptionist, 3657 Wrightwood avenue—I almost was convinced that being a tall girl has more disadvantages than anything. But one night at a party the tallest boy, and also one of the nicest, selected me as his dancing partner and it was a happy occasion.

COUNTY VOTERS TO PICK SCHOOL TRUSTEES TODAY

The balloting in Cicero, Flossmoor, and Maywood is expected to attract the most interest today when Cook county's 28 townships and 198 school districts elect school officials.

Partisanship has flared unusually high in Cicero, where nine members and former members of the board of education recently were indicted and subsequently exonerated on charges of conspiracy to defraud the district thru overcharges for school supplies. Four of those indicted, Michael J. Solar, Edward F. Hruby, Frederick Weil, and Edward Cepak, are running for office again. Solar is a candidate for president.

The Cicero Education council and the Parent-Teacher association are backing Frank J. Petru, president of the board who was not indicted, for reëlection, and James A. Bezdek, Franklin J. Miller, and Louis H. Christensen for the three trustee jobs.

The Flossmoor school district's election is concerned with the teacher tenure law, which provides that teachers who are now accepted for teaching after qualifying in a two year probationary period acquire permanent tenure until they become 65 years old.

Residents of school district 89 at Maywood will go to the polls to validate present school taxes because the words "for" and "against" were used in a 1941 election proposal instead of the words "yes" and "no."

VISITING WAAC BAND TO MARCH IN PARADE TODAY

The WAAC Mobilization day parade, which starts at the Civic Opera building at 12:30 p. m. today, will march to music of a WAAC band from Fort Des Moines, Ia. The 30 WAAC musicians arrived here from Peoria last night and were the guests of Fred B. Snite at dinner in the Hotel Sherman. Second Officer Harriette Gould is executive officer in charge of the group, and the band leader is Auxiliary Celia Merrill of Detroit.

Today's line of march will be from the Civic Opera building on Wacker drive north to Randolph street, east to Michigan avenue, south to Jackson boulevard and then east to Butler field. Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commandant of the 6th service command, and his staff, will review the parade there at 1:30 p. m.

Companies of 150 members each from Fort Sheridan, Camp Grant and from Fort Custer, Mich. will participate in the parade and battalion review. After the inspection, approximately 100 WAAC enrollees will be sworn in by Third Officer Cornelia Groenveld.

KELLY SWORN IN 3D TIME BEFORE CROWD OF 1,600

Appeals to Aldermen for Harmonious Action.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly last night was inaugurated for his third term before 1,600 selected citizens who jammed the city council chambers to the doors.

In accordance with precedent, flowers were banned but the paneled, bemuraled room fairly reeked with verbal sweetness.

The smiling mayor, with his pretty wife on his left and his young sons, Steve and Joe, on either side, himself set the atmosphere in his inaugural address.

He admitted he and the aldermen had come thru a grueling campaign. The council, he said, has worked at all times as a nonpartisan organization and he urged the new council to continue in that way, promising to keep his door open to aldermen of any political faith.

Tells Program for City.

He outlined a program to keep the city's juvenile delinquency the lowest in the nation and its safety record the highest, to build highways, to clear slums, to set up a "real transportation system."

Then he passed out verbal bouquets in all directions.

"We think we have done a fairly good job the last 10 years," he said. "You aldermen who have served before have been untiring, thinking of nothing day or night but your constituents. You are the leaders, or should be the leaders, in making this city very important in winning the war."

The background for harmony was set even before the meeting. Only those with tickets, obtained from the aldermen or other city officials, could get thru the virtually solid line of policemen at the outer doors of the city hall. If any one without a ticket slipped thru, he ran into more guards in the foyer. Policemen were stationed on the stairs, at the elevators, at the hall leading to the chambers and at the chamber doors.

Full Chamber Awaits Kelly.

At the doors the spectators were segregated. Thirty-nine holding special passes from the mayor stepped onto the rostrum. Those with green tickets got seats with the aldermen. Yellow ticket holders found seats on the fringe and those with blue tickets were shooed into the gallery.

The chambers were packed when the mayor's party entered 10 minutes late. As the mayor appeared, the aldermen and their guests stood and applauded. Mrs. Kelly received another round of applause. Within another five minutes the mayor rapped for order and Chief Clerk Edward J. Padden called the roll.

The 46 who had arrived on time were sworn in. Mayor Kelly introduced the Rev. Harrison Ray Anderson, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, as a man with a "real broad civic mind." The minister, in an invocation read from a prayer book, gave thanks for great men who rise to lead the people and called the mayor "Thy servant."

Melton's Singing a Surprise.

The crowd broke into wild applause when the mayor brought forward a special guest, whose appearance had not been announced on the program. He was James Melton, Metropolitan opera star. Announcing he wanted to sing the "Star Spangled Banner," which he said echoed sentiments appropriate today, the singer clenched his fist as he sang: "And conquer we must when our cause it is just . . ."

Solemnly City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber administered the oath of office to Mayor Kelly. "It is not only a duty but in this instance a privilege as well," Schreiber said. The two held the pose while photographers' cameras clicked. Then every one laughed when the two traded a lapel microphone and the mayor swore in Schreiber.

From there the council swung into business.

MAYOR KELLY KEEPS CABINET, BUT SOME OFFICIALS MAY QUIT

Mayor Edward J. Kelly announced yesterday that he planned no changes in his cabinet. He said any appointments he might make to fill vacancies in the appointive offices under his jurisdiction would wait until he returned from a two week vacation in Phoenix, Ariz. He leaves tomorrow.

Rumors that Barnet L. Hodes, corporation counsel for the last eight years, might resign were met by the mayor with the statement that Hodes could "have the job as long as he wants it." Hodes said he planned "to be around a while." It was reported that if and when Hodes resigned, Benjamin S. Adamowski, attorney for the election commission and unsuccessful candidate for congressman at large, would have the inside track for the office.

Kelly said Walter L. Gregory, civil service commission member at $5,000 a year, was a possibility for the commission's chairmanship, $7,500 post vacated by the death of John P. Harding. There also were reports that Robert B. Upham, city comptroller, might resign before many months.

"I have a very good cabinet," the mayor said. "I plan to make no changes."

Undertakers Bill Sent Back to Committee

The city council last night referred back to the health committee an ordinance transferring the licensing of undertakers from the board of health to a newly formed board of four undertakers and Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health.

FITCH'S SEIZURE WILL BE PROBED, ALLMAN PLEDGE

Police Commissioner James P. Allman announced yesterday that he will make his own investigation into the illegal seizure of Morgan L. Fitch, defeated candidate for city treasurer, on the south side last Sunday. The promise came after the commissioner had read a scathing letter from State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, pointing out that six days had passed without the apprehension of Fitch's abductors, and demanding immediate action by Allman.

A similar letter was sent to the city civil service commission. Walter L. Gregory, a member of the commission, said he will give "careful consideration" to Courtney's demand.

Fitch, former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, was seized by seven Negroes as he was about to enter the home of Oscar DePriest, newly elected Republican alderman. He said the men, whom he believed to be policemen, took him at gunpoint to the Wabash avenue police station.

DEWEY BLAMES NATIONAL RULE FOR FOOD CRISIS

Urges Return to Local Government.

New York, April 9 [Special].—The nation's No. 1 problem after the war will be the recapture of local government by the people by wresting the "concentration of power" from Washington, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today at a meeting of the council of state governments.

Gov. Dewey attacked the federal government for the present "catastrophe" in the food situation, characterizing it as "a direct consequence of the siphoning of all responsibility and power into the hands of the national government."

"In the last 10 years," he told governors from New England and middle Atlantic states, "it has been the trend of the federal government to by-pass the states and attempt to deal directly with the local communities. This trend has extended prodigiously the scope and power of the federal government, somewhat at the expense of the local communities, greatly at the expense of the states."

Money Distributed Federally.

Money has been drained direct to Washington, he asserted, and "after paying large administrative expenses, the remainder, other than war expenditures, is distributed according to the varying social and economic philosophies prevailing among the groups which dominate from time to time in the shifting Washington scene."

Able leaders have been deprived of importance in their home states, he said, to become "small cogs in a vast federal machine."

"It raises the fundamental question: Do our people want to make their own pattern of life, or do they want it made for them?" Dewey asked.

Cites New York Experience.

"Our recent experience here in New York with the farm problem has afforded us one of our most important lessons and at the same time one of our most costly. Not only here in New York but in all the adjoining states, we had for many months foreseen the catastrophe that was facing the country in the production of food.

"The catastrophe arose simply because the national government never saw the problem—never acted on it until a few weeks ago—never even reversed its crop restriction program in time.

"The very thing which brought this war about was the possession of total, crushing power in the national governments of our enemies. One of the questions we must determine for ourselves is: Shall we permit the continuance of the totalitarian trend in our own country or shall we recover the rights of the individual for which we are sacrificing today?"

SPEEDERS FACE LOSS OF RATION BOOKS IF CAUGHT

Courts Begin Certifying Convictions to OPA.

Motorists found guilty of violating the 35 miles an hour speed limit will lose their gasoline ration books by action of the boards that issued them, Michael F. Mulcahy, Chicago rationing director, said yesterday.

The new rule to punish speeding motorists was supported by actions in Safety and Speeders courts, where speeding dockets have reached a daily total of more than 300 cases.

Cited to OPA Board.

As outlined by the legal division of the OPA, motorists convicted of speeding will be cited to the rationing board thru the notice of conviction forwarded to the board. After the rationing board's hearing the motorists may lose their cards or be penalized on the amounts of gasoline, as the rationing board decides the cases warrant.

Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Safety court joined with Judge Gibson E. Gorman of Speeders court in announcing the new policy of certifying all speeding motorists to the OPA for forfeiture of rationing permits. At the courts it was pointed out that the daily number of cases during the winter months had been about 60; a figure that has now reached more than 300 daily. Both judges yesterday lectured the accused motorists who appeared in their courts and there were no speeding convictions in Safety court during the day.

60 Cases Certified.

In Speeders court there were 60 convictions, which under the new ruling were referred to the ration boards. On Thursday 53 motorists were found guilty and face hearings before their rationing boards. Court attachés and police said the spring weather had tempted hundreds of car owners to take their cars out of storage and warned these that the new rules would be invoked without acceptance of any excuses.

The Red Cross War fund campaign reached a total of $4,772,547 toward its goal of $8,750,000 yesterday, Martin H. Kennelly, general chairman, announced. Contributions from companies and their employés showed large increases over those of last year, he said.

Among such contributions was one from employés of Acme Steel company totaling $9,200, or 400 per cent above their $2,300 gift made in 1942. To this, the company added $10,000, doubling its last year's gift. Another was a check for $500 from the Centennial Laundry and its employés; last year's donation was $25.

Other corporate gifts included $15,650 from Borg-Warner corporation; $3,700 from Kraft Cheese company; $3,000 each from General Electric X-Ray corporation and Griffin Wheel company; $2,500 each from Local Loan company, Halsey Stuart & Co., and Continental Can company, and $2,000 each from Norton Lasier company and Globe Oil Refining company. Stewart Warner sent a check of $7,750 as the company's contribution with $7,071 from its employés.

FOUNDRY STRIKE ENDS; CASE GOES TO LABOR BOARD

The strike of 450 employés at the Western Foundry company, 3634 South Kedzie avenue, ended yesterday after a 24 hour work stoppage when the men agreed to submit their complaints to the war labor board. Some of the employés returned to work at noon. The rest will return today. The company is 100 per cent engaged in war production. The strike arose over what the employés described as a number of shop grievances. The employés, most of whom are Negroes, are members of local 2674 of the United Steel Workers of America, CIO.

$10,000 Damage

One fireman was killed and two others injured yesterday while fighting a fire on the second floor of the 1500 Lake Shore Drive building. The dead man, Burnell Peters, 36 years old, 3635 North Kilbourn avenue, apparently was enveloped in a sheet of flame caused by a back draft when he entered the apartment carrying hand extinguishers, according to Chief John Hamilton of the 2d battalion.

The fire, which occurred in the nine room apartment of John L. McInerney, prominent Chicago attorney, caused an estimated $10,000 damage. It was confined to the one apartment, altho water and smoke caused some damage to other apartments in the building.

The two firemen injured are John Buckner, 36, of 1852 Barry avenue, and William Lehman, 35, of 4109 Melrose street, both members of Rescue Squad No. 10. They were taken to Alexian Brothers hospital, where it was said their injuries were not serious. Peters, a member of Engine Company No. 27, is survived by his wife, Lucille, and a 10 year old daughter. He joined the force on Feb. 19, 1940.

CIVIC SOCIETIES INVEIGH AGAINST DISCRIMINATION

Appomattox day, anniversary of Gen. Robert E. Lee's surrender to Gen. U. S. Grant, was celebrated yesterday by representatives of white and Negro civic organizations at an anti-discrimination luncheon arranged at the La Salle hotel by the Chicago Civic Liberties committee.

Earl B. Dickerson, president of the Chicago Urban league, the principal speaker, said discriminatory practices in industry must be abolished in accordance with the principle established at Appomattox that all Americans are a united people. He said the state legislature should appoint a commission to investigate reports of discrimination in war industries, and that the Chicago city council will be asked to set up a committee of this nature for operating in the city.

Dr. James M. Yard, executive director of the Chicago Round Table of Jews, warned that "racial antagonism is a tool of the axis."

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

MAINTENANCE OFFICERS.

The army engineer corps has reopened procurements for men up to 38 years of age to [1] supervise and maintain heavy earth-moving equipment such as tractors, bulldozers, drag lines, shovels, and other heavy construction equipment; [2] supervise maintenance shops; [3] instruct officers and enlisted men in the proper care, handling, operation and maintenance of such equipment. The qualifications are high school graduation or equivalent; five years experience, 90 per cent of it in the field of maintenance of earth-moving and heavy construction equipment or in the instruction of personnel in such maintenance. Apply Chicago officer procurement office, Room 1100, 20 North Wacker drive.

C. H. M. writes: "I have a legally adopted child aged 9 who was adopted in 1939 and I would like to know if he is a dependent under the draft law."

ANSWER: Yes.

D. G. writes: "I've been discharged, being over 45, but the army kept my teeth—I mean they extracted all of them and promised me a set of dentures. Where would I send for the money?"

ANSWER: Your teeth must have been unserviceable when you entered service and the government is under no obligation to replace them.

B. B. writes: "Last fall I enlisted in the signal corps and was sent to school here. I was told to buy bonds and I allowed a reduction in salary of 12 per cent for buying bonds. To date I have received no bonds or receipts. A few weeks ago, I went to the pay roll office in the Civic Opera building and told an official that if I didn't get some bonds soon, I didn't want the deductions to continue. I was severely reprimanded and shown a letter from an official of the signal corps in Washington saying that men were expected to have faith in the signal corps and not to question the failure to produce bonds. I was told I must have faith in the government's bookkeeping."

ANSWER: We were told by the bond officer that he "will investigate the report of the soldier being reprimanded. Officers' pay checks show the deductions and every enlisted man finds the deduction noted on the pay roll which he signs every month and the deduction on the pay roll constitutes an official receipt of the government." This explanation seems a little weak, tho, when men have been in service a year or year and a half and have no bonds. Soldiers have written to us to complain that they have been given K. P. and other nuisance details for becoming "too impatient." The government bookkeeping may be all right, but mistakes and omissions can occur, and the Yanks have a right to something tangible to show for their money.

6,000 ON STRIKE AT FORD PLANTS RETURN TO JOBS

Detroit, Mich., April 9 (AP).—The second of two work stoppages which interrupted production of war vehicles in the Ford Motor company's Rouge and Highland Park plants was settled tonight and company spokesmen said they expected production would be back at normal tomorrow. More than 6,000 workers were affected in the two stoppages.

The Rouge strike, which finally involved nearly 1,200 transportation employés, began at 6 a. m. when 431 men went out over demands for a 10 cents an hour wage increase. The workers voted to return to their jobs pending arbitration of their demands.

Earlier, a larger strike of nearly 5,000 workers in the Highland Park tank plant ended when union officials persuaded the men to return to their jobs. This dispute was caused when nine men were disciplined by a plant protection officer for shooting dice during their lunch periods. The union contract prohibits gambling on company property at any time. The nine men were told to report to the labor relations office.

Instead, the company spokesman said, four of them walked down the tank production line persuading workers to stop operations.

HAMMER SLAYER DENIES KNOWING OF HIS ACTIONS

Harrison Asks Release from Hospital.

D. P. Harrison.

Daniel Paul Harrison, found insane in 1932 and sent to the Illinois Security hospital at Menard for the hammer slayings of three Chicago men and a woman, testified yesterday before Chief Justice John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court that he did not know what had happened during the period he is accused of committing the brutal crimes.

Harrison was his own first witness in habeas corpus hearings on his claim that he should be released from the state hospital on the ground that he is no longer insane. The hearing was begun over objections of his attorney, Thaddeus Toudor, who pleaded in vain for a jury trial.

Listens to Psychiatrists.

Before Harrison testified, Justice Sbarbaro informally heard the reports of psychiatrists who had examined Harrison. Nearly all agreed that Harrison has made progress in his recovery but was not a fit subject to be released at this time because of the possibility of a relapse.

Dr. William H. Haines of the Criminal court behavior clinic said that in his opinion Harrison was sane and able to coöperate with counsel, altho he was not fully recovered. He said Harrison showed an unusually high intelligence quotient. In the event the court finds that Harrison has recovered his sanity, he will be brought to trial for the murder charges.

Answers in Soft Voice.

Harrison, tall and slender, answered questions of his attorney in a soft voice and with an ingratiating smile. He said he was 38 years old and was born at Bowling Rock, N. C. He testified about his work in prison hospital shops and told of his escape in 1938. He was caught six days after he fled.

Harrison denied he had telephoned threats of violence during his six days of freedom.

"You know the consequences if you are found sane?" Toudor asked him. "Yes, I know," Harrison answered. "I would be tried on the murder charges and I want to be tried on those charges."

Trial Not Recalled.

On cross-examination by Hector Bruillet, assistant Illinois attorney general, Harrison said he knew nothing of his acts of violence and that he did not remember his previous sanity trial.

Lew Wallace, managing officer of the state prison hospital, told of the good work done by Harrison at the institution. He said Harrison never quarreled. Asked if he thought Harrison sane or insane, Wallace replied:

"Medically I cannot answer that. So far as I can tell he is sane. And I don't think he is the only sane man there either."

STUDENT OWNED WAR PLANTS TO OPEN NEXT WEEK

Four new war plants, owned and operated by 60 Calumet High school students, are scheduled to begin production next week. The assignment is 150,000 army trouser hangers.

A. R. Snyder, director of Junior Achievement groups in the Chicago area, said the four companies, sharing a factory set up in a vacant store building at 1005 West 79th street, expect to complete their contract within 30 days. The companies are the Victory Manufacturing company, Windy City Manufacturing company, Lions Manufacturing company, and the Midget Manufacturing company. All have been making book ends and other incidentals, but shortage of materials forces them to go into war work, Snyder said.

Other Junior Achievement groups have already turned out 17,000 wooden plugs for army plane engine exhaust pipes and are dickering on a contract for 20,000 darts for army recreation centers.

HOLD FUNERAL TODAY FOR GIRL SLAIN BY FIANCE

Funeral services for Miss Mildred Patterson, 20 years old, who apparently was slain by her sweetheart, Stanley Crosnjar, 26, a Gary painter, just before he committed suicide Thursday, will be held in a chapel at 3805 Adams street, Gary, at 10:30 a. m. today. Miss Patterson is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Patterson, Central and New streets, East Gary, and four brothers and two sisters.

No date for the inquest has been set by Dr. J. Robert Doty, chief deputy coroner of Lake county. Dr. Doty said Crosnjar probably was deranged. The couple had planned to marry late this month and spend their honeymoon in the cottage at 1900 East 35th street in East Gary where they were discovered shot to death.

No arrangements have been made for Crosnjar's funeral.

FAMILY SUFFERS TWO ACCIDENTS; ONE CHILD DIES

Firemen were summoned twice yesterday to a house at 641 West 47th street where the children of Mrs. Dorothy Quinn, 21 years old, met with accidents. They were unable to save the life of Richard, 4 months old, who was found dead, apparently smothered under a blanket in his crib.

A short time later another fire department rescue squad was called to take Joan Marie, 18 months old, to the hospital. She had swallowed kerosene. She was pronounced out of danger after first aid treatment. Mrs. Quinn has another daughter, Caroline, 2½ years old. She is separated from her husband, Earl, a steel worker.

Mrs. Quinn lives with her mother, Mrs. Florence Scapardine, and Mrs. Scapardine's other children—13 in number, ranging from 27 year old twins down to a 20 months old child—in the first floor rear section of a two story frame house at that address.

KRUETGEN SAYS P. O. ROOF OFFERS LANDING SPACE

Postmaster E. J. Kruetgen said yesterday the block square roof of the Chicago postoffice, with minor improvements, would be suitable for the landing of mail carrying helicopters as suggested in Boston, Mass., by Samuel J. Solomon, president of Northeast Airlines.

Solomon said he envisioned a program for post-war setup in which helicoptors would be used to carry mail and passengers from city rooftops to air line terminals. Kruetgen recalled the success of the experiment on May 15, 1938, when an autogiro plane carried a load of mail from the Chicago airport and landed on the roof of the postoffice and then carried another cargo back to the airport.

Kruetgen said it was his belief that all first class mail would be carried by plane after the war. He said that any preparatory action here would await directions from Washington.

FRANK J. LOESCH OBSERVES 91ST YEAR QUIETLY

Frank J. Loesch, veteran crime fighter who brought Chicago out of its worst crime wave 15 years ago, celebrated his 91st birthday yesterday, remaining quietly with his wife in his apartment at the Drake hotel.

Mr. Loesch said that he was under doctor's orders to have no visitors, but that he was feeling much better and hoped to be able to leave his apartment within a month. He is suffering from heart fatigue.

Mr. Loesch, veteran lawyer, started the breakup of the Capone gang almost singlehanded while president of the Chicago Crime commission. He said that crime slowly but surely is being eradicated, except for sporadic juvenile crime.

For our dear Elsa we loved so well.

And ever will be remembered.

MILK WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS IN PAY DEADLOCK

Dealers Say Boost Would Require Price Hike.

Negotiations for a new contract for 7,300 employés of Chicago milk distributors reached a deadlock yesterday and the dispute appeared to be headed for the war labor board. Paul Potter, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, said he would notify the office of price administration today that an increase in milk prices of one-half cent a quart would be necessary if the workers' wage demands are met.

The milk dealers employ 5,000 drivers who are members of local 753 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, 1,800 inside workers who belong to local 754, and 500 mechanics belonging to other unions.

Drivers Ask $3.50 Raise.

The drivers are seeking an increase from $50 to $53.50 a week in the base pay of all men on commission routes, and an increase of $5 a week for truckers who receive no commissions. The inside workers and mechanics are asking for a 22 per cent increase in pay.

Yesterday the dealers made a counter-offer in which they refused an increase in the drivers' base pay and proposed a reduction in commissions. Pay raises for the other workers would have to be set by the WLB, the dealers said.

Points to 1941 Increase.

Potter said the increase in the drivers' base pay was rejected because they already have received a 20 per cent increase since Jan. 1, 1941, and a further increase would violate the "Little Steel formula," which permits a 15 per cent raise to meet increasing costs of living.

Thomas Haggerty, secretary-treasurer of local 753, said the dealers' counter-offer was ridiculous. He denied that the "Little Steel formula" would be violated if the drivers' pay were raised, explaining that their wages were cut in 1940 when working hours were stabilized, and that restoration of the cut in 1941 should not be counted.

CHICAGOAN ON LEAVE TELLS OF NAVY BLOW AT JAP ATTU FORCES

A bombardment by a navy task force that slipped out of a fog silenced the Jap defenses on Attu completely, John V. Seidel, 28 years old, 1963 Wilmot street, said yesterday while home on leave. Seidel, former TRIBUNE pressman, joined the navy seven months ago and already wears five campaign stars.

John V. Seidel.

"The Japs opened up with anti-aircraft guns when planes catapulted from our ships flew over the base," Seidel said, "but we were almost right on them when we came out of a fog bank and after we laid a few salvos into the base everything was quiet on shore."

The flotilla resumed its Arctic patrol and one night ran into a Jap merchantman escorted by two warships. The warships fled, leaving the merchantman at the mercy of the American warships, which soon pounded it to pieces.

The patrol has taken Seidel to the shores of Kamchatka, Siberian peninsula, and within 350 miles of Japan. His wife, Irene, kept writing of a cold Chicago winter. "I thought he was basking on the shores of Hawaii," she explained.

Land Army to Be Called United States Crop Corps

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—That land army being planned among townspeople to help farmers out this year now has an official name—The United States Crop corps. President Roosevelt today disclosed this choice by Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and said he imagined that several million volunteers would be enrolled.

LOWER 13 KILLER STAYED ABOARD, SAYS TRAINMAN

All Pullman Doors Found Shut After Alarm.

Albany, Ore., April 9 (AP).—All doors of the Southern Pacific's West Coast Limited were found to be closed a few minutes after the "lower 13" Pullman slaying, the state's first witness, a trainman, testified in the trial of Robert E. Lee Folkes, Negro cook, today.

W. H. Banks, Pullman conductor, the witness, said he was summoned by a porter.

"I saw a body covered by a sheet," he testified. "I lifted the sheet and saw the body of a woman in a nightgown. There was a terrible wound in her neck. I presumed she was dead."

Man Seen Running.

Banks said he was told a person was seen running toward the rear of the train. He went back thru the train, found no one but Folkes, who was in the diner galley, apparently at work, and found all doors closed.

A trap door over the steps of one car was sprung, he said on cross-examination, but not far enough to permit opening of the door. No one could have left the train, he added.

Mrs. Martha Virginia James, 21, daughter of a prominent Norfolk, Va., family and bride of a navy ensign, was the victim. Her throat was cut as she lay in her berth, before dawn on Jan. 23.

Widower on Stand.

Her widower, Ensign Richard Floyd James, called as a state witness, said he last saw his wife alive just before they left Seattle on the afternoon of Jan. 22.

They were married in Norfolk last Sept. 19, just before he was assigned to a Seattle station. He had been ordered to report to San Diego, Cal., he testified.

Because he was ordered to travel on a troop train, he and his bride were separated at the Seattle station, he said.

"I next saw her in an undertaking parlor in Eugene, Ore., when I was asked to identify her body," he said.

Doesn't Look at Folkes.

He testified in a low voice, glancing occasionally at his interrogator, L. O. Sizemore, associate prosecutor, and at the jury. He did not look at Folkes, who sat with his counsel a few feet distant.

At the conclusion of his direct testimony, Leroy Lomax, attorney for the Negro, said:

"You have my deepest sympathy, ensign. There will be no cross-examination."

Ordered from Court.

Later, Lomax objected to Sizemore's request that Ensign James be permitted to remain in the courtroom. Other witnesses had been excluded. Lomax informed Circuit Judge L. G. Lewelling that he might call James as a witness, and he was ordered to leave.

A few minutes earlier in his opening statement to the jury, Leroy Lomax, counsel for the Negro, said:

"Folkes is guilty of only one crime, the evidence will show. He got up and went to work on time. If he had overslept he would not be on trial now."

Admit He Passed Berth.

Lomax said Folkes retired shortly after the train left Portland, and awakened about 4 a. m. He conceded that the Negro went thru car D and past Mrs. James' berth, as charged by the state, but insisted he went to a smoking room.

He returned to the diner galley, Lomax continued, and baked several pans of muffins, cooked cereal, and served breakfast to two trainmen.

The attorney said H. M. Hughes, porter in car D, was in the smoking compartment. At about 4:38 a. m. he heard a man cry out:

"My God! Stop this train—a woman has been murdered."

Hughes then related, Lomax said, that he dashed into the aisle of the car "in a split second." He said he saw a marine standing in the aisle, over a form on the floor. The marine was partially dressed and had blood on his left hand, Hughes related.

A marine, Pvt. Harold Wilson, occupant of upper 13, told police that he was the first to reach Mrs. James after she tumbled from her bed.

WOMAN IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH ON FARM ESTATE

Mrs. Nettie Schlytter, 60 years old, housekeeper on the estate of William E. Webbe, one mile west of Lake Zurich, was found shot to death in Webbe's bedroom, where she had been cleaning, yesterday. A revolver was at her side. Webbe, who found the body, told the Lake county sheriff's office that Mrs. Schlytter fractured her wrist March 16 and had been despondent because she was unable to do her work. He said he had advised her to rest and assured her that her job was secure.

ASK SEVERANCE OF STOCKYARDS BRANCH FROM 'L'

Petitioners Seek ICC Operating Permit.

A petition requesting that the Chicago Junction railroad, which owns the structure on which the Chicago Rapid Transit company operates the Kenwood-Stockyards elevated line, be allowed to operate these lines as a separate corporation was filed yesterday with the Illinois Commerce commission in Springfield.

Should the request be granted the Chicago Junction would have to acquire cars and make arrangements for power. The petition asks that the ICC, in addition to issuing a certificate of convenience and necessity, grant the new operators the right to charge a fare of 10 cents and order full transfer rights with the elevated and surface lines—with a division of 6 cents to the Chicago Junction and 4 cents to either of the other lines on the transfers.

Operated Since 1903 by "L."

Joining in with the Chicago Junction in the preceeding is the Union Stock Yards and Transit company. Both corporations are owned by the same interests.

The petition related that the line was built with proceeds of a $2,300,000 bond issue in 1903 and that it has been operated since by the elevated lines management under a rental contract. A city ordinance specified that the "L" should operate it.

Rental of $93,080 a year was paid until 1934. In 1938 the elevated company obtained a court order to cease paying but to continue to operate Kenwood-Stockyards for the benefit of the Chicago Junction until that company should take over its property.

Fear Damage Action.

The lines in question were mentioned in the traction unification plan only as under lease to the elevated, and the legal point has been made that failure to include it might make the whole scheme impossible.

Luther M. Walter, attorney who filed the petition, said that the elevated company not only failed to pay rent, but has sent Chicago Junction a bill of $688,000 for alleged losses in operation. He added that in the event of a serious wreck Chicago Junction might have to pay heavy damages, altho not in charge of operations. The Kenwood-Stockyards branch carries about 500,000 passengers a year.

Cairo, Ill., April 9 (AP).—Fire today destroyed the Cairo Auto Supply company, causing a loss estimated at $65,000.

ABSOLVE WOMAN OF BABY'S DEATH AFTER BURNING

Mrs. Jeanne Sabik, 29 years old, who reputedly confessed placing her newborn son in the incinerator of her home at 7312 Ogden avenue, Riverside, was exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday.

The jury's verdict stated that Mrs. Sabik, "while temporarily insane, because of labor pains, and believing the child dead, threw it into the incinerator," and recommended that she be released "since we cannot tell how the baby died." Deputy Coroner George Mrzaek conducted the inquest.

Mrs. Sabik in her testimony said she could not recall making any admissions to police or to Assistant State's Atty. William Oplatka. The incident took place March 24. The baby was rescued alive but died soon afterward. At the time Oplatka quoted Mrs. Sabik as saying, "Another child was just too much." She has two other small children. Oplatka said that in spite of the coroner's jury's action he will present the case before the grand jury.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

April 9, 1943.

"THERE goes a good source of meat that should be developed." The farm men stopped work and watched a rabbit bounce across the pasture and disappear into a thicket at the edge of the woods.

This chance remark brought up a lively discussion on rabbits as food, and rabbit hunting. One man protested that the hunting season was relatively short and that few people had the chance to go hunting. Tularemia, a disease which humans contract thru handling infected rabbits also was mentioned as a deterrent to utilizing rabbits as food.

With a wave of his hand another farm worker overruled the objections with the statement, "Raise them yourself."

Interest on Increase.

More and more people are becoming interested in raising rabbits, and some are realizing nice profits from the fur, meat, and selling does and bucks for breeding purposes. Altho they are not making the huge sums so tantalizingly mentioned in advertisments by producers, there is a chance to make a nice going business with only a small investment.

Rabbits may be bred at maturity, which is at 6 to 8 months of age. From 30 to 35 days later the doe has her young. Young rabbits are weaned when they are from 6 to 8 weeks old. A doe can be bred for four litters a year. Six is a nice sized litter for a doe to have.

Rabbit hutches are easy to build and do not require much material or time. The hutch should be 4 by 3 feet and 2 feet high. They can be built three tiers high against the back yard fence or some other convenient spot. They can be made with solid floors, sides, and back, or, if it can be obtained, completely of wire. The front of the hutch can be made of one inch poultry mesh wire gates.

The nesting box where the doe nurses her young should be 2 by 1 by 1 feet, with an elevated opening. This will prevent the doe from dragging her young away by forcing it to jump in and out of the box. The box should have a solid floor, well bedded, and should be kept clean and sanitary.

On the third day after kindling [the term used to mean giving birth] the doe should be in its nesting box with food and the young examined. Runts and dead should be removed. A doe should not nurse more than six, the excess young being given to does with smaller litters.

When 16 to 18 days old the young rabbits will start to come out to eat. At this time the doe can be fed rabbit chow, whole oats, cracked corn, and clover or alfalfa hay. During the summer they thrive on greens of all types.

Sold at About 8 Weeks.

Market rabbits generally are sold as soon as they are weaned, or at about 8 weeks of age. If they are raised properly, the meat should cost only 4 or 5 cents a pound to produce. This means a cheap and prolific supply of meat.

In breeding, the doe always is taken to the buck's hutch. The doe is liable to fight intruders to her own hutch. A mature buck may serve three does a week, young bucks should be used only once or twice.

One worker remarked that the bunnies purchased by fond parents for their youngsters at Easter time might find themselves lingering on to provide the family with a little unrationed meat.

★The GARDEN★

GARDENERS who have established asparagus plots should be doing their cultivating and fertilizing now. The program being followed in the garden plot on the Wheaton farm is as follows:

The dead stalks remaining from last year have been pulled out of the ground and the gardener is using a motor powered cultivator to pulverize the top two inches of soil. During the coming week he also will fertilize the asparagus plot using either chicken manure or commercial fertilizer. Any fertilizer high in nitrogen content is excellent for asparagus.

In feeding asparagus it is not necessary to fertilize over the rows, since the roots are interconnected. The gardener on the Wheaton farm fertilizes between the rows and then cultivates lightly to work the fertilizer into the soil. If commercial fertilizer is used, he recommends eight pounds per 100 square feet.

Smart and Gay Crowd Attends Friday Concert

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

With the Chicago Symphony orchestra season drawing to a close, the Friday afternoon subscribers are making the most of the few concerts remaining before the final one on April 30. Yesterday found a large and remarkably enthusiastic audience in its accustomed seats and boxes in Orchestra hall, where the atmosphere remained electric from the stirring playing of the national anthem, with plenty of brass and clashing of cymbals, until the last strains of Tschiakowsky's "Pathetique" symphony died away.

The Friday afternoon audience, which is ultra-conservative and sometimes accused of inattention, was anything except constrained yesterday, with two "giant" guest artists as inspiration. Gregor Piatigorsky, the Russian cellist, who was soloist, and Efrem Kurtz, the great conductor, are exceptionally tall men.

Since the stringent rule that forced feminine concertgoers to remove their hats was abandoned, some of the traditions of formal dress also have disappeared, and no longer does every woman consider it necessary to sit the concert thru with her gloves on. Among the white gloved hands that were visible flashing applause, however, were those of Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, one of Chicago's most stunning and perfectly groomed women, who was so moved by the concert that she forgot her sable scarf in the taxicab that took her home. She is hoping the scarf will be found and returned before she departs tomorrow for a short visit to her summer home at Easthampton, N. Y., and in New York City.

The day was not quite fair enough to bring out every one's new spring clothes—or perhaps that suit is being saved for Easter Sunday—but Mrs. John Dern, in from Glencoe for the concert, was an Easter preview in herself. Her beautifully tailored suit was of violet wool, cut with easy shoulders and excellent tailoring. Her little hat was a mass of violet and purple pansies, with a hint of green and yellow in their "faces," and her white blouse had a lavishly ruffled and completely feminine jabot. Mrs. John R. Hurley tempted spring, too, in an austerely tailored suit of gray with touches of white, and a visored gray cap. She heard the concert with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard K. Juergens, and Mrs. Juergens' mother, Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes.

Greeting old friends was Mrs. Leo M. Nicolson, who lives in Washington, D. C., now, but who is here for a fortnight or so. Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson's box guests included her nephew, Lt. George W. Ryerson, who is at home on leave from active sea duty, and his jolly wife. Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams, Mrs. T. Clifford Rodman, Mrs. Solomon B. Smith, Mrs. William E. Vogelback, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graves, Mrs. Robert Hall McCormick, Mrs. Nicholas Galitzine and her little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp, Mrs. Homer L. Dixon and her young army-uniformed nephew, Warren F. Dixon, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Miss Frances Whedon, Mrs. Frank Osborne, Mrs. Frederick M. Owens Jr., Mrs. Picher Purcell, and Mrs. Oliver Dennett Grover were among those in the audience.

The gayety carried over to the Cliff Dwellers, where some of the concertgoers gathered to meet Mr. Piatigorsky, Mr. Kurtz, and the latter's wife, who would easily win top honors were there ever to be a beauty contest for symphony conductors' wives. Tall and slender and with raven black hair, she dresses simply but with dash. She is to become an American citizen shortly. Charles Fabens Kelly, president of the Cliff Dwellers, introduced the guests. The conductor's brother, Edmund Kurtz, who is first cellist with the symphony, is a Cliff Dweller. His pretty wife spent part of the afternoon dispensing punch from one end of a refectory table. Mrs. Otho Ball, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, Mrs. Wallace D. Mackenzie, Miss Ruth Gillies, Mrs. Louis B. Kuppenheimer Jr., and Prof. James T. Hatfield, who has taught at Northwestern for 53 years and who came to the party in a frock coat, were some of those congratulating Mr. Kurtz and Mr. Piatigorsky at the tea. In the midst of the chatter and turmoil, in one corner of the large living room, a quartet of men gathered undisturbed and unmoving about a chess board, while at the opposite end fragrant odors came from an open hearth where juicy spareribs were being charcoal broiled.

New Theater of Air Series Has Opening Tonight on W-G-N

The Chicago Theater of the Air will lift its curtain at 8 o'clock tonight on the first of a new series of spring and summer productions combining music and drama. Marion Claire, who has just returned from a southern vacation, with her husband, Henry Weber, musical director of the series, will be cast in both singing and dramatic leads. The program will be broadcast over W-G-N, W59C, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will speak.

Thomas L. Thomas will be costarred with Miss Claire. Musical and dramatic highlights from "Countess Maritza," by Kallman; "Enchanted Lake," by Liadow; Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata," and Verdi's opera "La Traviata," are to be presented on the first program.

Supporting Miss Claire in the dramatic part of the vignettes will be Marvin Mueller and Charles Penman. Highlights of the stories of "Countess Maritza" and "La Traviata" will be unfolded. The dramatic treatment of "Enchanted Lake" will be a narration with a choral background.

Sociability.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Little Rock, Ark., April 9.—Miss Sally is vast, ponderous, and endowed with a memory as willing as her tongue. There isn't a vicious note about her or a false note or a silent one. She speaks her mind at all times, and is held in fearsome awe by those who do not know her. Those who do love her dearly, and are wont to say, when she leaves after an afternoon of refreshing monologue, "Well, come again soon, Miss Sally, and bring your mouth with you."

"Money certainly does vanish these days," she began today, settling her bulk in the car for a rambling drive thru the countryside. "Reminds me of Miss Lizzie Cotrell and the money she used to give to the church. She used to say she had built that church 10 times and it never was finished. The minister used to come to her regularly and ask for $20 to complete it. 'I give it to the church,' Miss Lizzie said. 'I give it cheerfully, but only God knows what the vestry does with it.'

Same way with those taxes.

"It's goin' to rain," she said without shifting for punctuation or change of thought. "See the smoke settlin'? When the smoke settles, it's goin' to rain. Never knew it to fail. [It did not rain]. . . . Looking at that slow old train makes me think of a neighbor I have. She goes to town for dinner every night, but by the time she gets to the restaurant it's 9:30, she's so slow, and she can't get anything to eat. If she starts a dress, it's out of style before she's finished it. . . .

"All these cars are goin' to that big funeral today. Everybody's goin' except his sister-in-law. I don't think she's on good terms with any of her husband's relations. Never was . . . Remarkable woman lives over there. She went to the hospital, and you know she doesn't like to spend all that money she has, so she told the surgeon she just wanted a cheap cut. A cheap cut! Ha! ha!" And she rocked merrily back and forth. "It wasn't here. It was some big hospital in the north, and she certainly upset that hospital, because she said she wasn't goin' to have anybody cuttin' or waitin' on her who wasn't a Democrat! Ha! Ha!

"See those violets?" indicating a yard covered with white violets, only the hearts of which were blue. "Know what they say about them? They were all blue once, like all violets, and then one day all the confederate boys rode off to war. The next morning all the violets had turned gray. . . .

"Why, I can remember how when I was a child my father would say, 'I won't let anything blue in my house. If a blue horse was to come gallopin' into this yard, I'd chase him out.' . . . Reminds me of when President Grant came to visit the city. Plenty of folks turned up their noses and wouldn't come out-doors at all, but I did. I was 10, and I was all dressed up, and I got me a seat on a high fence post to see him, and when he passed I stuck my tongue out as far as I could and I kept it out. . . . Remarkably funny thing happened that day, anyway. Mr. Grant was—well, sick, and couldn't take part in the big reception for him, so they got a man from outside town, old Zeb Ward, who looked exactly like him, and old Zez stood in line and shook everybody's hand. Everything went all right until some old men from the country recognized him and said, 'Say, you're not President Grant! You're Zeb Ward.'"

Marine Booklet Asked by Many Radio Friends

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Every Saturday at 1 p. m. W-G-N presents "The Halls of Montezuma," as relayed over Mutual network lines from the marine corps base at San Diego, Cal. This half hour is filled with marine music, drama and other lore relating to this branch of the service.

Apparently it's making a hit with listeners, for the base at San Diego reports the receipt of more than 3,000 letters a week. Most of the writers ask for a copy of "Leatherneck Lingo," a booklet of marine slang and terminology.

The base has reported many requests for the pamphlet from persons in the Chicago area. The Harry D. Harings of 1771 Getty street, Muskegon, Mich., wrote saying that they wanted a marine booklet to keep them closer to their son, Lt. Richard D. Haring, lost in action on Guadalcanal.

Elsie Fyhr, 1117 North Main street, Wheaton, wanted a copy so that she could write her marine friend, now a Japanese prisoner, "some of his own lingo."

One request that caused quite a laugh was a brief three line note from a South Chicago lass who wrote: "I didn't hear what it was you offered, but if it's about the marines I would like to have it if I could."

Requests for the pamphlet should be addressed to "Halls of Montezuma," Marine Corps base, San Francisco, Cal.

Arts Club Tea to Open Show by Members

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Arts club, which constantly extends a hospitable hand to visiting artists, will display the paintings and sculptures of 75 of its own professional members at an exhibition which opens with a tea tomorrow. One of the exhibiting artists, Frances Badger [Mrs. Paul Schofield], is "doing" the tea table from which a buffet service will be offered from 4:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

In former years the club's hospitality and abundant table have drawn an unlimited number of guests to this annual show, but high tea this year necessarily will be restricted because of food rationing problems. Each exhibitor is permitted to bring four guests, while other members will pay a dollar apiece for each of their guests.

John Storrs to Be Absentee Exhibitor.

Among the exhibiting artists are Jean Crawford Adams, Ivan Lorraine Albright, Clay Bartlett, Macena Barton, Peggy Palmer Burrows [Mrs. Samuel Burrows], Helen Dawes [Mrs. Neil Dawes], Gerald Frank, Nina K. Griffin [Mrs. Robert Griffin], Oscar Gross, Maude Phelps Hutchins [Mrs. Robert M. Hutchins], Charles Kilgore, Clinton King, Laura F. Marx [Mrs. Samuel Marx], John Storrs, Scott Taylor [Mrs. Henry Taylor], Paul Trebilcock, and Milo Winter.

At least one of the artists, John Storrs, will be an absentee exhibitor. When last heard from, the sculptor and his wife and daughter, Monique, were living in their château at Touraine in occupied France. Word has reached this country since that Mr. Storrs had been interned for a while in a German concentration camp but had been released. The artist, a former Chicagoan, had been working abroad before the war, returning here for six months of the year.

White Elephant Shop's Spring Sale Arranged.

Pre-war fabrics and yardage should attract hundreds of customers to the White Elephant Rummage shop's annual spring sale planned for next Friday. Since the shop receives castoff clothes from some of the smartest households in Chicago, it's no wonder these sales are jammed by women who seek to clothe the tiny toddler and junior miss in something chic at a bargain.

Sports clothes will be featured at next week's sale, with costumes for young women and the older matron, ranging from gay spring prints and sheers to spectator and active sports outfits hanging on the rods. Mrs. Roy Flannery, chairman of the junior auxiliary of the Children's Memorial hospital, is in charge of the sale. Among her assistants will be Mrs. Frank Osborne, Miss Mary Seymour Adams, Mrs. William E. Roberts, Mrs. Winston Rodormer, and Mrs. John Coffin. Proceeds from the sale will be used to provide free medical care for needy children at the hospital.

Party Tomorrow Night for Russian War Relief.

Six bars of soap is the admission charge to a "Vecherinka" Russian War Relief party at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Hotel Sherman. Each neighborhood and each nationality group was invited to enter a table decoration contest. Mme. Nila Magidoff, at one time a Russian merchant marine sailor and fashion editor of a Moscow paper, will be the speaker. Her husband, Robert Magidoff, is the Moscow correspondent for a radio network. Mrs. Walter S. Brewster will judge the table setting contest. The School of the Art Institute, the Russian-American Women, France Forever, and the Hungarian, Czecho-Slovakian, Greek, and Norwegian committees on Russian war relief are among the 25 groups that have entered tables. Vecherinka means a little evening party.

The Easter Seal committee of the Illinois Association for the Crippled is giving a luncheon at 1 o'clock today at the University club, at which Roddy McDowell, young English star of the movie, "How Green Was My Valley," will be the special guest. He has come to Chicago to help the public school children with their sale of Easter seals for crippled children.

Tea Will Mark Opening of Pan-American Week.

The local celebration of Pan-American week, which starts tomorrow, will get off to a good start with a tea Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Davis are giving at home in Highland Park tomorrow afternoon for consuls of the Pan-American countries and their wives. Among the guests will be José Nucente Sardi, director of culture of the department of the interior of Venezuela, who is on a lecture tour in this country at the invitation of our state department. He is the author of "Cavalliero of Destiny."

Octavio Barrios, consul general of Guatemala; Diego Fallon, consul of Colombia, and Ignacio de Algarra, consul of Cuba, will be special guests today at the Pan-American consul's second rhumba tea-dance, which will be a salute to officers of the 6th service command and to their chief of staff, Col. John Fuller Davis. The party will start at 3 o'clock in the Pan-American café of the Hotel La Salle.

Lt. Andrew Loring Rowe, who is somewhere at sea with the navy's armed guard, may not see his baby son and namesake for some time. The baby, who was born on Wednesday in the Presbyterian hospital, is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bastien of Winnetka and of Mrs. Edgar C. Rowe of Tryon, N. C. His mother is the former Barbara Bastien.

Betty Mercer Will Become Bride Today

A pretty country wedding planned for today will unite in marriage Miss Betty Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril G. Fanning of Lake Zurich, and Rogers K. Butz, son of Mrs. Robert O. Butz of Winnetka. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock at the Fanning farm, with Dr. Horace Bridges officiating. Both the wedding and the reception following will be small.

Miss Mercer is to have several attendants, however, including Mrs. Charles D. Allis, Miss Jean Caldwell, Miss Mary Ann Raymond, and Miss Jeannette Raymond. Herbert K. Butz will be his brother's best man and the only usher will be the bride's brother, Donald Mercer, who has returned from his studies at Princeton university for the occasion.

Mr. Butz, who has another brother, William, an ensign in the navy, and his bride will reside in Kenilworth. The bride's father was the late Donald W. Mercer.

The marriage of Miss Anne Quick Curry to Ensign Robert Clark Altman will take place at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Beverly Hills home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Thomas Curry. Ensign Altman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Altman, are here from Wausau, Wis., for the wedding. The bride's younger sister, Miss Fawn Quick Curry, will be her only attendant, and Howard Lehner of Oconto Falls, Wis., will serve as best man.

Ensign Altman will take his bride to Pasco, Wash., where he is stationed. Miss Curry was graduated from Northwestern university and her fiancé received his degree from the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Elaine Herst's marriage on March 6 to Sergt. Allen Levitetz of the army, stationed in Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Herst of Madison Park avenue.

Conference Planned on Care of Children in War Plant Areas

The University of Chicago announced yesterday that a six day conference will be held, starting July 5, to inquire into the problems rising from the care of children in industrial areas whose mothers are employed in war plants.

Helen L. Koch, professor of child psychology at the university, said that the meeting will be attended by social workers, home economists, health authorities, government officials, and many others. The purpose is to help social workers, health authorities, and other community workers meet the child welfare problem.

Among the speakers will be William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission; Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau of the federal department of labor, and I. Evelyn Smith, secretary of the child welfare section of the Council of Social Agencies in Chicago.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, has announced the formation of a volunteer home service corps to assist the chapter's military and naval welfare department. Working under experienced supervisors, volunteers will help arrange emergency furloughs for service men and aid in other activities maintained by the Red Cross for soldiers, sailors, and their families. They will be trained in basic social work and in Red Cross procedure in an intensive two week course and will be asked to serve one month on probation. After training, work will be assigned according to the needs of the department and the capabilities of the individual.

Mrs. Otto G. Schmidt.

Mrs. Otto G. Schmidt, a trained social worker, has been appointed chairman of the corps. Women interested in joining are asked to apply in person in room 920 at the military and naval welfare headquarters, 616 South Wabash avenue. Applicants must be citizens, 22 years of age, in good health, and have two years of college education or the equivalent. The first class will start on Tuesday, with classes beginning at short intervals thereafter.

The 17 women and one man who enrolled eight weeks ago in the Illinois Institute of Technology's first war course in engineering fundamentals were graduated yesterday at a 12:30 o'clock luncheon at the Normandy house. Robert Kingery, head of the Chicago Regional Planning association, and Prof. John I. Yellott, director of war training at Illinois Tech, addressed the graduates, who are now ready to work as assistants to graduate engineers. The course was set up at the request of United States civil service to combat the serious shortage of engineers, which has been estimated to range from 80,000 to 250,000 persons. Those with college degrees who have completed the course are eligible for civil service positions as junior engineers at $2,000 yearly. Without college degrees, they can qualify as technical assistants at a salary of from $1,440 to $1,800.

A training course for women who will volunteer to care for the preschool children of war working mothers will be held Wednesday, April 21, at the University of Chicago and the National College of Education in Evanston. Interested women, who will be child care aids, should register at the volunteer office of Civilian Defense and Council of Social Agencies, 111 West Jackson boulevard. If 35 or more women from the west side of the city register, a training center will be opened in their vicinity.

There will be a general assembly of trainees for the first meeting, but thereafter classes will be held from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. on Wednesdays and Fridays. The first phase of the course will consist of 24 hours of lecture on child development, observation, and the study of materials, equipment, and activities of centers for young children. This will be followed by 54 hours of supervised participation in the care of children in day centers.

The Y. W. C. A. Committee on Volunteers will present a luncheon and program Tuesday to show 100 prospective volunteers how they can give valuable war time volunteer service to a home front agency, without benefit of uniform. A skit will be presented showing the activities of Y. W. C. A. volunteers in 1881, when their duties included conducting a boarding house, an employment bureau, and visiting jails. A second skit will show the volunteers at work in 1943. This presentation will show them aiding in conducting midnight to dawn parties for shift workers, investigating rooms for the room registry service, serving as recreation leaders and advisers for girls' clubs, leading public affairs discussions, and assisting with Red Cross and cancer control hospital units. Miss Lilace Reid Barnes, president of the Y. W. C. A., will be the luncheon speaker.

When members of Women Flyers of America, Inc., decided a knowledge of radio communications was necessary to help win the war, they added the subject to their study curriculum. The course will be offered from 6:45 p. m. to 9:45 p. m. each Thursday evening in their new headquarters in room 210 at 116 South Michigan avenue. The course will include the study of Morse code, procedure, and theory.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Campaign Against Coyness.

"If you want to see women at their worst in this game of being coy, you should take a whirl at being a receptionist for a group of fashionable doctors. I did, in Detroit.

"I never could figure out what was back of women's reluctance to give necessary information, for the receptionist certainly doesn't intend to make use of it. But try to get it!

"I'd ask a patient, 'May I have your name, please?' only to be greeted with a smug smile and, 'O, the doctor knows me—I come in every year for a checkup.' Then the game would start in earnest. Obviously suspicious of my honorable intentions, the patient would hesitate when pressed further, give me a wary glance, and say, 'I'm Mrs. White.' A lot of help!

"'And your husband's name?'

"'J. M.'

"'Not just his initials but his full name, please.'

"'Well'—and she would fairly snort—'why should that be necessary? After all, I'm the one to be examined!'

"Still trying to control my voice and my nerves, I'd explain, 'We require the full name in order to avoid any confusion in our records—you know—laboratory findings, etc.'

"Very grudgingly and still doubtful: 'John Martin White.'

"'And your first name?'

"'Laura.' [Mouth open and shut like a snapping turtle.]

"All this time both phones would be ringing and more patients would be coming in and the 'coy' one would be using up valuable time and vital energy, while the receptionist mopped a troubled brow." E. C.

Dis and Data.

Only 1.5 per cent of the companies in the United States eligible for the army-navy "E" award have won it. . . . Columbia University Press has published a book called "War Words" which recommends pronunciation for such ticklers as Krivomuzginskaya—and I didn't make it up, either. . . . The magazine Telephony reports that the Michigan Bell Telephone company is experimenting with a nutrition course for men similar to the one offered women employés. . . . Advertisments are now appearing for women lawyers to replace men. . . . The girls had better not poke fun at their singing bosses. A promotion man in the Boston Edison company once wrote a best seller, "The Rose of No Man's Land," which wrung tears at the end of the last war. The name of the song writer-boss is Jack Caddigan, and he has just turned out another war time song. . . . A small eastern company, employing 36 women, has 11 grandmothers on the pay roll—all highly satisfactory, according to an official of the company. . . . The St. Louis board of education has added a course in "House Magazine Editing." New Britain, Conn., recruited 850 women for war work in 15 days by using circulars, advertisments, and personal canvas. The girls who made the personal calls were actual war workers in factories.

CottonClothes for After Work Are in Demand

BY REA SEEGER.

New cotton clothes designed for after work hour activities are getting a big rush. Pinafore dresses without sleeves and tailored shirtwaist dresses with short sleeves that end well above the elbow are the two favorite models. Both come in a variety of colors and both feature the new 1943 spring and summer cottons. So whether you plan to garden seriously or dig into work around the house, the dresses designed expressly for just such duties are ready to make you look smooth and efficient as well as comfortable.

Pinafore frocks have a tight fitted upper bodice half, minus sleeves, with four inch ruffles of the cotton over the shoulders. Brown and white, red and white, and blue and white gingham make these young looking dresses, and the price marks are low enough to make the most veteran shopper gasp. Skirts have two large pockets, are gathered in front for fullness, and button down the back.

The tailored skirtwaist dresses are knockout. The material of super soft wash gingham makes these dresses outstanding. The pattern is a big three inch white open square contrasting navy blue, copper, or aquamarine, and it's one of the most effective open plaid patterns imaginable. The dresses are snappy enough to wear down town with a white jacket and white accessories. The navy blue number is dark enough to make good contrast for white, as well as with bright red hats and bags.

Price marks are just as easy to take as the dresses, and others in the same showing include precision checked ginghams in red with green, and good looking seersuckers, also designed for home work. In the same shop you'll see the smartest black and white and navy and white half inch checked wool jackets and companion skirts of the spring, priced and sold separately.

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

Mary Jo deliberately locked the back door and pocketed the key. There was no way now for Maisie to get out except by coming thru the living room. This arranged, Mary Jo went to admit her visitor.

There was a great deal of Mrs. Dolman in more than one sense. Besides her physical bulk, there was a bigness which lay behind a pair of eyes that were exactly like Button's when Button was forgetting to act. But outwardly she was a conservative woman, and while she was on her guard she wasted no time in getting to the heart of matters.

"Mrs. Laurence?" she said. "I guess you know who I am. What's Maisie done now?"

"Come in, Mrs. Dolman, and sit down." Mary Jo was pleasantly cordial. "There now—hot, isn't it?"

"I'm not interested in the heat," said Mrs. Dolman. "I came down here because I suspected there was something behind your letter. It read as if it had come from a decent woman and I didn't want you to go on carrying my burdens. I expect you can guess the trouble I've had with that wretched daughter of mine and her no good husband."

"Mrs. Dolman," said Mary Jo, "Culver is dead."

"O!" Mrs. Dolman was startled. "Well," she added after a shocked moment, "he's no loss."

"Maybe not. He was probably the biggest part of Maisie's troubles as you call them. The other part of them, if I may say so, is you."

"Me? What utter nonsense! I've done everything for Maisie and her husband. I've paid their bills, got them out of trouble——"

"Paying bills is not what Maisie needs," Mary Jo said firmly. "Maisie needs understanding and affection. She's afraid of you, Mrs. Dolman. She really loves you, but somehow—it's none of my business how—you've got her scared half to death. Maisie would be all right if she were given half a chance. She's beautiful and full of life, and those things ought to add up to assets."

"She's always used them to disgrace herself, I'm sorry to say."

"Not around here, she hasn't. O, I'll admit that Culver had her running a little wild, but it didn't mean anything. She loves that child of hers—why, she wouldn't divorce Culver on his account. And I believe she was always hoping Culver would make something of himself, which was another reason she stuck."

"You really think so, do you?"

"I do. And so does another person in town—a man who's in love with her and would marry her if she'd have him—the right sort of a man for Maisie. He understands her. He's older, he's been around, and he makes a good living, too. However, right now she's all broken up over Culver's death. She needs your help and my help and I want both of us to give it to her. I'm getting to like Maisie a lot and to believe in her. But you are more important. I'm only her friend, but you're her mother. She's a grand girl, really, down underneath."

"Well, when a woman like you says that I'm inclined to believe it," said Mrs. Dolman, "tho I must say I'm surprised. I wouldn't have expected Maisie to make friends with a woman of your sort." Mary Jo laughed a little.

"I don't expect Maisie has any idea how much I'd like to be friends with her," she said. "Maybe she'll learn in time. I haven't told her I sent for you because I wouldn't hurt her by letting her know if you had refused to come. And I'm not going to tell her you're here unless you're going to take over right."

"If I do anything at all for her I'll do it right, you can depend on that. I presume she hasn't any money?"

"No, she hasn't. She needs that kind of help, too, she and the boy. My husband and I, we've done what little we could, but it hasn't been much and I'm afraid that first off I started out by doing things for Maisie and then scolding her so hard it took all the good out of the help I offered. You can't get anywhere with Maisie that way. She has her pride."

"You make this a pretty serious matter, Mrs. Laurence. Perhaps it would be dangerous for Maisie to go on living here alone. I've always understood the tropics were dangerous for young women. But they don't seem to have demoralized you."

"Thank you kindly," said Mary Jo. "I guess I'm immune. You see out home where I come from there is an awful lot of nothing. Just space. You have to fill it with something you dig out of your own mind; and that something has to be big and tranquil, to match up with all that vast space. It's a good training to get because your own mind is where you always live anyhow, no matter which piece of the map you're located on."

"Then it's up to me to help Maisie get the place she lives in right?"

"That's about what it amounts to. And I think you'll do it, because Maisie really is trying now to do right—she really is, hear me?" Mrs. Dolman wiped a few fugitive tears from her betraying eyes and blew her nose vigorously.

"All right, I'll take over," she said, "and you can depend on me, I'd go the whole hog. Where is she?"

"She took Button to the beach," said Mary Jo. "He hasn't been well. But she ought to be back any time now. I'll go take a look to see if she's anywhere in sight."

Mary Jo walked slowly out onto the porch and then down to the gate. From Cinqua's the sound of the juke box floated up raucously, playing a popular tune. It was like the voice of Key West shouting defiance at respectability. But Mary Jo shook her head in negation.

"It doesn't always keep the ones it persuades," she said to herself. "Maisie's going to get away from the thing that music is bragging about. I'll bet my spurs she gets away from it!"

She took a long time about going back into the house again and when she did, Maisie was crying on her mother's ample breast.

At five minutes before noon the living room was filled to capacity. The Smithers were there and Maisie and her mother with Button all dressed up clean as if for church, protesting at being kept quiet and trying to sit on his grandmother's lap without sliding on the black satin of her gown.

In a far corner, Pete and Laura shared a big chair, slyly whispering together, all but oblivious of the others. Waterman had come back from uptown with Tony and now stood beside him, both of them leaning against the wall, attentive to the center of interest upon which every eye was fixed—the radio.

From the capitol the announcer was describing the scene as the various dignitaries marched in as heralds of the great event upon which the thought of the nation was focusing. The little gathering had something of the air of a religious meeting, but it was more electric, more filled with tense expectation. None of these people looked quite natural, Mary Jo thought, because they were all illuminated by something bigger than themselves. Even tho they were not conscious of it, this inner pull transfigured them. She felt glad they were all there. It gave one a tremendous feeling of togetherness. There was no other word to express what she meant. She watched the time anxiously. Only four minutes longer to wait. Then all at once she saw that there was some one else arriving. A man in uniform was coming up the garden path. He walked with brisk precision, recalling a sound she well remembered. With a little cry she ran out to meet him.

"Why, Col. Bassett!" She held out both hands. "No, Gen. Bassett! Why, you old fire-eater you! My but it's good to see you! When did you get back?"

"We came in yesterday," he said. "Matter of fact, I'm taking over here tomorrow. Thought I'd drop by and see how the builder was getting on. We will need a lot of housing here now, and of course your good man is exactly what we'll need—I could conscientiously recommend him——" He broke off abruptly, glancing at his watch.

"Look at the time!" he exclaimed. "Have you a radio?"

They slid into the room just at the right moment, lining silently up next to Tony against the wall, and almost at once the rich, familiar voice began to fill the room.

"Yesterday, Dec. 7, 1941—a day which will live in infamy—the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval air forces of the Empire of Japan. The attack has caused severe damage to the American naval and military forces . . . very many lives have been lost . . ."

The President's voice was heavy and thick. There didn't seem to be another sound in the whole world. Even Key West, the tireless, the sleepless, appeared to consciously withhold its endless murmur and listen with the hearts of its people. She felt Tony's hand reach for hers, clasping her long brown fingers with his powerful ones, at the very moment when her own was reaching for his.

"No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win thru to absolute victory. . . . We will not only defend ourselves to the uttermost, but will make it very certain that this form of treachery will never again endanger us. We will gain the inevitable triumph, so help us God! I ask that the congress declare . . . a state of war . . ."

It's high time state legislatures took some action about the many restrictions which hamper the sale of margarines. For years extremely high taxes have been imposed upon manufacturers of margarines and retailers selling it. These taxes were intended to prevent too much competition with butter, and are heaviest in butter producing states such as Wisconsin.

In view of the shortage of butter margarine makers have been allotted fats enough to almost double production, but high taxes force them to ask absurdly high prices for margarine and, at the same time, prevent people with pinched pocketbooks from buying it.

It is illegal to color margarine for sale. This is all right, for if margarine were sold colored it would be almost impossible to tell some of the better grades from butter, and then the butter makers would have reason to squawk!

Two-thirds of the retail food stores in the country do not sell margarine, says the Journal of Home Economics for March. This is because of the restrictions imposed upon its manufacture and sale. It is the only food taxed by the federal government.

Almost any kind of fish is good simmered in seasoned water. Tie fillets, steaks or whole, cleaned fish in cheesecloth, to keep the flesh together, and immerse it in water which has been well salted, and to which a few peppercorns, a stalk or two of celery, and perhaps an onion have been added. The juice of half a lemon or a little vinegar may be added to the water, too. Simmer until the fish flesh is tender enough to flake, then carefully remove to a hot serving dish and serve with an appropriate sauce. If it's to be a flour thickened sauce, use some of the stock as a base for it, and season highly with lemon.

Women who object to a fishy smell about the house will find that hot-oven baked fish reduces this problem to a minimum. Fish fillets baked at 550 degrees are done in a few minutes [usually not more than 8], and there is virtually no odor.

Cayenne pepper, that hot, hot spice, once upon a time came to us from Japan, in part. Now there's a hot Louisiana pepper which serves us for cayenne. Cayenne is no relation to much milder black pepper. It belongs to the chili family, and a little of it goes a long way. It's a great help in soups, fish dishes, salad dressings, and many sauces, but must be used with discrimination, like garlic!

By the way, if you haven't found out how much more flavor you get from grinding your own black pepper in a little pepper mill, you'd better not lose much time trying it. Freshly ground pepper works magic in foods!

Child Acts As Bond Between His Parents

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

One evening not long ago I was having dinner with an older and intimate friend who was always a most devoted mother and a loving wife, and is now revelling in her first grandchild.

We were talking about having a family of several children, and having them soon after marriage, discussing the pros and cons. Suddenly, to my amazement, my friend said:

"I never really longed for children. I was so happy with John, and we were so much in love, and we enjoyed doing so many things together that I would have been completely satisfied to go on like that, just the two of us. You know," she said after a pause, "I don't think children always bring a husband and wife closer together, for one reason or another. It may be because it often affects their companionship; because a wife transfers all her love to her babies and the husband becomes jealous, or because they disagree over the way the children should be brought up."

"This is a surprise," I said. "If ever I saw a devoted mother you were one." I've known this friend all my life.

"O, I adored the children when they came, and John had always wanted them. And I suppose, after we'd been married 10 years, if we hadn't had children by that time, I would have been sorry," she admitted.

Shortly after this conversation, oddly enough, I received among my letters from readers, one which began as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans:

"I wonder whether you might have a word for the rearing of parents. Most babies bring their mother and father much closer together, but our little boy seems to give us many reasons for quarrels."

The reason, the letter revealed, was that the writer and her husband disagreed fundamentally on the discipline of their little boy. She believed in control by reasoning and tact and gentleness, with occasional spankings; he believed in a severe whipping and scolding for each infinitessimal act that was not perfect behavior.

Have I "a word for the rearing of parents"? Boiled down, I suppose I might say this phrase describes the whole purpose of these daily articles. Three things, really, make a wise mother or father: [1] understanding what child nature is and how children grow; [2] understanding how to guide and guard that growth, and [3] acting like a mature, fairly poised, controled, worthwhile human being one's self.

The Stage

By Cecil Smith

The Theater Guild, while keeping mum about the future in store for its unhappy and restless Chicago subscribers, now rejoices in the possession of one of New York's biggest hits. The opus is "Oklahoma," the musical comedy fashioned out of Lynn Riggs' folk play, "Green Grow the Lilacs." This is the musical about which I wrote, about a month or so ago, when I saw a tryout performance in New Haven under the then title of "Away We Go." At that time I said it was not ready for Broadway. Apparently it got ready, to an exceptional degree.

Richard Rodgers wrote the score, and you will soon be learning to hum "O, What a Beautiful Morning" and "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top." From all present indications, "Oklahoma" is likely to take its place alongside "Show Boat" as one of the most successful nostalgic local color musicals in the history of the American stage.

New York ticket brokers, who have a reliable hold upon the playgoing pulse, say that while "Oklahoma" is not yet at the top of their demand, it probably will be in a few days. Meanwhile, the plays for which tickets are most sought after in New York are the following, listed in the order of their present popularity: [1] "The Doughgirls" [which is now being played by a duplicate company at the Selwyn theater here], [2] "Something for the Boys" [the Cole Porter-Ethel Merman musical produced by Mike Todd], [3] the new "Ziegfeld Follies," [4] Helen Hayes in "Harriet," [5] "Oklahoma," [6] "Kiss and Tell" [to be reproduced in Chicago by a second company at the Harris theater May 10], [7] "Dark Eyes" [to be brought to Chicago next year with the original cast, including Eugenie Leontovich, Elena Miramova, and Jay Fassett].

The services of Shirley Temple are in great demand as a legitimate actress, but she has not yet decided to brave the rigors of the speaking stage. George Abbott wanted her for the Chicago company of "Kiss and Tell," but she did not sign with him. Now Brock Pemberton would like to persuade her to tour in "Janie," another successful comedy about adolescents.

When Gertrude Lawrence goes to the Pacific coast with "Lady in the Dark" next month her management will be protected by a new insurance policy, purchased at a year's premium cost of $10,000, which pays $1,500 a performance for each appearance Miss Lawrence misses because of illness, after the third day the star fails to go on.

Woman's Club Juniors.

A musical and dramatic program is planned for the Chicago Woman's club junior membership tea at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the clubrooms.

Belle B. Thoms, Elmhurst, Ill.: Every one has some freak economy that delights the soul. Here is mine. From earlier years I had any number of hand embroidered or tatting edged pillow cases which were worn thru the center. I cut off the last ten or twelve inches, open and hem it, and have excellent covers for bedroom radiators. They are attractive and easily laundered. My sister tacks narrow picture moulding around the square end of her ironing board so the iron doesn't slip off. This is really much more effective than it sounds.

Mrs. Tom F., Chicago: I'm saving every bit of the sirup from my preserved pears, plus, peaches, etc. After we have eaten fruit I store sirup for basting ham or meat loaf. It also is good used with gelatin as a pudding.

Mrs. Rob Smith, Chicago: I make my own cardboard sheath in which to keep my kitchen knives. Keeps them sharp, and is also a protection against cut fingers.

Mrs. Kay F., Des Moines, Ia.: Why not have all mail boxes of heavy, structural glass to withstand all weather? They could replace precious metals.

Florence G., Springfield, Ill.: Have been taking extra good care of my washing machine rollers to save the rubber. I keep them clean and dry when not in use—and find I can take off any stains that appear with a cloth dipped in dry cleaning fluid.

Good Morning!

Brainy [O, and plenty brawny!]. Boston Blackie comes to the rescue of a maiden in distress in this latest screen play based on the character created by Jack Boyle.

Blackie, you will recall, is a reformed jewel thief, who for a long time has been throwing his weight on the side of the law. . . . This trip an ex-gangster is slain, some valuable diamonds which he had come by honestly disappear, and his pretty daughter, who had been told by her Pop that in Boston Blackie she would always find a friend, appeals to our hero to disclose the facts about Diamond Ed Barnaby's long silence.

The trail to the solution of the mystery is a long, actionful, and sunless one, brightened off and on and here and there by the lightning flashes of Blackie's unquenchable humor. . . . Too, your eyes will crinkle over a brief character study contributed by one Jan Buckingham as Dixie Rose Blossom, a strip tease bride-to-be whose wedding to The Runt, Blackie's henchman in chief, is interrupted once too often.

Excellent playing by all the cast. Direction, dialog, staging, etc., pass muster.

See you tomorrow.

Musical Arts Club's Benefit Fete Tonight to Aid War Service

The Chicago Musical Arts club will give its annual "evening of fun" party to raise funds for its war service department at 8 o'clock tonight at the Cordon club in the Fine Arts building. Before the party, Miss Mary Wickerman, retiring president of the group, will give a dinner for the executive board members and their husbands. Among the guests will be Mrs. Royden J. Keith, president of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs; Mrs. James Allen Young, 1st district chairman; Miss Louise Trenton, president elect of the Musical Arts club; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wilcox, and Mrs. Sidney Smith. Funds from the benefit party will be used for the purchase of portable phonographs and recordings for service men's recreation centers in camps and stations. Mrs. T. W. Passailaigue and Miss Elizabeth Sellers are in charge of arrangements.

Thru the Looking Glass

One of our readers wants to know whether there are special rules of makeup for the woman who has white hair.

We think there are, and one of the first is concerned with the eyes. When the hair turns gray the eyes are inclined to seem much less dramatic a feature than they did before, especially if brows and lashes are naturally mouse colored. We have found that one of the most flattering things a white haired woman can do is darken her brows and lashes judiciously. This will immediately make her face, in its white frame, more vivid and youthful. The eye makeup shouldn't be blatant, tho; that would ruin the whole effect of charming attractiveness. A light touch of pencil and mascara brush is essential.

When the hair is gray, too, a woman should use a foundation, in the right shade and of the right, texture, not only to give a suggestion of radiance but to veil the skin lightly. And almost above everything else she should be careful not to over-powder. In nine cases out of ten it's best to use too little rather than too much. Some women, especially those with well cut features, will find to their surprise they'll look better when the skin has a faint sheen.

The rouge shade, as a rule, should be more pink than red—and the rouge must be applied lightly and deftly blended so that there are no sharp lines of demarcation. If time in its inevitable fashion has brought about a downward droop of contour, place rouge high rather than low on the cheeks.

We prefer a soft, rather dark shade of lipstick for the youthful gray haired woman, but a pinky shade for the woman who is 60 and doesn't mind admitting it. Harsh, strident shades are rarely harmonious with gray hair.

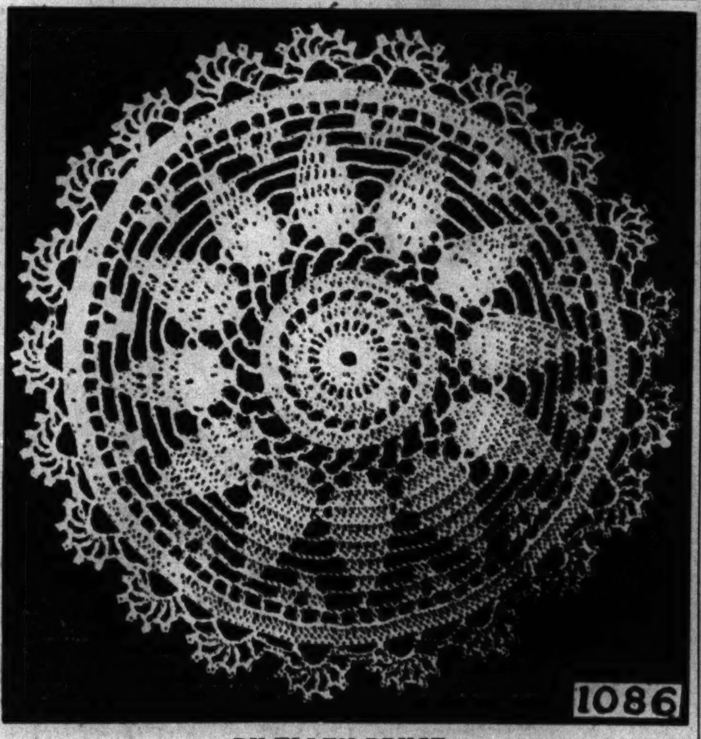
Crocheted Circular Doily



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Circular crocheted doilies created in a pineapple design are quick and easy pastime work, for they require little concentration. One doily may be made in a couple of hours. Ivory, mercerized crochet cotton is extremely effective when placed against a highly polished table.

For instructions in crocheting the circular pineapple doily, No. 1086, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., April 9.—Dorothy [Claudia] McGuire was posing for some sweater art when I asked her some questions. Will she give up the stage like Gene Tierney and Nancy Kelly, and just settle down into movie making, or will she combine the two? She looked at me with a puckish face and replied. "How can I tell? I may not make good on the screen. When they asked me to pose in a sweater, I told them I was distinctly not the type." Nor is she. She's sweet, sensible, not at all actorish, and says, "I've met very few people here. I'm sleepy all the time." I remember interviewing Gene Tierney week after she arrived. She was so certain she'd go back to the theater and get more training after her first picture. "Claudie" is just laying her film career on the knees of the gods until she sees whether we like her, or vice versa. Which is pretty smart. You know, she isn't unlike Maude Adams, when she first played "Peter Pan." She could easily say, "Do you believe in fairies?"—and get away with it.

Dorothy McGuire.

Smart Fellows.

Leo Spitz and Jack Skirball have scooped Hollywood again. They and not Metro-Goldwyn will produce "Duffy's Tavern" and star Ed Gardner as Archie, Shirley Booth as Miss Duffy. They'll play their same rôles on the screen, and our own Jack Moss will act as producer. . . . The Oscar Homolkas expect their first baby in July. Oscar's flying off to New York and Washington for interviews on "Mission to Moscow," and another visit with Maxim Litvinoff, while Mrs. keeps the home fire burning. . . . Nils Asther's first at Paramount will be in "Dr. Wassell." . . . WAACs and WAVES are filling the town, and they'd like to be entertained at our Hollywood canteen, too. But when it was put up to the boys who frequent the place, they said, "Heck! We don't want to dance with another uniform."

Things Are Different.

Garbo has bought only second hand cars here, so you can imagine my surprise when I saw her wearing a soldier's helmet, and learning to drive a new one, with a salesman sitting beside her. Car so new it didn't even have a dealer's license on it. . . . Will Metro dust off that $900,000 loss on "The Yearling" and begin all over again now they've signed up Jackie Jenkins? Could be. He'd be great. . . . We have a horsemeat market for humans in Beverly. When I went to get some for my dog, there was Carmen Miranda and sister lined up for a couple of juicy cutlets. . . . Leonard Sillman arrives here next week to produce "New Faces," a New York hit. He'll do screen story of his production for R. K. O. . . . New York's wondering if Sonny Pitts, Fox starlet, and Eddie Jaffe, the man who put burlesque queens into the big money, are secretly wed.

Good Work.

I'm shouting for joy. It looks as tho Joan Blondell will get a grand part in "Cry Havoc," and the one responsible for it is Benny Thau. All you have to do is give Benny a good idea to have him go to work on it. . . . John Warburton, looking like a million on "Saratoga Trunk" set. For three and a half years he's been on his ranch, raising blooded horses, dates, and fruit. Now he's back and we have another leading man on our list. . . . Bob Hutton from New York stage makes his screen debut in "Animal Kingdom." . . . When Peter Duray passed away suddenly his friends got together and bought a beautiful tree for the Motion Picture Relief Fund home, with a plaque dedicating it in his memory. . . . Only in Hollywood could a forest of trees be turned into metal salvage. Happened on "Flesh and Fantasy." A huge forest had to withstand a hurricane, so trees were built of metal, plaster, and paint. And after the picture was finished were turned over to the scrap heap. There's enough metal to make three or four jeeps.

Smile, Maybe.

While J. Carrol Naish was on the desert he met the broccoli baron, so they've joined forces. I don't know what he has in mind, but look where broccoli got Pat Di Cicco. . . . Edith Head came to call and left a bottle of medicine on my desk. I phoned about it, and she said, "Send it over, please. I'm too nervous to come get it." On the bottle was written: "To be taken three times daily for nervousness." . . . A Yank writes from India: "Soldiers were agog over a tantalizing exotic creature who left us with 'that old feeling.' 'Miss Glamour' or 'The Brown Bomber,' as she was called, left the boys sizzling like the hotseat at Sing Sing, so they named her 'Miss India of 1943.'" . . . Buzz Berkeley likes it so well at Twentieth Century [and vice versa] he's making plans to stay on for three more. . . . Harry Sherman's ex-wife, Florence, is critically ill.

A fund of $19,482 to provide scholarships for students who excel in English will be received by Northwestern university from the estate of Edwin L. Shuman, New York text book editor and writer who died Dec. 13, 1941.

Students "who excel in the writing of clear, idiomatic, and correct English" will be eligible for the scholarships, in the amounts of $150 for half term tuition, or $300 for a full year, it was said at the university yesterday. Mr. Shuman also willed his library of 1,000 volumes to Northwestern.

He was graduated from the university in 1887, and while a student he organized the first campus printing press, the forerunner of the Northwestern University press. He was literary editor for The Chicago Tribune from 1895 to 1900, and later went to New York. Since 1935 he had been new book editor for Funk & Wagnalls company. Sybil Shearer Makes Debut in Dance Recital

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Sybil Shearer, a young dancer with an exceptionally strong technique, an incommunicable aloofness of expression, and a dangerous monotony of style, appeared in Chicago début recital at the Goodman theater last night, with Jeanne Panot as her accompanist.

A glimpse of Miss Shearer's work was enough to explain why Agnes De Mille wanted her to dance the leading rôle in "Rodeo." Like Miss De Mille's own, Miss Shearer's dancing has the sturdiness of a wild pony, tho hers is a stronger, more inimical wildness, with implicit qualities of the untamed and the untamable.

Her dancing stems out of superb control of body movement as far from Martha Graham's patrician bearing as a wild gallop from a minuet. It gives her exceptional power, but that basic roughness also imprisons her, even as her lack of audience projection puts her in solitary confinement. It is useful, up to a point, but it causes her to cling to choreography that repeats itself in a kind of groove of concentrations, almost without variation.

From a purely physical standpoint, Miss Shearer was at her best in the breathless, hurling impact of the dance she calls "And Prophecy." Yet tho so abandoned a quality of flight must have been born of fear, what you felt from her performance was profound admiration for a climactic display of technical brilliance. Had the dance been entirely what she meant it to be, you would have felt only what should have been its nameless terror.

Where from the true dance point of view she was more successful was in "Arise and Dance," when for an instant she hesitated at the apex of a well designed abstraction. The hesitation was human, communicative and inexplicably lovely, tho it was no more than the gentle and precise placing of a brave young foot at a higher level. It was important in itself, because it was beautiful, and doubly important in the assurance that neither aloofness nor monotony is likely to remain a blemish on so promising a dance style.

Miss Panot played Miss Shearer's accompaniments with a sympathetic clarity that was of genuine value. When she came out to add her own playing of Liszt's Concert Etude in F minor to the program, something [I could not discover what] was wrong with the piano or the lighting. She began, then stopped, walked off the stage, and returned to start again. This would upset a veteran, and it did Miss Panot no good. Her performance was spotty, with no more than interludes to prove her worth as soloist.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Please decide a wager that was made over the following hand. The wager was small, but the argument was terrific.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Rubber bridge.

NORTH
♠ A K 8 7
♥ 7 4 3
♦ Q J 10 6 5
♣ 9

WEST

♦ K 9
♣ Q J 8 3 2

EAST

♥ A 9 6
♦ 7 4
♣ A 10 5 4

SOUTH
♠ 9
♥ K Q 8 5 2
♦ A 8 3 2
♣ K 7 6

"North opened the bidding with one spade, East passed, and South responded with two hearts. After West's pass what is North's proper rebid? Incidentally, there is no argument over the original bid. We all agree that while it was light, it was legitimate, and that one spade was the correct 'prepared bid' so that North could find an easy rebid if South answered with two clubs."

North's correct rebid to South's two heart takeout was three hearts—and for this simple reason: Only two rebids by North were conceivable, i. e., three hearts or three diamonds. If North chose the former, the entire bidding sequence would proceed as follows:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass
4 hearts[!]	Pass	Pass	Pass

It will be observed that in this sequence North not only refuses to bid the diamonds on his own hook, but also refuses to raise the suit when South bids it. Why? Because if North either initiates the diamond bidding over partner's two hearts, or raises the diamond suit after he has previously raised hearts, South has every reason to look to North for at least one additional high card trick. In the sequence I have suggested, South makes his slam try when he bids four diamonds; when North signs off at four hearts, South has no right to persist.

Now see what happens when North chooses the other rebid:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 diamonds	Pass	4 diamonds	Pass

At this point if North bids four hearts South will get really optimistic, and with excellent reason. North's three diamond bid, on top of his opening, announced a good hand; now when he supports hearts South will be sure that a slam is in the combined hands.

Conversely, if North, suddenly realizing that he is bidding the hand too strongly by opening with spades, then showing diamonds, and then raising hearts, attempts to "get out" at five diamonds, he will find himself in an unmakeable contract, even if South conservatively stops short of a slam.

DODGERS BEAT YANKS, 4-3, WITH TWO IN 8TH

PURDUE CLOSES SPRING DRILLS; HAS 81 PLAYERS

Coaches Flock to Final Clinic.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., April 9.—Purdue university's football candidates completed seven weeks of spring practice this afternoon with an exhibition game for the 125 coaches who are attending the annual Purdue football clinic. While the majority of this Boilermaker squad will not be present this fall for the Western conference campaign, 81 players were enrolled for the spring drills conducted by Elmer Burnham. So far as Purdue officials know, this is the record for spring practice thruout the nation.

"Our primary consideration this spring," Coach Burnham said this afternoon, "has been the physical conditioning of the players. We are thinking of next fall's schedule, but active planning for the 1943 games must be postponed until the fall term when we will start with the personnel available at that time."

Navy May Furnish Men.

Purdue's spring term ends April 20 and the summer term, which begins April 28, will end the latter part of August. In addition to the freshmen who enroll later this month and in August, Purdue expects to draw some gridiron material from the navy program. The university has been accredited by the navy. The army also plans to have 500 men here in its general educational program.

"Most of these boys will not be with us next fall, but because of their love for the game and their desire to maintain themselves in top-notch condition, they have worked harder than one would suspect," Burnham added. "I hope the training we have provided will make them better soldiers, sailors, or marines.

"Even if we have to start from scratch, we'll have a representative team. Our concern is the war and our program will provide a marker on the road to victory."

Clinic Attendance Heartening.

Attendance at the 12th Purdue football clinic has been a surprise to Guy Mackey, Purdue's director of athletics.

"We found, however, that there was a greater demand than ever," Mackey said. "More than 100 were enrolled by noon today and our total attendance for two days will approximate last year's. Many men are taking over positions vacated because of the call to service and our clinic is an invaluable aid to this group. The response from high school coaches thruout the central states has been exceptional in view of the difficulties of transportation."

High school coaches from Chicago who enrolled today at the fieldhouse are E. J. Moore and D. J. Barder, Lindblom; Al Herman, Kelly; Elliott Hasan and Henry M. Schultz, Hyde Park; William C. Heiland, Austin, and Louis G. Jorndt, Amundsen.

Spears Learns the T.

Dr. Clarence Spears, recently appointed football coach at the University of Maryland, was among the group of college coaches attending. Spears may be particularly interested in tomorrow's discussion by Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears on "Quarter Backing the T Formation" since Spears' predecessor at Maryland, Clark Shaughnessy, has left him a squad grounded in this style of attack.

Mike Michalske, Iowa State football coach, will speak tomorrow morning on the "Fundamentals of Line Play."

Today's speakers at the clinic and their subjects were:

Harrison Berkey, Elkhart, Ind., High school, "Shifting Defense to Meet Man in Motion Plays."

Dr. S. J. Miller, director of student health service for Purdue, and Lon Mann, Purdue varsity trainer, "Injury and Training Problems."

E. S. Stuteville, Attica, Ind., High school, "Six Man Football."

Milt Piepul, Cathedral High school, Indianapolis, "Returning Kick-offs."

Max Kidd, Brazil, Ind., High school, "Returning Punts."

Pete Kovachic, Whiting, Ind., High school, "Blocking Punts."

Sid Gilman, Miami university, Oxford, O., "Signals to Meet Changing Defenses."

The annual clinic banquet was held this evening in the Purdue Union building and was followed by a smoker for the coaches at which the National Football league film was shown.

WEATHER PUTS OFF MICHIGAN, IOWA OPENER

Iowa City, Ia., April 9 [Special].—Because of the weather, Iowa and Michigan, which tied for the Western conference baseball championship last season, were unable to meet today in a game scheduled to be the opener of the Big Ten campaign. A double header will be played here tomorrow.

Previous to the 1942 tie for the Big Ten title, Michigan had taken the 1941 championship with Iowa in second place. Added interest will be attached to tomorrow's double header because these teams went thru their 1941 and 1942 seasons without meeting.

CLYDE McCULLOUGH, Cub catcher, on the day he visited his teammates at Evansville didn't have much luck convincing his boss, Jim Gallagher, that he deserved more money than he had been offered, but he did have the pleasure of submitting to interviews. . . . Clyde's best thought was: "I haven't asked the Cubs to pay me anywhere near what I am worth. I know no club could afford that kind of money in these times." . . . That year there was a big swamp beyond center field and the ball bounded into the water and reeds with Cullop in merry pursuit. . . . A few seconds later he rushed back shouting that an alligator was after him. . . . Other members of the team streaked to the edge of the swamp in time to see a huge alligator leave the spot and swim away. . . . Cullop refused to play center field again until the city put up a wire net.

"There's a War On, You Know."

Almost anything people object to
As their daily way they go
Seems to bring the routine answer,
"There's a war on now, you know."
At times that retort inevitable
Not exactly in place would seem,
Let me tell you this little incident
And you'll see just what I mean.

I heard today of a woman
Who, shopping in a store,
Was rather abruptly given
That answer and nothing more.
"Oh, yes," she replied with a patient smile,
"I know quite a lot about wars;"
Then she threw back her coat and displayed a pin
From which gleamed four silver stars!

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A one-two-three sweep of a single event by one swimming club is not exactly a rationed commodity, but neither is it an every day happenstance. Yet that's what Sue Zimmerman, Brenda Helser, and Nancy Merki of the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland, Ore., cut themselves up last evening when they ran off with the first three places in the 100 yard free style championship of the National A. A. U. women's senior meet in the Medinah club pool.

Miss Zimmerman, 17 year old high school student, had a two yard advantage over Miss Helser, Stanford university freshman, after the four-length dash up and down the pool. Sue, swimming in the No. 1 lane, took a lead at the start which she never yielded. Miss Helser, taking off in the fifth lane, found plenty of competition from Miss Merki, the 16 year old who conquered infantile paralysis at the age of 9.

Defending Champion Fifth.

When it was all over no photo was required to separate the three Oregonians from their other two rivals. These were Muriel Mellon of the Florence club of San Diego, Cal., who took fourth place from the defending champion, Marilyn Sahner of the Women's Swimming Association of New York. Miss Zimmerman's time was 1:02.2, 1.2 seconds over the A. A. U. meet record of 1:01, set by Halina Tomska of Detroit.

Black haired Anne Ross of the Dragon club of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the 1 meter diving title for the third consecutive year. Miss Ross, a 19-year-old sophomore in New York's Barnard college, who also holds the 3 meter outdoor championship of the A. A. U., piled up a tidy batch of points in the five compulsory dives and then ran away from the other three contestants in her optional repertoire. Her point total was 126.23, against 111.63 for Dorothy Ziegler of the Medinah club, 107.98 for 12-year-old Zoe Ann Olsen of Laporte City, Ia., and 104.43 for Virginia Fitzgerald of the Lake Shore club of Chicago.

Joan Fogle Wins Medley.

The third champion to be crowned was 14 year old Joan Fogle of the Riviera club of Indianapolis. Joan ran off with a 2 yard margin over Alyce Miller of the Lido club of Evanston, after the latter had given her a bit of a run thru the back and breast stroke stages of the 300 yard individual medley race. Joan's time was 4 minutes, 7.6 seconds. Florence Schmitt of the Women's Swimming Association of New York was third, Katherine Breen of the Firestone Club of Akron, O., fourth, and the winner's 16 year old sister, June, fifth.

Chief Petty Officer Adolph Kiefer of the navy doffed his blues for a pair of trunks and gave the crowd a backstroke and comedy demonstration.

The triple finish gave Multnomah a total of 10 points and first place in the team standings going into today's second phase of the three day program. Preliminaries in the 400 yard free style relay, the 100 yard back stroke, the 220 yard breast stroke, and the 440 yard free style will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with the evening finals scheduled for 7:45 p. m.

FINALS.

100 YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Sue Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.; Brenda Helser, Portland, Ore., second; Nancy Merki, Portland, Ore., third; Muriel Mellon, San Diego, Cal., fourth; Marilyn Sahner, New York, fifth. Time, 1:02.2.

300 YARD INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY—Won by Joan Fogle, Indianapolis, Ind.; Alyce Miller, Evanston, Ill., second; Florence Schmitt, New York, third; Katherine Breen, Akron, O., fourth; June Fogle, Indianapolis, fifth. Time, 4:07.6.

ONE METER DIVING—Won by Ann Ross, Dragon club, Brooklyn, 126.93 points; Dorothy Ziegler, Medinah club, second, 111.63 points; Zoe Ann Olsen, La Porte City, Ia., third, 107.98 points; Virginia Fitzgerald, Lake Shore club, fourth, 104.43.

A CLEAN SWEEP FOR PORTLAND

CUBS TO BATTLE COLONELS TODAY

Weather Prevents Duel with Cincinnati.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ind., April 9.—The weatherman this afternoon finally got around to kicking over the Cubs' record for uninterrupted spring training. Skipper Jim Wilson's boys were here to play the Cincinnati Reds after 18 days without being washed or frozen out, but Indiana university's Jordan field was unfit for use. At 1 o'clock the contest was called off and the Chicagoans headed for French Lick.

Tomorrow, plus gents left at home today, the same crew will head for Louisville for Saturday and Sunday engagements with the Colonels of the American association. Claude Passeau, Bill Lee, and Lon Warneke, who were to have pitched today against the Reds' Clyde Shoun and Elmer Riddle, will face easier going tomorrow.

Expect Passeau to Open.

The National league opener now is only a dozen days away and Manager Wilson has begun to work his pitchers with a calendar close at hand. He expects to use Passeau in the opener against the Pirates on April 21, followed by Bill Lee on April 22, Hi Bithorn on April 23, and possibly Eddie Hanyzewski on April 25, final day of the first home stand.

Passeau, Jim says, probably will get his second start in the St. Louis home opener on April 27 and Paul Derringer and Lon Warneke also are likely to go in the first road series. Derringer may get a shot in the first home stand, but Wilson says he doesn't think Warneke will be ready for nine innings until the second week of the season.

The cancellation of today's exhibition prevented Infielder Eddie Stanky, who signed yesterday, from making his debut as a Cub. The young shortstop will play second base tomorrow, however, if weather conditions in Louisville permit.

McCullough May Weaken.

It is expected that Catcher Clyde McCullough, one of the Cubs' two lingering holdouts, will be in Louisville for his second visit with the team this spring. [He was in Evansville last Saturday.]

With the joining up of Stanky it is believed that Clyde will sign if he visits the team again. Manager Wilson has assured him that he hasn't a chance to wheedle any more money out of General Manager Jim Gallagher. It is believed that by now McCullough is beginning to suspect his act is a bust.

The Cubs have not decided when to start the camp breaking process, tho it is known that 26 of the party will arrive in Chicago on next Friday morning. Others may get to Chicago 24 or even 48 hours earlier.

The Cubs will play the Sox in Wrigley field on Friday, in Comiskey park Saturday, in Wrigley field again Sunday April 18, and Monday in Comiskey park.

Sox Have Unusual Problem; Pitchers Are Too Plentiful

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

French Lick, Ind., April 9.—The weather man hasn't given the White Sox much trouble this spring, but he did do his stuff around the camp today and among those least disturbed was Manager Jimmy Dykes. The delay enabled him to give a little thought to the eventual trimming of his pitching staff from the 13 now present to 10.

Pitching is the last problem on Dykes' worry chart, but he finally got to it because all the others are too perplexing for speedy solution. He'll have plenty of starters and a suitable quantity of relief men. An additional complication is that he may be forced to retain some hurlers, not because they'll work as such, but because Uncle Sam's draft can make it necessary to protect other departments of play.

This Is a Pretty Fair Staff.

The pitching has been above average for a long time, altho the same can't be said for the hitting. Off hand, you'd say he has such older employés as Bill Dietrich, John Humphries, Eddie Smith, Lee Ross, Thornton Lee, and possibly Joe Haynes as starters. Jake Wade, the lefty who was picked up last season after being forced out of baseball by a dead arm, broke even in 10 games, so he too enters the picture. That's not a bad staff, but there are other possibilities.

Bill Swift, the ex-National leaguer who was salvaged from the St. Paul club could develop into an asset, because, with plenty of starters, Dykes can give the old-timer long rest periods. Floyd Speer and Gordon Maltzberger gathered 31 victories for Shreveport last season and such marks would intrigue any manager. Still others are Don [Semi-Pro] Hanski, who hits as if he should be playing the outfield, Ed Weiland, and Orval Grove. The latter, however, faces a possible army summons.

Lee Is Question Mark.

Lee's possible worth is still of some concern but it is too early to pass judgment. Players of his age are doubly cautious and he has an extra reason for not wishing to pitch in exhibition games. Last season he dropped to two victories from 22 in 1941, because of a throat infection that spread into his arm. He's had a slight recurrence of throat trouble but, so far, his arm is in shape.

The Sox will be up early again tomorrow, the schedule calling for Saturday and Sunday appearances in Lafayette against the Indianapolis club. Tomorrow's pitching program provides three-inning stretches for Dietrich, Smith, and Ross. On Sunday, the job will be shared by Humphries, Grove, and Haynes. Jimmy Grant, the freshman third baseman, will be left behind because of his sore arm.

TWO SINGLES, DOUBLE, ERROR UPSET BOROWY

Medwick's Hitting Turns Tide.

New York, April 9 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers counted two runs in the eighth inning to break a 2 to 2 deadlock, choked off a counter drive by the Yankees later in the same inning, and scored a 4 to 3 victory over the American league champions before 2,443 in Yankee stadium this afternoon.

In the first inning the Yanks counted one run off Whitlow Wyatt, who started for the Dodgers, and added another off him in the fourth to take a 2 to 0 lead.

Eighth Is Big Inning.

Brooklyn came back in the fifth to score a single run off Hank Borowy, who had just relieved Spud Chandler. They tied the count in the next inning and pushed across the deciding tallies in the eighth on two singles, a double by Joe Medwick, and an error.

Newt Kimball, who followed Wyatt in the fifth, was given credit for the victory. The defeat was charged against Borowy, who yielded eight hits in the last five innings.

Augie Galan, who divided his duties between center field and first base, led the winners' attack with four hits in five appearances at the plate, while Medwick collected three hits, including a double and a triple, and drove in two runs. Joe Gordon paced the Yankee hitters with three safeties, which included a double. Score:

VALDINA FARM PICKS CHICAGO FOR CAMPAIGN

Purse Schedule Suited for Stable's Stars.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Emerson F. Woodward, Texas oil man, who is the proprietor of the Valdina farm stable, has chosen the Chicago circuit as the site of his racing operations during the coming summer and it so happens that this year, more than ever before, the stake and purse schedule is made to order for the two stars of his establishment—the handsome bay coated Valdina Orphan and the stretch running Irish bred colt, Rounders.

Chicago fans saw both of these horses perform two or three times last summer, but the 1943 schedule drafted by Arlington Park and Washington Park has a continuous series of events which will give them opportunity to run for worthwhile purses as often as Trainer Frank Catrone wishes to send them to the post.

Valdina Orphan Comes Thru.

Between his campaign as a 2 year old in 1941 and his 3 year old season, Valdina Orphan turned into a picture horse. But that wasn't all. He was not only one of the handsomest animals on the track during the parades to the post, he also looked mighty good to his backers along toward the finish of quite a few races.

In winning last season's Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct, for instance, he ran a race which ranks with the half dozen best performances at a mile and a quarter in American turf history. His time of 2:01 2/5 broke the track record and was the speediest run of the year at that distance. The American record is Whisk Broom II.'s 2:00, which was delivered at Belmont Park in 1913, but few horses ever have come much closer to it than Valdina Orphan. His time equaled that of Whirlaway's sensational mile and a quarter in the Kentucky Derby of 1941.

Second to Shut Out.

In the Chicago area last year, Valdina Orphan's best work was done in taking second to Shut Out in the rich Arlington Classic. It was at Arlington also that his stablemate Rounders delivered his most stirring performance. This Valdina farm colt took on Whirlaway in the Arlington handicap at a mile and a quarter, shortly after the Calumet farm star had become the world's leading money winner. In that race Rounders scored one of the major upsets of the year by outrunning the champion in the stretch and beating him handily to the finish.

Both Valdina Orphan and Rounders are 4 year olds this season and both are expected to figure prominently in one of the most eventful handicap campaigns of some time. They'll join Whirlaway, Alsab, Shut Out and other outstanding horses to make up an exceptionally brilliant cast of rivals for supremacy among the older performers.

The Arlington and Washington Park programs call for a distribution of $1,192,800 during the coordinated meetings which run from June 21 to Sept. 6. This is money actually put up by the tracks. It will be swelled by nomination, eligibility and starting fees for the various stakes—so there will be a lot for the stable owners to shoot for without ever shipping out of the Chicago area all summer.

In addition to the outstanding events for older horses, such as the Stars and Stripes, the Arlington Park and Washington Park handicaps, there are many $5,000 and $10,000 stakes to keep the top performers in racing condition.

4 PREP SQUADS TO MEET TODAY AT NOTRE DAME

South Bend, Ind., April 9 [Special.]—Track athletes from Fort Wayne North Side, Hammond Central, South Bend Central, and Mishawaka High schools will compete in a quadrangular meet in the Notre Dame fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon. The meet brings together Indiana's two ranking track teams of last year, North Side having won the state high school meet with Hammond finished second.

Ashley Hawk, North Side's star distance runner, is expected to draw the major individual attention. As a sophomore last year, Hawk cracked the half mile record for the Gary relays in the Notre Dame fieldhouse in 2:01.8, and lowered the state meet mark for the same distance, but was disqualified when a foul was called against him on a turn. He was timed in 1:57.5, the prevailing record being 1:57.9.

SAVOLD STARTS TO PREPARE FOR FRANKLIN FIGHT

Lee Does Gym Work and Lem Spars.

Lee Savold, heavyweight contender from Paterson, N. J., opened workouts in Ringside loop gymnasium yesterday for a 10 round rubber bout with Lem Franklin in Chicago Stadium next Friday. Savold, who obtained revenge for a previous knockout suffered at the hands of Franklin when he floored Lem for the count in a rematch last February, confined his activities to loosening up exercises. He will resume drills this afternoon by sparring several rounds with Nate Bolden.

Tho he hasn't fought since knocking out Jack Marshall in Kansas City, Mo., on March 15, Savold appeared to be in fine fettle as he punched the light and heavy bags.

Franklin Shoots Right.

Franklin, who had been given a rest on Thursday, returned to training chores yesterday by sparring three rounds with Hubert Hood. Lem's dangerous right hand was much in evidence thruout.

Bolden also boxed for a 10 round semi-windup on the Stadium card, against Tony Musto, Blue Island heavyweight. Nate went several rounds with Al Jordan, Kansas City heavyweight, and Zack Robinson, local middleweight. Musto, who was idle yesterday, will be back in harness today.

Hunt Joins Sparring Staff.

Jimmy Hunt, 1943 city Golden Gloves welterweight champion, has been added to Tommy James' sparring staff for James' 10 round supporting event against Al [Bummy] Davis of Brooklyn next Friday.

70 Men Out for Michigan Football Drill

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 9 [Special]. — Michigan's spring football squad, which numbered 52 Monday when practice began, has been swelled to 70 candidates.

Freshmen compromise the bulk of the Wolverine squad and only three of last season's lettermen are on hand. Also, most of them are members of military or naval reserve units or are subject to early draft calls and may not be available next fall.

"It is apparent," said Coach Fritz Crisler today, "there is full realization college teams in 1943 will be made up largely of men who would have had little chance to play in normal times. Very few of our spring squad have had any experience in college football. The others played a little in high school and are out now because, for the first time, they feel they have a chance to make their college team. They realize, too, the conditioning values of football and even tho a good many of them face an early call to active duty in the service, they have reported because of the physical benefits to be derived from the game."

A Housewife Wins Tribune Casting Title

BY BEN MARKLAND.

About 20 months ago Mrs. Harry McDonald, 601 West 47th street, used a fishing rod and reel for the first time. Like every angling novice, she had her share of back lashes and wide misses while she was learning the fundamentals. Last night in the Chicago Stadium there were no back lashes and only three misses as she outclassed a field of 13 of the leading feminine casters of the Chicago area to win the ladies' title in the casting tournament being sponsored by THE TRIBUNE in conjunction with the International Sportsmen's show.

Mrs. McDonald, a member of the Jackson Park Casting club, hit squarely in the center of seven of the 10 targets. On all three of the other casts she was within a foot of the rings to finish with a score of 97, four points ahead of her nearest competitors.

Mrs. Chatt Second.

Winning casting titles is nothing new to the young housewife. Last summer, after only a a year of casting, she won the national ⅝ ounce ladies' championship and missed the ⅝ ounce title by only one point. In last year's Tribune tourney she had a score of 99 until the ninth ring, when a backlash put her out of the running.

Mrs. Howard Chatt, 7308 Crandon avenue, four time winner of the ladies' title, placed second last night after a castoff necessitated by a tie score in the original event. Mrs. Chat tallied 93 along with Mrs. Chester Garnsey and Mrs. Florence Manacin. In the castoff Mrs. Chatt scored 96 to beat Mrs. Garnsey's 94 and Mrs. Manacin's 93.

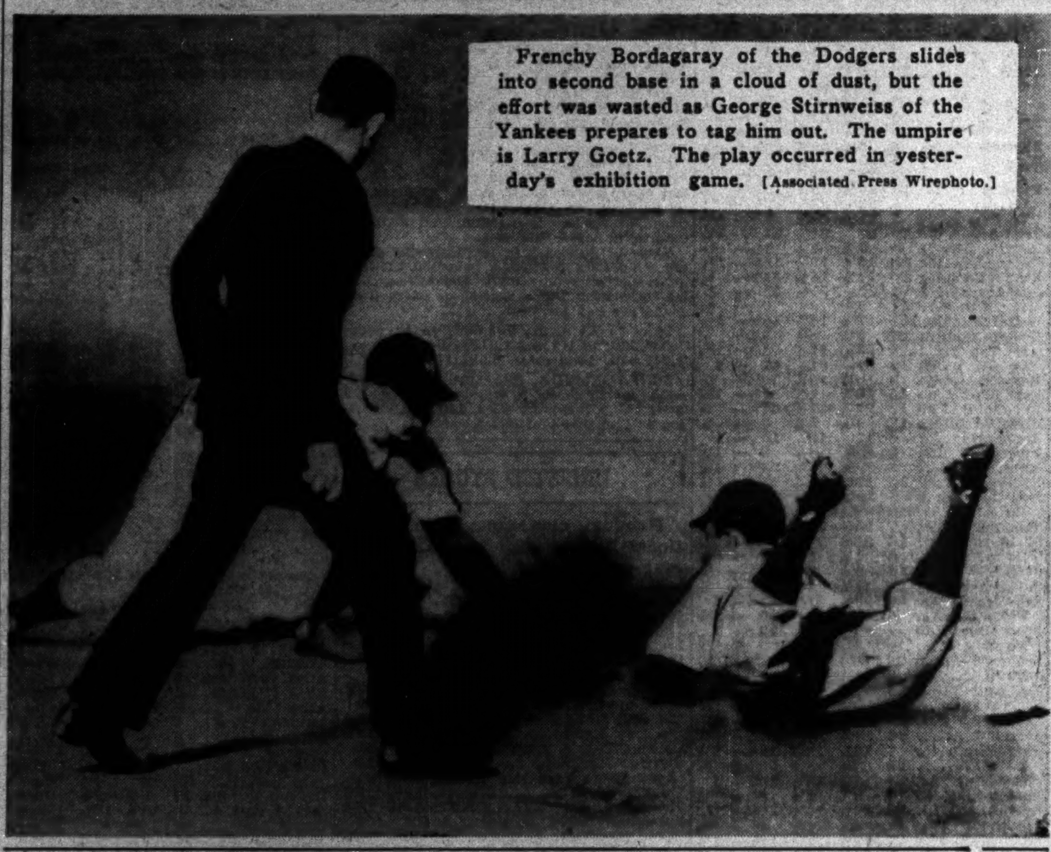
Edward Stein, a student at William Wirt High school, Gary, won the junior event by scoring 95 to defeat his neighbor and fellow member of the Gary Anglers club, Harland Clements. Edward, Illinois junior champion, tallied 95 to top the 93 tallied by Garland, a sophomore at Emerson High school in Gary. Kenneth Anderson, Evergreen Park, was third in the event after beating 11 year old George Bennett in the castoff. Both had scored 87 in the original event, but Kenneth beat George in the castoff, 86 to 73.

The final bait casting competition will be held tonight, with qualifiers of the past week competing for the club championship and the fishermen's title. Dorothy Ullrich, a WAVE stationed at Great Lakes, will present the championship trophies. Miss Ullrich has two brothers serving in North Africa, one of whom was wounded in action.

A DODGER ARRIVES TOO LATE



Frenchy Bordagaray of the Dodgers slides into second base in a cloud of dust, but the effort was wasted as George Stirnweiss of the Yankees prepares to tag him out. The umpire is Larry Goetz. The play occurred in yesterday's exhibition game. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

N. U. NINE MEETS SAILORS TODAY

Two Wildcat Regulars in First Home Game.

Northwestern's baseball team will open its home season today against Navy Pier on the Evanston High school field at 2:30 p. m. The game was shifted to the high school diamond because the Wildcats' field is not ready. It will be the season opener for the Bluejackets.

The navy nine will use a professional battery. Len Perme, property of the White Sox, who won 18 games and lost 15 for Waterloo last summer, will be on the mound and Nelson Burbrink, who played with the Ashland [Ky.] team a year ago, will catch. Several other players with league experience will be in the Pier lineup.

Two Regulars in Lineup.

Northwestern's early drills have been handicapped by lack of a diamond. The team has been forced to work out on the football practice field while waiting for the baseball field to drain.

Only two regulars from last year will be in the Wildcats' starting lineup. They are Capt. Russ Wendland, first base, and Otto Graham, third base. The latter was switched from center field to third this spring. Reserves from last year include Bob Busse and Bill Zeaman, pitchers, Dick Bowen, catcher, Bob Mackey, second, and Bob Linberg, shortstop.

MAROONS AT NOTRE DAME.

The University of Chicago baseball team will open its 1943 schedule of 20 games at Notre Dame today, with either Freshman Bill Corson or Dick Reynolds, a converted outfielder, on the mound.

Half of the Maroons' games will be played on the road, including 6 of the 10 contests with Western conference nines. Six games will be against service teams, with the possibility that a seventh, a home meeting with Camp Grant, may be arranged.

Softball Association to Open 10th Meeting Today

The 10th annual meeting of the Amateur Softball Association of America will be held today and tomorrow in the Medinah club. Representatives from more than 30 states and metropolitan areas will attend. One of the purposes of the convention is to interest industrialists in the promotion of softball. The program also includes a hearing on charges made against the Chicago Girls' league at the recent A. A. U. convention and the subject of the girls signing professional contracts. Still another item will be discussion of plans for intramural and league games for the various branches of the military services.

White Sox's Culler Is Handy Gent at Second, Third, Short

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Dick Culler.

French Lick, Ind., April 9.—Guys who are not fussy about which position they play are in demand, because of a man power shortage in the major leagues, so James Dykes, the White Sox boss, thinks Old Lady Luck was working in his behalf when he drew Richard Broadus Culler in last winter's draft.

Culler can make himself right at home either at second, short, or third and, with Uncle Sam closing in on some of the other Sox infielders, the St. Paul graduate may be forced to take on all these positions in turn during the coming summer. He'll do wherever stationed, at least on defense, because he has a reputation as a fielding jack rabbit. The American association experts tabbed him a better article than Phil Rizzuto, who went to the Yankees, and was considered pretty good.

He's an Old College Man.

To look at the lad, you'd take him neither for an athlete nor a 28 year old family man, but his athletic feats are part of the atmosphere on the High Point [N. C.] college campus. He was graduated in 1936, but they still talk of what a shark he was at baseball, basketball, and soccer. He acted as coach in the latter sport and the reward was several state titles.

Summer baseball for collegians isn't an unforgivable sin in Culler's section, so he made the game pay him a few cash dividends while he was still a collegian producing headlines for his alma mater. He played with a semi-pro team managed by Jim Poole, an ex-Athletic, during the 1934 vacation. The next summer he found employment with the Concord team in the Carolina Independent league. He returned there after graduation and was signed by Ira Thomas, talent scout for Connie Mack.

He Goes Back to the Minors.

He played the last couple of weeks of the 1936 season with the A's, went to Mexico City with them for training the following spring, and subsequently drifted back into the minors to start a fresh but slow climb. The fielding flash was shipped into the Bi-State league, where his defensive play made the customers forget Rizzuto, who had preceded him. The next step was to Nashville for 1940 to hang up a Southern association record of 208 double plays. Then came graduation to St. Paul, where his fielding eventually boosted him along the road to the White Sox.

His hitting has been just fair as averages are considered, but he's the tricky type who can punch a ball around and also bunt with amazing accuracy.

PEP WINS FROM SAL BARTOLO IN CLOSE BATTLE

Boston, Mass., April 9 (AP).—Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., holder of the New York version of the featherweight title, had one of the hardest tasks of his career tonight gaining a divided decision over Sal Bartolo of Boston in an overweight 10 round bout before 15,949 in the Boston Garden.

Pep, who has lost only one of his 64 starts, had to keep his fists flying at full speed to prevent Bartolo, who did most of the forcing, from piercing his defenses. Each weighed 127¾ pounds.

Prep Baseball

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Practice Games.

Phillips, 8; Calumet, 3.
Von Steuben, 2; Wells, 0.
Oak Park, 2; Steinmetz, 0.
Kelly, 2; Marshall, 1.
Taft, 9; Foreman, 1.
Lane, 12; Crane, 6.
Evanston, 22; Sullivan, 0.
Lake View, 6; Washburne, 5.
Austin, 9; Schurz, 8.
Farragut, 14; Kelvyn Park, 4.

Art Bruck's triple in the last of the seventh, driving in Gene Magiera who had singled, gave Kelly High school a 2 to 1 victory over Marshall yesterday in a practice baseball game played in McKinley park. Kelly scored a run in the fourth inning only to have Marshall tie the score in the first of the sixth.

Doubles by Roy Wiedow and Stan Madson, coupled with an error, provided Oak Park of the Suburban league with two runs and a 2 to 0 victory over Steinmetz of the City league in a practice game played in Oak Park.

Pitches One Hitter.

Marvin Rotblatt pitched Von Steuben to a 2 to 0 shutout over Wells in River Park, yielding only one hit which came in the seventh inning. Rotblatt, a southpaw, struck out 10. Von Steuben scored twice in the first inning, the main factor being Roy Lindell's triple.

Six runs in the fourth gave Phillips an 8 to 3 victory over Calumet in Buettner park and evened the teams' two game series. Bud Blake slammed out a home run in the first inning for Calumet.

Lane Bombards Crane.

Lane Tech unleashed its power attack and trounced Crane, 12 to 6, at Lane. It was the fifth straight practice victory for Lane. Taft smothered Foreman, 9 to 1, in Portage park, scoring in each of the first five innings. Austin jumped into an early lead and then repulsed Schurz's late rallies to win, 9 to 8, in Kilbourne park.

Evanston of the Suburban league whitewashed Sullivan of the City league, 22 to 0, in Evanston.

C. D. G. A. to Carry On in 1943 Season

The Chicago District Golf association, driving force in the campaign which made this city the war golf capital of the nation last year, is going to carry on thru the 1943 season. This was made plain at the regular monthly meeting of the C. D. G. A., held in the La Salle hotel far into Wednesday night, when the following actions were approved:

1. To gear the entire C. D. G. A. program to the war.
2. To hold a Chicago National Victory tournament for war relief.
3. To continue all of the association's regular events with the exception of the Chicago National Amateur tourney and the one day handicap events.
4. To study the possibility of a tournament for war workers.
5. To develop a dime-a-round contribution to war relief.

War Relief Tourney Planned.

Last summer the C. D. G. A., working with the U. S. G. A. and the P. G. A., conducted the Hale America National Open at Ridgemoor, netting a contribution of more than $25,000 to the U. S. O. and the Navy Relief society. Wednesday's meeting resulted in a decision to conduct another war relief event of national scope. A committee composed of L. D. Rutherford, Medinah, chairman; Thomas G. McMahon, Skokie, C. D. G. A. president, and M. G. Fessenden, Bob o' Link, to investigate immediately the possibilities of such an event to contact various war agencies as potential beneficiaries.

Such established C. D. G. A. tourneys as the junior closed and open, southpaws, champion of champions, Illinois state, Pater-Filius, caddy, club relations, and pro-amateur will be repeated. The Chicago National Amateur, which drew a field comparable to the U. S. G. A. Amateur in its 1941 inaugural, will be abandoned for 1943. Officials feel that in this war year, with so many leading stars in service, they could not do justice to their original intention of having an amateur event of national caliber.

Dime Per Round Liked.

President McMahon's suggestions on the war workers' tournament and the dime-a-round campaign were unanimously approved. Tournament Chairman Bob Emery of Big Foot and War Service Chairman Mel Keim of Northmoor were deputized to study the possibilities of an event such as those so successfully conducted in California.

The dime-a-round idea, originated by McMahon, already has been adopted by the California Daily Fee association and the Western Pennsylvania Golf association. Thru it each person playing a round would drop a dime in a box erected on the first tee for the purpose. The money would be turned over to a central bureau for distribution among war relief agencies. This could grow into a tidy sum, considering that an estimated 60,000,000 rounds are played in this country each year.

MOONEYS, GARY REACH FINALS IN Y TOURNEY

The Mooneys and the Gary Sportsmen club last night reached the final round of the Larrabee Y. M. C. A. Open basketball tournament. The Mooneys and Gary will meet tonight at 9:30 o'clock for the championship. At 8:30 p. m., the Division Street Y Clippers and Cicero will battle for third place and in a consolation game beginning at 7:30 the Lustig Billiards will oppose the Rookery club.

SECOND DAY AT JAMAICA: FANS WAGER $872,189

New York, April 9 (AP).—A second day crowd of 14,054 bet $872,189 at Jamaica today. Between races, Count Fleet, favorite for the Kentucky Derby, was sent a mile by Trainer Don Cameron and the John D. Hertz colt reached the wire in 1:39 1-5, going handily all the way after a running start. Count Fleet carried 120 pounds.

GREYHOUND '42 TRAFFIC RISES, PROFIT CLIMBS

Income of International Paper Slumps.

Two large companies—Greyhound corporation, Chicago, and International Paper company, New York—finished 1942 with contrasting results, their annual reports disclosed yesterday. Greyhound reported substantially increased net earnings, but profits of International Paper company dropped more than 50 per cent below those of 1941.

Wartime demand for transportation facilities resulted in a 64.5 per cent increase in the number of passengers carried by the Greyhound lines in 1942, with the result that net income of the Greyhound corporation increased to $8,427,971 from $6,529,597 in 1941. Earnings per common share, after preferred dividend requirements, were $2.96 and $2.28, respectively.

Tax Bill Increases.

Charges against 1942 income included provision of $1,217,750 for extraordinary post-war expenses. The company provided $29,416,991 for federal income and excess profits taxes last year, against $7,071,602 in 1941.

International Paper announced net income slumped to $7,814,319, or $1.75 a common share, in the year ended Dec. 31 from $16,253,761, or $6.37 a share, in the preceding year. Last year's profit, however, was after transfer to reserves of $2,346,658 of foreign subsidiaries, normally reported as part of net income, and included $1,919,504 in post-war excess profits tax credit.

Gross income in 1942 was $214,109,218, about 2 per cent below that of 1941. Provision for taxes totaled $26,194,500, compared with $31,149,577 the preceding year.

Output of Paper Drops.

Curtailment of both production and use of paper was reflected in a decline of 1.4 per cent in total output to 2,614,944 tons of paper, paperboard, and pulp, against 2,653,800 tons in 1941, the report said. Newsprint production, major item of the company's Canadian mills, dropped to 494,400 tons in 1942 from 518,232 tons a year ago.

Altho 1942 production of the Belmont Radio corporation, Chicago, was the highest in the firm's history, it was far below 1943 levels, Parnell S. Billings, president, said. Net income earned last year increased to $330,859, or $1.10 a share, from $281,136, or 94 cents a share, in 1941. Last year's profit was after a provision of $1,294,000 for refund to the government resulting from renegotiation and $812,291 for federal taxes. Taxes in 1941 were $138,121.

STOCKS TAKE BIGGEST TUMBLE SINCE NAZIS OVERRAN FRANCE

Prices Fall $1 to $3 on Anti-Inflation Drive by F.D.R.

New York, April 9 (AP).—Stocks tumbled today under the heaviest selling since the Nazis rolled into France in May, 1940, on liquidation attributed mainly to the new Presidential anti-inflation drive.

Prices dipped from the start. Below the market bids brought mild recoveries around noon, but offerings became heavier in the final hour and the ticker tape fell three minutes behind actual floor transactions for the first time since Dec. 9, 1941, just after Pearl Harbor. Closing losses generally ranged form 1 to 3 points.

Average Closes at Low.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at its low for the day, down 1.9 points to 47.4 on the biggest break for any day since May 21, 1940. The market again was one of the broadest in more than a year, 992 individual issues being traded.

Transfers totalled 2,521,410 shares, most since Monday when the turnover was 2,647,920, a peak since Dec. 29, 1941.

Wall street observers were surprised at the size of the reversal, in the face of cheering war news and optimistic economic forecasts. They remarked, however, that, notwithstanding the administration's strong stand on the price-wage situation and the prohibition of rate boosts by carriers and utilities, the list had been due for a "technical correction" after its almost uninterrupted climb from the bottom on last April to the highest since May 9, 1940, which was reached Tuesday.

Many Leaders Drop.

Conspicuous in the retreat were United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, New York Central, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Goodyear, United States Rubber, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Oliver Farm, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Anaconda, American Telephone, Western Union, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, du Pont, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Loew's, Hiram Walker, Standard Oil [N. J.], Consolidated Edison, and American Smelting.

On the curb, General Gas and Electric preferred "B" was hit for a 12½ point loss of small turnover.

SPECULATIVE BONDS HIT

New York, April 9 (AP).—President Roosevelt's "hold the line" statement against inflation put a severe dent in speculative bond prices today. Losses among low to medium priced rails, the group that has had the largest rise in recent months, ranged from major fractions to more than three points. Utilities and industrials escaped without much loss, and high priced investment issues held steady.

Sales of $15,938,000 compared with $12,242,500 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 20 rails lost a full point to 74.1, the largest decline since the United States went to war at the end of 1941.

Some of the active issues giving up a point or more were Lehigh Valley 4½s, Katy adjustment 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s of '78, New York Central 5s, New Haven 4½s, Northern Pacific 6s, 'Frisco 4s, Baltimore and Ohio stamped convertibles of '60, North Western 6½s, St. Paul 5s, and Rio Grande Western 4s.

United States government loans were a little lower.

CHICAGO DROP IS BIG

Chicago Stock exchange prices dropped sharply yesterday in trading of 66,000 shares. Of 141 issues changing hands, only 12 advanced, 117 declined, and 12 were unchanged. Among more active issues were Middle West corporation, down ¾; Chicago corporation, down ⅝; Libby, McNeill & Libby, down ½; Central and South West Utilities, unchanged, and RCA, down ⅝. In the final half hour, Aviation corporation and Bendix declined ⅛, and Houdaille-Hershey B and Libby declined ¼ from the New York close.

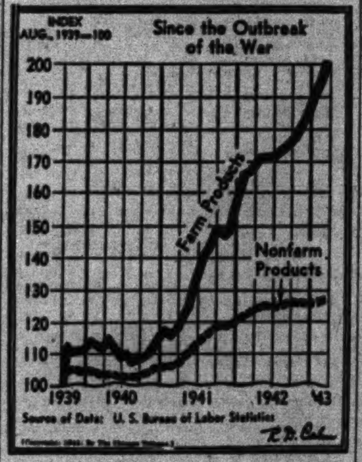
PRICES OF GRAIN BREAK ON NEW CONTROL ORDER

Confusion created by President Roosevelt's directive to Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown and Food Administrator Chester C. Davis to place ceiling prices on agricultural products at the minimum levels permitted by law caused a break in prices yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat declined 2⅛ cents a bushel, corn 1 cent, oats, 1⅜ cents, and rye 3 cents at the opening on general selling, but the downward movement quickly spent its force after execution of stop loss orders, and later short covering, and commission house buying brought about a strong rally. Closing prices of wheat futures showed losses of 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents. Corn was unchanged to ½ cent lower, with September below the ceiling price for the first time in weeks. Oats were ¾ to 1 cent lower and rye lost 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents.

Flour Ceiling Acts as Brake.

Altho there is no ceiling price on wheat, the price of that grain is controled to some extent by a ceiling on flour. There is a maximum on corn prices. As no benefit payments are made to farmers for raising oats and rye, brokers expressed belief that if ceilings are placed on the two grains they cannot be at less than parity, as provided in the price control act. Uncertainty as to how and when the new directive will become effective was responsible for the selling, brokers said.



The graph compares the movements of farm and nonfarm products prices.

There was some buying of wheat futures on the break which brokers attributed to millers who were removing hedges against sales of flour. The break carried May to $1.40¾, or 8½ cents below the recent high, and to the lowest level for wheat in about two months.

September corn sold at $1.04, off 1 cent from the ceiling price on scattered liquidation, but other futures held at the ceilings. Farmers and country grain dealers are said to be undisturbed by new Presidential decree and failed to sell cash grain in volume.

HOG PRICES SINK

Packers dealt the hog market a telling blow yesterday when reports that price ceilings on live stock may be announced soon aided them in their fight to get prices closer in line with their cut out value based on price ceilings for products in wholesale channels. Despite small receipts prices again fell to the lowest level in 16 days.

Declines ranged from 10 to 20 cents a hundred pounds, with a large part of the late transactions at the full downturn. Early buyers paid a 10 cent lower top price of $15.80, but similar types were bought later at $15.65 and $15.70. The average was 15 cents lower, at $15.60, lowest since March 24.

Receipts Again Are Light.

Supplies again were abnormally low at all principal markets. This week's arrivals in Chicago were the smallest in eight months and the second smallest for an April week in four years. The volume was 27 per cent below the average of the last six weeks.

Steady prices bought the light supply of steers, yearlings, and heifers. Best steers sold at $16.60 in the absence of highly finished stock. Most sales were from $14.00 to $15.50. No changes occurred in prices of beef cows, canners, cutters, calves, and bulls.

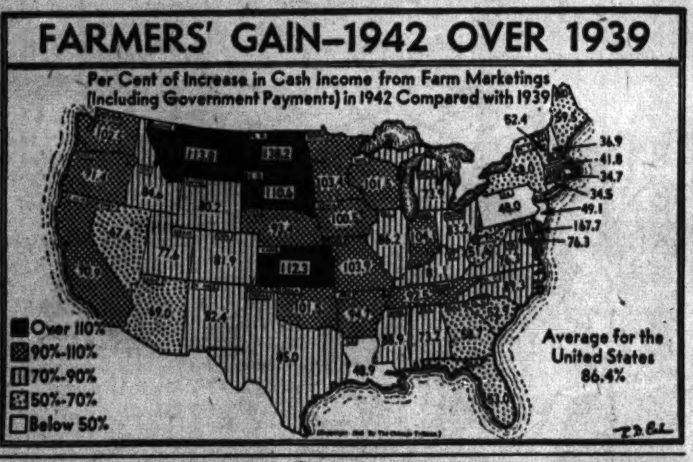
Most sheep and lambs were bought at steady to strong prices. Best loads brought $16.60.

COTTON FUTURES FALL

Cotton futures in New York yesterday dipped 55 cents to $1.05 a bale on heavy liquidation. New Orleans prices dropped 80 cents to $1.60 a bale. Wool futures declined more than a cent on commission house liquidation.

Plea to Halt Proceedings of Two Midlands Denied

Philadelphia, Pa., April 9 (AP).—The securities and exchange commission today denied the application of a protective stockholders' committee of Midland Utilities company for an order temporarily halting action and proceedings between Midland United company and Midland Utilities company. The committee asked that the proceedings be halted until after the settlement of certain claims between the two companies pending in the District court of Delaware.



Hog and Corn Price Control Plan Is Near

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and Price Administrator Prentiss Brown are expected to announce tomorrow a broad four point live stock and feed grain price program designed to eliminate a price "squeeze" on packers and to start corn moving freely into trade channels again.

The program, as outlined by informed persons, would include:

1.—The establishment of ceilings on prices for hogs, possibly at about $14.50 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, in the event other measures now in effect do not soon bring about a reduction in hog prices. Hogs have been bringing as much as $16.

2.—An increase in the support price for hogs. The agriculture department now has a base support price of $13.25, Chicago basis. Under the support program, the department guarantees farmers they will receive no less than the support figure. The support price may be raised to betwen $13.50 and $14.

Would Permit Corn Rise.

3.—An amendment to the present price ceiling on corn which would have the effect of permitting corn prices to advance about 6 cents a bushel to about the parity level.

4.—A request that hog farmers increase their fall pig crop by only 15 per cent above that of a year ago as compared with an indicated increase of 24 per cent in the current spring crop. Davis was said to believe that prospective feed grain supplies were insufficient to support a larger increase than 15 per cent.

The ceiling on hogs would be in line with President Roosevelt's recent anti-inflation order, it was said. Many packers have complained that they are forced to operate at a loss because of the narrow margin between ceiling prices on meat and uncontrolled live stock prices.

Will Hold Off Temporarily.

It was said that Davis and Brown had agreed to give present measures a chance to bring about a reduction in hog prices. Their program was said to include ceilings, however, in the event prices do not decline within a few weeks.

The increase in the ceiling on corn would be designed to start that grain moving again. Those owning corn have been holding it for possible higher prices.

Contrary to appearances, an increase in the price of corn would be in line, it was said, with efforts to reduce hog prices. It was explained that many farmers are feeding hogs to excessive weights because it was profitable to do so. An increase in corn prices could be expected to discourage extra heavy feeding and to bring about an immediate increase in hog marketing and quite possibly a reduction in prices, it was said.

RULES PAY DUE IDLE EMPLOYES NOT ON STRIKE

Freeport, Ill., April 9 [Special.] Circuit Judge Harry E. Wheat of Freeport today reversed a ruling by the state department of labor which denied unemployment compensation to some 200 employés of the Burgess Battery company who were idle for six weeks during a strike at the plant in which they were not involved.

Judge Wheat held that since the petitioning employés were not involved in the strike and were prevented from working thru no fault of their own they were entitled to compensation for the time lost.

INCOME IN FEBRUARY TOTALS 10.4 BILLIONS, RISE OF 29 PER CENT

Washington, D. C., April 9 (AP).—Income payments to individuals in February totaled 10 billion 428 million dollars, an increase of 29 per cent over the second month of last year, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones reported today.

Altho February payments were below the January figure of 10 billion 725 million, the department's index of total income payments advanced 4.6 points to 200.8, owing primarily to a less than seasonal decline in cash income from farmer marketings and to marked increases in war plant pay rolls and payments to soldiers and sailors.

Nearly nine-tenths of the increase in income payments over February, 1942, may be traced to manufacturing wages and salaries, federal government pay rolls [including the army and navy], and net income of farm operators. These three items constituted only two-fifths of total income paid to individuals in February last year.

Investor Firm Buys Aircraft Parts Maker

Stockholders of Lear Avia, Inc., an aviation equipment and accessory manufacturing company with headquarters in Piqua, O., have arranged to sell their stock to the Consolidated Dearborn corporation, the Lear management announced yesterday.

Chicago officers of Consolidated refused to discuss the transaction, the company's first outside the real estate and related investment fields, but reports in the financial district indicated tax considerations may have prompted the investment.

In the several weeks that the transaction has been rumored along La Salle street, Consolidated stock has risen from about $1 a share to about $4.25, and yesterday was quoted at 3⅝ to 3⅞. Company sources said the rise resulted from "unwarranted speculative" activity. There are 377,084 shares.

Succeeded Two Firms.

The corporation is the successor to Manhattan-Dearborn and Lawbeck corporations, former Chicago financed and operated investing companies, and now has offices in Jersey City, N. J.

Consolidated already has taken substantial losses for tax purposes and is said to be prepared to take more. The company's tax position would be enhanced thru its ability to file a tax return combining real estate and aviation manufacturing operations, it was said. Substantially increased earnings of the aviation company otherwise would be subject to much higher taxes.

Lear Avia's 88,140 shares of stock are owned by about 20 stockholders. The company had sales of about 9½ million dollars last year and net income of $2,561,000. The management revealed business volume thus far in 1943 was on an annual basis of between 25 and 30 million dollars.

Formed by Ex-Chicagoan.

The company was established in 1930 by William P. Lear, president, a former Chicagoan who has invented several devices used in the radio and aviation industries. The firm has 2,100 employés, has plants in Piqua, O., and Grand Rapids, Mich., and engineering units in Hollywood, Cal., and New York City.

Robert C. Schaffner, president of Consolidated and chairman of A. G. Becker & Co., investment firm; and Lester Roth, Becker vice president, will become directors of Lear Avia under terms of the transaction.

Army to Burn Vast Coal Pile

The army, one of the largest fuel consumers in the nation, will use between 8 and 9 million tons of coal in the fiscal year beginning next July 1, Lt. Col. Louis C. McCabe, chief of the heating and refrigeration section of the army engineers office, told the midwest power conference at the Palmer House last night.

Most of this coal is expected to be in storage by the end of October, said Col. McCabe. He told 2,500 power men and others at the closing session of the two day meeting that the hundreds of camps with their thousands of buildings requiring fuel for space heating, cooking, water heating, and steam present a fuel problem of great magnitude.

Training Aid Given.

Coal constitutes 77 per cent of the fuel requirements, natural gas 18 per cent, and oil and miscellaneous fuels 5 per cent, he said.

Establishment of a personnel large enough to handle the firing problem caused some difficulty, Col. McCabe reported, but he said private and government agencies gave the army aid in training men.

Col. McCabe was one of the speakers on a special program called the army engineering hour.

J. A. Heffernan, chief of the electrical facilities unit of the chief engineer's office, said the electrical facilities unit encountered a problem in developing an organization to operate and maintain army facilities. He said availability of West Point graduates for assignment to posts in the corps of engineers helped overcome the problem.

Vast Electricity Use Told.

Heffernan said the army budget for the next fiscal year provides for the maintenance and operation of about 18,000 miles of electric line and consumption of more than 2¾ billion kilowatt hours of current. The army will generate only a small part of this power, relying on established sources where possible.

The total will be about equal to the combined power consumption of the Boston and Washington, D. C., metropolitan areas, Heffernan said.

Gen. Charles Keller, district engineer of the United States engineer's office, Chicago, called on technical schools participating in the conference and all other engineering colleges in the nation to send young men to the army corps of engineers.

WARNS BOOSTS IN TAXES WILL CURB BUSINESS

M'Bain Urges Slash in Expenditures.

Further increases in already high corporation taxes may jeopardize the nation's business structure, Hughston M. McBain warned yesterday in presiding over his first annual meeting as president of Marshall Field & Co. Extravagant governmental expenditures must be eliminated, he asserted.

McBain told a small group of stockholders that altho first quarter financial results had not been compiled, the number of retail transactions was the largest for any parallel period in the company's history. Whether profits increased will depend on the extent of the increase in taxes, he said. Government price ceilings and increased operating costs are curtailing profit margins, he asserted.

William S. Street and Luther H. Hodges were elected vice presidents of the company and James L. Palmer and William B. Simpson were elected directors. Charles C. Bunker, vice president, was given the additional duties of retail merchandising counselor.

Transferred from Seattle.

Street was transferred to Chicago headquarters of the company recently from Seattle, where he had been president of Frederick and Nelson, the organization's second largest retail store.

Luther H. Hodges.

William S. Street.

Hodges, with the firm since 1919, is in charge of the company's 10 textile mills in the south and the Zion lace curtain mill in Zion, Ill.

Palmer has been first vice president of the company since February. Simpson, the other new director, is chairman of the board of A. M. Castle & Co. and a brother of the late James Simpson, former president and chairman of Field's board. The new directors fill vacancies created by the resignations of Frederick D. Corley, former president, and James Simpson Jr., now an officer in the marine corps.

"Any further increase in corporation tax rates may well be questioned because this might impede the war effort and seriously impair the business structure of the country during or subsequent to the war," McBain told the shareholders.

Urges End to Extravagance.

"We believe, too, that there is a grave responsibility on the government which has not been fully met, to eliminate extravagant and wasteful expenditures—in war as well as in peace.

"We are thoroly convinced that economic stabilization thru price and wage regulation is now unavoidable. Nevertheless, we believe government constantly must guard against ill-advised or badly drawn regulations."

McBain predicted "a continuing shrinkage of the supply of civilian goods," and said that altho the government had neglected this factor, the recent order authorizing production of refrigerators and alarm clocks indicated the problem of adequate civilian supplies was "receiving greater consideration in Washington."

The executive gave this outline of first quarter results:

"There was a decided increase in net sales; gross profit margins decreased; expenses were kept well in line; the tax provision will be greater than for the first three months of 1942. Whether this provision will again be so high as to wipe out the expected additional net profit remains to be seen.

Quarter Sales "Excellent."

"Sales in our retail stores for the first quarter have been excellent; in fact, I might say—too good! That seems a strange thing for a merchant to admit, but frankly we deplored the scare buying in women's apparel and accessories which developed immediately after shoe rationing started on Feb. 8 and continued thruout the month. I am glad to report that this buying wave new seems to have subsided completely.

"The number of individual transactions will, we believe, be the largest for any first quarter in our history."

Outlining the company's war activities, McBain said the retail division had sold more than 4½ million dollars of war bonds and stamps, and added: "Our advertising has been acclaimed by some as the finest example of war bond advertising produced by any store in the United States."

Betts Is Not a Candidate for Stock Exchange Post

Arthur M. Betts, who is completing his fifth consecutive term as chairman of the board of governors of the Chicago Stock exchange, announced yesterday he had notified the exchange nominating committee he would not be a candidate for the office for the 1943 term. Betts is a senior member of the stock exchange firm of Alfred L. Baker & Co.

800 Chicago Securities Men Ready for War Bond Drive

When the April drive to obtain 13 billion dollars for war financing starts thruout the nation Monday morning, 800 Chicago investment bankers and brokers will be among the thousands of individuals organized to push the campaign in the Chicago area, W. McCormick Blair, chairman of a special metropolitan committee assigned to solicit corporations and big investors, announced last night.

Blair's committee is one of 13 special committees in the metropolitan organization which will attempt to contact every type of potential buyer of government securities, from the individual with only a little to invest in war savings stamps to corporations and individuals with millions to divert into bonds, treasury bills, and other types of treasury issues.

Associated with 147 Firms.

The 800 securities dealers are associated with 147 securities houses, said Blair, of the firm of Blair, Bonner & Co. Vice chairmen of Blair's committee are T. Weller Kimball of Glore, Forgan & Co. and Thomas E. Murchison of Paul H. Davis & Co.

Sales managers for this committee are W. E. Kistner and G. L. Sponsler of A. C. Allyn & Co., H. K. Farrar of Smith Barney & Co., J. P. Burlingham of Bacon, Whipple & Co., O. H. Heighway of Hornblower & Weeks, John S. Loomis of Illinois Company of Chicago, H. H. Hawes of Harris Trust and Savings bank, M. O. Bradley and Reuben Thorsen of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

R. A. Kebbon and D. D. McCormick of Kebbon, McCormick & Co., Homer P. Hargrave and David Thomas of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, E. C. George of Harriman Ripley & Co., A. S. Wiltberger and H. A. Talbert of Blyth & Co., Carl Easterburg and Charles Jernegan of Riter & Co., A. M. Baird of A. G. Becker & Co., J. M. Maxwell, G. E. Gooden, and E. D. McGrew of Northern Trust company, and D. E. Nichols of Ryan-Nichols & Co.

Meet in Headquarters.

Blair's group held a meeting in the metropolitan campaign headquarters in the Rookery building.

"In addition to raising money from corporations, we must get a far greater sum than ever before from individuals," Blair told the sales managers. "You will find everybody is now more war conscious than before and understands better the necessity of raising huge amounts to win the war.

"The war is rapidly approaching the invasion stage. It calls for a steady flow of supplies, and a tremendous flow of money is required to provide those supplies."

Army Threat to Run Illinois Mines Alleged

Springfield, Ill., April 9 (AP).—Ray Edmundson, Illinois district president of the United Mine Workers of America, today asserted that army intelligence officers recently had visited his and other union offices to obtain information about the UMW, and interpreted the inquiries as "an inference that the army would take over the mines" if the union refuses to continue work beyond April 30.

The union's 23,000 members in this state "will walk out" if a new wage agreement is not reached by the end of this month, asserted Edmundson.

Can Terminate Pact.

Altho no deadline was set in the temporary pact entered into last month between the UMW and Illinois operators, Edmundson recalled it could be terminated on five days' notice by either side. Operators agreed in this pact to make any wage increase retroactive to April 1.

Edmundson said an army officer who came to state UMW headquarters March 27 had asked for "information regarding every UMWA member, our mines, and our personnel." The information was supplied, he said, adding that intelligence officers had paid similar visits to local union offices.

Gestapo Methods Charged.

"This so-called survey of the mines is nothing more or less than gestapo methods," said Edmundson. "It amounts to an inference that the army is going to take over the Illinois mines and force the men to work at the point of a bayonet."

His charge was similar to that made a week ago in New York by John L. Lewis, UMW international president. Negotiations there between the union and mine operators for a $2 a day pay increase have been stalemated.

Lewis' charge of army "intimidation" of miners was denied promptly by Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding officer of the 6th service command, in Chicago.

FIRST U. S. STEEL LAKE SHIPS DUE TO ARRIVE TODAY

Two freighters of the Bradley Transportation company, a United States Steel subsidiary, are scheduled to arrive at Gary and Buffington this morning—the first two vessels to pass thru the ice at Mackinac straits. The first to get thru was the W. F. White, which is to dock at Buffington. The B. H. Taylor is to dock at Gary about 11:30 a. m.

Ship officers reported the ice was unusually thick in the straits. They started battling the ice Thursday and broke thru to Lake Michigan yesterday morning. Both vessels are loaded with limestone from Calcite, near Rogers City, on Lake Huron.

The White and Taylor were followed by seven steamers of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, another United States Steel subsidiary. Five are carrying limestone, two are carrying coal to United States Steel plants in Gary, Buffington, and South Chicago.

NEW YORK LIFE SELLS BUILDING ON GOLD COAST

The 10 story apartment building at 1244 Stone street, in the heart of the Gold Coast, has been sold by the New York Life Insurance company to Koenig Properties, Inc. for an undisclosed price, it was reported yesterday. William K. Koenig, a contractor, is head of the buying company.

The building, erected in the middle 1920's and occupied by a number of socially prominent families, contains eight apartments of eight rooms each—one to a floor—and a penthouse apartment. Koenig plans to divide some of the apartments into smaller units after the war.

A. K. Smith of Baird and Warner, Inc. and Henry D. Hirsch were brokers.

People and Events

A. C. Ingersoll Sr., vice president and general manager of the Central Barge company, will represent the Chicago area on a new river advisory committee, the coast guard announced. The committee will coordinate protective measures for the increasng war time river traffic.

Col. Robert Wood Johnson of Washington, D. C., chairman of the Smaller War Plants corporation and vice chairman of the WPB, will speak at the 28th annual dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs association April 20 at the Palmer House.

Hugh W. Siddall, chairman of the Trans-Continental Passenger association and the Western Military bureau, will discuss war time achievements of the railroads at a meeting of the Western Society of Engineers Monday.

SLAUGHTER UP IN MARCH, BUT UNDER FORECAST

Slaughter of cattle under federal inspection in March increased over February but was slightly below a year ago, while hog slaughter last month was above both the preceding month and 1942, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. Sheep slaughter was off both from February and a year ago.

In all live stock slaughter last month, the totals were smaller than the government had forecast.

March cattle slaughter totaled 922,566 head, the second smallest since last May, but the second largest March on record. This compared with 853,912 in February and 929,008 a year ago.

Hog slaughter of 4,661,162 head was the largest for a March since 1928, but with the exception of the 4,335,306 total in February, was the smallest since last October. A year ago slaughter was 4,134,318 head.

Sheep slaughter totaled 1,495,078 head, the smallest since last June, but for a March was second only to the record 1,668,688 a year ago. February slaughter totaled 1,498,703.

PREDICT DECLINE IN NEW CROP OF WINTER WHEAT

The 1943 winter wheat crop will yield 558,551,000 bushels, compared with 703,253,000 produced last year and a 10 year [1932-'41] average of 550,181,000, the department of agriculture reported yesterday in its estimate based on April 1 conditions. The crop reporting board said that damage caused by a severe winter had resulted in a loss of acreage indicated at 10.4 per cent, compared with an abandonment of 6.7 per cent in 1942.

Conditions on the first of this month indicate a yield of 14.9 bushels of winter wheat to the seeded acre, compared with 18.3 bushels a year ago, and 11.4 for the 10 year average, the board said.

The indicated total winter wheat production for Illinois was 17,220,000 bushels and the yield was placed at 15 bushels per acre.

FREEMAN NAMED AIR PRICE UNIT'S VICE CHAIRMAN

Gaylord A. Freeman Jr., on leave from the First National bank's legal staff, yesterday was appointed vice chairman of the army air force's Chicago area price adjustment section, of which Philip D. Armour is chairman.

H. D. Kerrigan, former Northwestern university professor, was made chief of the section's financial analysis unit and Joseph R. Rein, formerly with the Twentieth Century Press, was named administrative officer.

Other new members of the organization are Stanley E. Cronwall, formerly of the Northern Trust company; George W. Dixon Jr., and William B. Basile.

PAY PROBLEMS LEFT IN WAKE OF F.D.R. ORDER

Both Sides in Coal Case Claim Gain.

Far reaching questions remained unanswered last night on the extent to which President Roosevelt's "hold the line" order will affect wage, rail, and utility rate cases now pending.

In Washington, D. C., the war labor board acknowledged it has been stripped of discretionary authority to correct inequalities in pay. WLB Chairman William H. Davis said, however, that cases of inequities he considers justify action will be called to the attention of Economic Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, who now holds this broad power.

The President's order caught the board with more than 15,000 voluntary pay raise applications and disputes in various stages of action, Davis said any "time equity" for workers whose cases had not been acted upon is barred completely, altho many of the workers had been reasonably sure of retroactive increases to correct inequalities.

Two WLB Rules Still Hold.

Davis said two important WLB general orders remain in effect. One exempts employers of eight or less individuals from the requirement of getting board approval of wage increases. The other permits adjustments in the case of individual promotions, merit increases within established rates ranges, and inventive plans.

The United Mine Workers and Appalachian soft coal mine operators, deadlocked in contract negotiations in New York, had opposing interpretations of the order.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, who demands a flat $2 a day increase for 450,000 bituminous coal miners, pointed to the portion authorizing salary increases "where clearly necessary to correct substandards of living."

Coal Standard Argued.

"Their wages are still substandard," Lewis said.

Charles J. O'Neill, northern Appalachian operators' spokesman, said the order confirmed the operator position that the $2 wage increase would violate the "little steel" formula, which Lewis has assailed as "vicious." O'Neill asserted that miner wages are not substandard. Former Sen. Edward R. Burke, president of the southern operators, expressed approval of the order.

Indication that wage demands of 15 nonoperating railroad unions may be affected was given in Chicago by I. L. Sharfman, chairman of the emergency fact finding board hearing the case. He asked all parties to the dispute to submit "any additional evidence or material which might prove helpful to the board in the light of this new development."

Transport Cases Pending.

Transportation experts and attorneys said the section of the order advising state and federal utility commissions to disapprove rate increases might have an important bearing on several cases pending in the courts or before the Illinois commerce commission.

One guess was that railroads might be blocked in litigation to upset an order of the commerce commission forbidding them to raise commutation ticket prices in the Chicago suburban area by 10 per cent to match a raise permitted by the interstate commerce commission to all interstate traffic.

In Springfield, Chairman John D. Biggs said he did not know how the commission would be affected. He doubted the Chicago traction unification case would come under the order. However, testimony now is being taken on the Chicago Surface lines petition to make permanent the temporary fare raise to 8 cents, an action opposed by OPA. The "L" lines also have a court action pending to upset a commisison refusal of a fare raise.

SOCIAL SECURITY.

I am employed by a small firm and get nothing to show that I pay social security or the new victory tax. Isn't the employer supposed to furnish receipts?—F. H.

Answer: The employer is required to furnish a receipt at least once a year showing the deductions from the employé's wages or salary for social security. If the employé leaves the firm the employer must provide a social security deductions receipt at the time of the last payment of wages.

A similar rule applies to the victory tax. The employer must furnish a receipt to the employé on or before Jan. 31, 1944, covering victory tax deductions made in 1943. If the employment is terminated before the close of the calendar year the receipt must be furnished on the day the last payment of wages is made to the employé.

FLORIDA LAND.

I own Florida real estate subdivision property bought during the Florida boom. The property is practically worthless now. Is there any way, without actually selling, that I can establish my loss for income tax purposes?—U. B.

Answer: You must either sell the property or abandon it in order to establish your loss. Abandonment is not recognized by the Bureau of Internal Revenue unless the state has taken over the property or sold it for nonpayment of taxes.

DEDUCT TAX.

Several months ago I bought a two-flat building. The son of one of the tenants has been paid $10 a month to shovel snow and tend the furnace. Must I pay social security taxes on his pay, and if so how much? Where should the payments be made?—B. F.

Answer: You are required to deduct 1 per cent of the boy's pay for social security and add a like amount to it. The total tax must be paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Employers Tax Division, U. S. Courthouse, 219 South Clark street, Chicago, Ill.

A Bouquet from Mrs. P.H. Raabe and a Bouquet to her from Dean's
One Quart Dean's Bottled in the Country Grade A Pasteurized Homogenized MILK All the Cream left in

"We must have Dean's — my son Paul insists upon it!"

This statement was made recently by Mrs. P. H. Raabe. The Raabe family changed to Dean's about 2 years ago after using another brand of milk for 11 years.

"Dean's has a richness," Mrs. Raabe says, "that is unmatched. And its fresher flavor—such a wholesome and delightful country taste!—makes it a real pleasure to drink. What's more, Dean's paper bottles pack much better in the icebox—and oh! what a relief not to have glass bottles to wash and handle!"

* * *

On Sale at All National Tea Stores and Leading Neighborhood Grocers
